P R E F A C E.

In presenting the following work to the public the Editor, sensible of the great support which the Courier Calender has received for the last fifty years, has endeavoured to uphold its former character and to infuse into its pages new vigour. In order to render the work useful and easy of reference, it has been thought desirable to divide it into two parts instead of one as formerly: by adopting a new arrangement and extending its sphere of compilation each part is made distinct in itself.

The greater part of the present work is entirely new and is made to meet the growing demands of the Bombay community. The compilation of a General Directory, eastern and western, will no doubt be found of considerable utility, forming as it does a complete Gazetteer and epitome of the world. The editor is sensible that the work is not free from the errors incidental to all compilations: much care has been used, but as several communications came too late, their adoption is necessarily postponed for a second year. The stations in each of the Indian Presidencies were designed to appear after the manner of those already given, including information of use to every one whose business or inclination gave to any of the stations a temporary interest. The communications from out-stations were in some cases either scanty of intelligence or prolix in irrelevant matter as to render them of no present service:—these defects it is hoped will be supplied timely for the next publication.

The Editor considers it necessary to add that the compilation has been effected by occasional snatches from other and more ephemeral employment, which will account for if not excuse its desultory character.

N O T E,

It may be proper first to premise, that the Phases of the Moon, the rising and setting of the Sun, the Lunar Eclipses, and the time of the Tides, are all calculated for mean Solar Time, or that shewn by a true clock at Bombay.

Those who may wish to avail themselves of the columns of the Sun's rising and setting, for the purpose of rectifying a Clock or a Watch, should observe, that at the time given in the Almanack (which is that when the Sun's centre is really in the Horizon) either at rising or setting, the upper or lower limb of the Sun, will appear to be at least the Sun's diameter above the edge of the water; the Watch, &c., should therefore, be set to the time as shown in the Almanack, when this appearance is seen at sun-rise or sun-set, when it will shew the true Mean time at Bombay.

The Sun's Right Ascension in Time, Declination, and the Equation of time, are adopted to apparent Noon, or the instant when the Sun's centre is on the Meridian of Greenwich.

INTRODUCTION.

THE only explanation which is conceived necessary, to render the scheme of the following Calendar fully understood, is that the Christian months indicated at the top of each page, divide the Native months as they appear, represented in the space below allotted to their names; January, for example, partakes of the Hindoo months, Marroo, Poush and Magh; Guzeratt, Duxun and Concan, Margashirsh and Poush; and Malabar, Dhanuh and Magaram; the Parsee months Shaenshoyee, Teer and Amoordad; Kudmee, Amoordad and Sharaver; and the date of Nowroz 126 to 156; and the Mahomedan months Zilhuz and Mohurruun.

From the Columns is to be collected that the 1st of January corresponds with the 8th of Poush Vud, Maroo; and the 8th of Margashirsh Vud, Guzeratt, Duxun and Concan; and the 20th of Dhanuh Malabar; the 6th of Teer Shaenshoyee, the 6th of Amoordad Kudmee; and the 126 day of Nowroz, or Kudmee; and the 21st of Zilhuz Mahomedan; and so throughout the year.

It may here be observed that the Hindoo Lunar months invariably consist of 30 Tithes, or Lunar days; and the whole month is divided into two equal parts, of 15 Tithes each: the one called Shookla Puksh, or Shood; the bright half or increase of the moon. the other, the Krishna Puksh, or Vud, the dark half or decrease of the Moon.—The Lunar month begins on the western side of India, and south of the Nurvuda river, with the first day of the Shookla Puksh, (shood prutipuda) or bright half of the Moon.—At Benares, Oojain, and the countries north of the Nurvuda, the lunar month begins with the first day of the Krishna Puksh, (Vud prutipuda) or dark half of the Moon.—The first, is designated the Shookladee mode of reckoning: and the latter, the Krishnadee.—The lunar year begins with the first day of the Shookla Puksh, or bright half of the Moon in Chytr, both north and south of the Nurvuda, in every country in India: but as the dark half of the Moon precedes the other, or Shookla Puksh, at Benares, the half lunar month of Chytr is taken from the last lunar month of the year preceding, and considered to belong to it.

It has been already stated the lunar month invariably consists of 30 Tithes or lunar days, but it has been customary with all eastern nations, in order to regulate their fasts and Festivals, to drop certain lunar days, and to reckon ~~years~~ ^{times} twice, to make up the deficiency: the first of these are termed by the Hindoos, Kshiva-Tithes (perishable days,) and the days repeated twice are called Vridh Tithes, (additional days.) The rule of these is exceedingly simple.—Those lunar days on which the sun does not rise, (Soorgoduyu nuheen) are struck out, those in which it rises twice are vridh, or additional: and it is obvious that such circumstances will occur about 6 times in the course of the lunar year.

There are at present two Branches of the Parsees, who differ one month in the year from each other; those that forward one month in their year are styled Kudmees, and the rest Shaenshoyees.—The present scheme embraces the Parsee Æra of Yezdezerd, commonly styled Kudmee or Dureeayee Nowroz, or Sea reckoning the same being made use of in all nautical calculations among the Asiatic Mariners, the new year of which always commences on the 1st day of Furverdeen, the Kudmees reckon the new year and the Dureeayee Nowroz to fall on the 29th of August, one month earlier than the commencement of the Shaenshoyees' new year.—It also embraces the Parsee Æra of Yezdezerd, commonly called Shaenshoyee, the new year of which generally begins on the 1st day of Furverdeen, the Shaenshoyee compute the new year to commence from the 28th of September, a month later than the commencement of the Kudmees new year.

The first day of Mohurram, or the commencement of the year, is ordinarily reckoned from the first appearance of the Moon after the conjunction observed from eminences of any sort, or even in cloudy weather from the time at which, but for these obstacles, it would be visible : and this can scarcely happen earlier than 24, or later than 48 hours after the conjunction.—After this manner, each several month is reckoned, and the lapse of 12 such months, constitutes the Mahomedan year.

We have also endeavoured to discriminate the Feasts and Festivals of each Nation by different sorts of Type ; the Hindoos for example, we have distinguished by Roman small letters, as Poush Shood ; the name of the Malabar month by Roman capitals, as MAGARAM ; the Parsees by the small capitals, as AMOORDAD ; and the Muhomedan, by Italic small letters, as Mohurram.

The Presidency of Bombay.

GOVERNOR.—Colonel Sir George Arthur, Bart., K. C. H.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.—Lieut. General Sir Thomas W. McMahon, Bart.

SITUATION AND EXTENT.—The presidency of Bombay comprises the Western part of the British possessions in India. It is bounded on the West by the Arabian Sea, on the south by Canara, on the north by Rajpootana, and on the east by the dominions of the Nizam and the Mahrattas. It contains 59,438 square miles and 6,261,540 inhabitants.

GOVERNMENT.—The affairs of Government are conducted by the Governor and three Members of Council, one of whom is Commander-in-Chief. In every thing the presidency of Bombay (like Madras,) is subordinate to the Supreme Government, namely, the Governor General of India in Council.

CLIMATE.—It is in general healthy and in one respect possesses advantages over the other presidencies, in nearly its whole extent being under the genial influence of the Sea breeze. The annual mean temperature is less than prevails in Bengal and Madras. The hills called Mahabaleshwar form the Sanatorium of the presidency and constitute a delightful retreat during the hot season. During the monsoon, Poona, situated above the Ghauts, is also an agreeable place of resort from the unhealthiness which prevails at low altitudes during the rains.

Remarks on Bombay

BOMBAY.—The capital and seat of Government is situated on the island and in the Presidency of the same name. It is distant 1,300 miles from Calcutta, 770 from Madras and 965 from Delhi.

Bombay owes its whole importance and advancement to the English and the disadvantages both in respect of Geographical situation and the political circumstances of Surat, for many years the emporium of British India. The latter cause indeed operated most strongly in directing the selection of Bombay, as the exactions of the great Mogul and his officers, notwithstanding the firmness possessed by the Company, were so excessive and the incursions of the Mahrattas, at which the great Mogul winked, so frequent, that to save themselves from oppression on the one hand and Mahratta aggression on the other, the English were solicitous to possess a place which they could fortify and render secure by the aid of European tactics and works.

The island of Bombay originally consisted of several smaller ones which were tributary to the Rajah of Salsette, and derived their chief value from being the resort of various kind of fishes then esteemed and still considered valuable articles of food, which resorted to the shoals that, at the period in question, (more than eight hundred years ago,) distinguished Bombay, and afforded to the fishy tribes ample and secure retreats for the purposes of spawning. At that period the several isles now intersected were comparatively insignificant. Salsette and Malin were the principal islands of the archipelago. The latter island, and several smaller ones, of which not even the names have been preserved, are now united; the low lands formed by the retrocession of the sea constitute one island of several thousand acres, through which range two irregular hills that stretch across the island nearly longitudinally, and near these run a few distributed lines of laterite extending from point to point. The elevated spots between which these are used to pass freely, leaving an extended bank at low water, are connected by a fertile plain of rich alluvium, of moderate depth, covered with Coromandel, male datetrees, and other exotics peculiar to the mainland.

We have remarked that the situation of Bombay strongly recommended it to the discernment of Europeans as an emporium for trade: internal resources, it possessed scarce any; the inhabitants being chiefly dependant on Salsette and the Concan for grain and other articles of domestic consumption. For commercial operations it was considered to possess eminent advantages. Its proximity to the mainland giving to it a facility of communication with all the different points of the extensive western coast, with the shores of Persia and Arabia; and an intra-Indus communication with central Asia. Its local advantages are no less valuable, since it is easily defended, possesses a commodious and safe harbour, whilst the rise of the tide is so superior to what prevails in any other part of British India as to allow the construction of docks only excelled by the Royal establishments in England.

The derivation of Bombay is usually considered to owe its origin to the appellation by which its principal Hindoo pagoda was known, namely Moombadavee, which was situated on what is now called the Esplanade, and was removed to or rather rebuilt on the present site about eighty years ago, we believe at the cost of the ruling Government at whose instance the old building was demolished. The most probable way of accounting for its name is afforded by the Portuguese, who were its first European visitors at the end of the fifteenth century and by whom it was then called, and still retains the appellation, HOMBAIN, or good Bay; a signification which singularly enough not only accords with its hydrographical character, but is also allotted to it by the Guz-rattees, and one which whether from accident or design corresponds with the native name of the place, supposing it to have been called after the Chief pagoda, — a practice which generally obtains in India.

The constant intrigues of the Portuguese, who were more successful than the English in forming alliances with the natives, directed them to obtain possession of Bombay : for in addition to the security which the place afforded from the prowess of the English, who were much alarmed at the buccannering conduct of the natives then in alliance with the Portuguese, it also possessed the advantage of a safe haven where to repair their vessels and served as a depot for the Merchandize procured at Surat, Din and the coast of Arabia. The Portuguese were desirous to obtain possession of the Island permanently. At this period it belonged to or was subject to a Chetree Chief of Salsette, residing at Tanmah. This negotiation was successful, and Bombay was ceded to the Portuguese in 1539 together with the Island of Salsette, by the ruling chief who was an usurper and seriously afraid that his conduct would be visited with death at the instance of the Mahomedans who were in paramount possession of nearly the whole of Western India. The acquisition of Bombay was viewed by the English with much jealousy, and served as a thorn in the side of the latter almost irretrievable. An opportunity however offered for obtaining what had been long regarded as a desideratum, and in the negotiation with Portugal for the alliance of the Infanta Catherine to Charles II, the cession of the island of Bombay, in dowry with that Princess was urged as a sinequa non. The terms were accepted and in 1661 the island was formally ceded to Great Britain. The Portuguese residents were resolved not to comply with the terms of the cession, and in consequence, the Duke of Marlborough was despatched on the part of the King. That nobleman took with him a regiment of troops as well to enforce the act of cession as to return a permanent Garrison in the place. In September 1662, the King's representative arrived, and in a formal manner demanded of the Portuguese Governor the unconditional surrender of Bombay and its dependencies, Mahim and Salsette. The Governor refused compliance with the latter part of the demand and insisted that the cession of the dependencies was neither stipulated nor contemplated by his master, the King of Portugal. The Duke landed his troops on Caranjah and departed with the view of obtaining a reinforcement from any of His Majesty's or the Company's Ships at Surat. In the meantime the mismanagement of the island attacked the troops so seriously and was followed by such alarming mortality, that the surviving officer in command, Mr. Cooke, Secretary to Sir A. Shipman the appointed Governor, abandoned the constructive terms of the cession and accepted the island of Bombay as the extent of the grant. In February 1664 the survivors were admitted into Bombay, but rightful possession was not accorded until the orders of the King of Portugal were received. In 1660 Sir Gervase Lucas, the first Governor, of royal nomination, arrived: he commenced a prosecution against Mr. Cooke, the late acting Governor, for peculation.

The King of England who looked to his newly acquired possession to provide him the means for carrying on his liaisons was disappointed; the Company, by being compelled to carry freight-free the King's merchandize were undersold, complained loudly and objected to minister to the King's necessities unless an arrangement was made favorable to their trade. The "Merry Monarch" could not resist the allurements which offered, and, it is said, in opposition to his wily minister, yielded to the pressure of an empty purse; and to gratify the demands of the fair Duchess of Portland made over the island in perpetuity to the Company on the 23^d of September 1668 for a handsome douceur in ready cash and a small annual payment, since greatly augmented, for the benefit of the national Treasury.

In 1667 The Company abandoned Surat, as the emporium of their trade, and removed their establishment to Bombay, which was constituted a regency and corporation under the direction of Sir John Child—the first Governor of the Presidency of Bombay, whose remains, on his death, were interred in the English Burial Ground, in all probability at Colaba.

To observe the progress of Bombay, from the first selection of the spot to its present attained elevation in the scale of political and commercial importance, amply recommends itself to our notice in all the connections in which we stand as inhabitants enjoying social security and happiness, as commercialists reaping the benefits its peculiar situation and ambient resources present for our undertakings, or indeed in whatever respect its present position and future prosperity concern us.

What Bombay was during the reign of its native princes, its first conquerors and their successors the Bhongules and Mahomedans, alternately exercising sovereignty within its limits and the islands immediately surrounding it, we have such scanty materials to which access can be obtained through the medium of the native languages that its state, resources, and commercial transactions, if any were carried on, are beyond our means of ascertaining. It was not until 1530 when its cession was granted to the Portuguese by a Bhongule Chief of Salsette, of whose principality or State it formed a subordinate part, that it forces itself upon our attention, and even at that early period in the settlement and trade of the Portuguese its importance for commercial purposes, was unknown save as a haven distinguished for its safety, the hospitality and the good feeling evinced by its native inhabitants to the Merchant-Captains of the Viceroy of Portugal. This desideratum recommended it to the attention of the English, who negotiated with the Portuguese for the newly acquired settlement and it was made over to Great Britain in 1661; but seven years after, it was transferred to the East India Company. From the period of its latter cession, 1668, we may date the era of the commercial prosperity of Bombay, and which doubtless under the fostering care and enterprise of the English would have soon obtained a higher degree of importance had it not been for the existence of a factory at Surat, added to the circumstance of the nature of the Company's investments being such as were either supplied directly from the weavers or by the native Surat Merchants, who carried to that city the produce of the Coast of Malabar, the East Coast of Africa and the ports of Arabia and the Persian Gulf. In all probability Bombay would have continued to occupy a second-rate importance but for the duplicity of the Mogul's officers at Surat, added to the political effects which followed the rising power of the Mahrattas and the trifling importance of Bengal as the scene of commercial and political operations. At the time of its cession to the Company, the official returns exhibit but £2,333 per annum as its gross revenue, - being the pay of the present Collector of Customs, or about the Three thousandth part of its present annual revenue!

The facilities which Bombay offered as a haven recommended it as a depot for the repairing and constructing of vessels; and accordingly we find that in the year 1671, but three years after the Company had obtained possession of it, it received significant distinction by the establishment of a Mint and the commencement of building two ships, and the same number of frigates. Its celebrity for shipbuilding was kept pace with its progress in every other respect.

The wars between Sivajee and the Great Mogul materially affected trading operations, and necessarily involved the Company's establishments in Western India. Literally driven from Surat in 1685 the Government was removed to this island, and the jealousies which have existed between the Governor of Surat and the Deputy Governor of Bombay being happily destroyed, (by the removal of the executive to Bombay) the latter found in the administration of Sir John Child, an able promoter of commercial enterprise, and by the protection he, as Governor General and Admiral, afforded to the native traders from the piratical attacks of the Mahrattas, Arabs and Dutch, the country-trade received a new impetus, thereby constituting Bombay the emporium of the west and north-west Coasts of the peninsula, and of the Persian and Arabian gulphs. The annual revenue was now augmented to seven thousand pounds sterling, equal to the present emoluments of a single member of Council, or the Chief justice of the Supreme Court of Judicature! The growing prosperity of Bombay marked it for the scene of piratical plunder: upon the death of Sir John Child, after humbling the Mogul navy at Surat, Bombay was blockaded by the notorious Siddee pirate whose fleet and army produced such consternation that recourse was had to the payment of a large sum, on which the Siddee withdrew. The presidency had scarcely recovered from the disastrous effects of the blockade than the appearance of European pirates again arrested the progress of commerce. The depredations of these freebooters were not confined to despoiling the English vessels, but extended to native craft: that commerce, rendered unsafe, a severe falling off in the annual revenue was the result. By the union in 1702 of the rival East India Companies, the pirates chiefly in the service of one or other of these rivals were amalgamated in the legitimate trade; and, by this means, the united operations imparted so great an impulse to commerce that, notwithstanding the Mo-gular disturbances and interruptions, the trade made satisfactory progress; and in the course of forty years the annual revenue of Bombay, derived chiefly from commercial sources, amounted to treble its former sum. The political events which followed the struggles of European aspirants for dominion in India are so fully detailed in the pages of Mill, Ford, Malcolm, Elphinstone and other celebrated writers, that we must refer the reader to these sources for details of their progress; suffice it to observe that on the termination of these protracted wars we found ourselves in possession of an immense territory which opened new sources for enterprise and augmented the revenue of Bombay and the other presidencies to an astounding amount. The political power of the English East India Company commenced in 1748 but as its operations were chiefly confined to Bengal and Madras, whilst these places were involved in the disturbances that ensued, Bombay was nearly increasing its commercial importance. This political supremacy obviously opened other sources of revenue than those derivable from mercantile speculations so as to increase the gross annual revenue of India to its present enormous sum of twenty three millions of pounds sterling.

When we consider what Bombay was at the time we have indicated, nearly two centuries ago, thinly populated, insulated, and having so trifling a revenue as to afford its distinguished English Governor but the insignificant sum of £220 as a yearly salary; and compare the Bombay of that period with what it presented at the beginning of the nineteenth century, when the value of goods which passed through the Custom House with the view of levying the duties was ascertained by a Panchayet formed of the European and native merchants, and the amount levied paid six months subsequent to the importation of the goods; when the salary of the Collector of Customs of that day was rated at a per centage upon the gross receipts; when prescribed Customs regulations were promulgated by the dictum of the head of the department! Contrast such a state of things with the improved though very imperfect state of mercantile usage and regulation manifested in the commercial transactions of 1843-4, how surprisingly are we startled by the gigantic strides trade has made at this Port, and how changed is its present aspect!

As a lacine sketch of the state and progress of Bombay, from the arrival of Sir George Oxendon to the union of the two Companies, cannot fail to possess some interest we extract the following from Hamilton "Sir George Oxendon died on the 11th of July, 1669, and was succeeded by Mr. Gerald Aubrey, as Chief of Surat and Governor of Bombay, which continued extremely unhealthy, and much pestiled by the depredations of the Maharatta pirates.

"In 1672 a strong Dutch fleet appeared off Bombay, and created great alarm; but, after reconnoitring it, disappeared without making any attack. In the succeeding year there were 100 pieces of cannon mounted in the fortifications, and the garrison consisted of 400 regulars, of which the greater proportion were topees, and 200 militia. In 1676, letters patent were obtained from the king to establish a mint at Bombay, at which they were empowered to coin rupees, pice, and badgenooks.

"Mr. Aubrey died in 1677, and was succeeded at Bombay by Mr. Henry Oxinden. At this time Bombay continued of very little political or commercial importance, which in part proceeded from the vigorous government of Aurunzebe on the Delhi throne, and the rising power of the Maharattas, under the martial Sevajee. 1679, the Island of Kenery was occupied by the troops of Sevajee, and the beginning of the next year the Island of Kenery was seized on by the Mirdes, or Mogul Admirals, the Bombay government not daring to oppose either, and from this proximity being kept in a state of continual alarm.

"In 1681, Mr. John Child, the brother of Sir Josiah Child, was appointed President at Surat, one of the junior counsellors being appointed to act as deputy-governor of Bombay. In 1683-4, the Court of Directors, in consequence of the capture of Batavia by the Dutch, constituted Bombay an independent English settlement, and the seat of the power and trade of the English nation in the East Indies.

"On the 23rd of December, 1683, Captain Richard Kegwin, who commanded the Company's garrison, assisted by Ensign Thompson and others, seized on Mr. Ward, the deputy-governor, and such members of the council as adhered to him, and assumed the government. The garrison, consisting of 150 English soldiers, and 200 topasses, were joined by the inhabitants of the island, who elected Captain Kegwin governor, and declared they would only acknowledge the king's authority, although, in the interval betwixt the acquisition of the island and this period, the East India Company had expended 300,000*l.* at Bombay on fortifications and improvements.

"In 1681-5, Captain Kegwin negotiated a treaty with Rajah Sambhaje, from whom he recovered 12,000 parodas due to the Company; and on the 19th of November, 1684, he surrendered the island to Sir Thomas Grantham, on condition of a general pardon to himself and his adherents. He had not, it appears, embarked and of the Company's money in the fort, which was restored to them entire, but had subsisted on the revenues of the island.

"In 1686, the seat of the English government was ordered to be transferred from Surat to Bombay, and next year, Sir John Child dying, the office of President devolved on Mr. Harris, then a prisoner at Surat, but released by the Mogul governor next year.

"In 1688-9, the siddee's fleet (Mogul's admiral) invaded Bombay, and got possession of Mahim, Mazagon, and Sion, and kept the governor and garrison besieged in the town and castle. An order was soon after obtained from Aurangzebe, directing the sidhee to withdraw his troops; but the evacuation did not take place until the 22d of June, 1690, when the lands belonging to the Portuguese Jesuits were seized, they having been active in promoting the views of the siddee during the invasion.

"In 1691-2, the population of Bombay was much reduced by the plague, of the civil servants only three remaining alive; and in 1694, Sir Joshua Gayer arrived, as Governor at Bombay, which he found in a disastrous state, principally caused by the depredations of the English pirates on the Mogul ships, Aurangzebe insisting that all the loss sustained by his subjects should be made good by the East India Company. These pirates in 1698 possessed two frigates, of 30 guns, off Cape Comorin, under Captain Kidd, who was afterwards taken and hanged; one of 50, one of 40, and one of 30 guns, off the Malabar Coast.

"In 1698-9, Sir Nicholas Walte was appointed resident at Surat, on the part of the New or English Company; and in 1700, by his intrigues, procured the imprisonment of Sir John Gayer and Mr. Colt, the Old or London Company's servants. At this time Bombay was in a very weakly state, and under constant alarm of invasion from the Maharattas, Arabs, or Portuguese. In 1702-3, it was again visited by the plague, which carried off many hundreds of the natives, and reduced the garrison to 76 men.

"In 1708, the two rival Companies having united, Sir Nicholas Walte was dismissed, but Sir John Gayer, the legitimate governor, still continuing in confinement at Surat, Mr. Alabie was appointed; and such was the continued feebleness of the settlement, that the Bombay government this year declined receiving an envoy from the King of Persia, for fear he should observe the weakness of the place, both by sea and land."

The changes which Bombay has undergone both in its external appearance and internal management have been many; but the old walls and ways continued chiefly to exist till within the last eighty or ninety years. About eighty years ago the residences of Europeans within the Fort—scarce one was without—were low bungalows now used as Godowns; above these reared, in what was then considered majestic magnificence, Government House (the present Secretariate) and the Second House, called so in consequence of the Second member of Council occupying it. What are now used as the offices of the Civil pay department, Commissariat &c. was formerly the Secretariate in which the Chief Secretary resided. There were then two Custom Houses, one situated where it is at present: the other, which was used for the collection of Petty Customs, is now the Fort Barracks. Until the commencement of the present century the rate of Customs duty was fixed at 6½ per cent; but rarely more than 2 per cent. was paid as the rate was fixed on the market value, and the latter was determined by a Panchayet of the Merchants. The Collector of Customs received no fixed Salary, but was allowed in lieu a small percentage on the amount of duties collected. In these "old times" the business of all public offices commenced at 8 A. M. was carried on until 12 at noon, when principals and subordinates retired to their dinners, returned to the offices at 2 P. M.; and continued at their daily vocations until 6 P. M. The dinner hour was usually at one, and such Europeans in the service as could afford it indulged themselves with a supper at the hour now considered bon ton for the pleasurable exercise of gastronomy. The Bazar was not regarded as very unfashionable for the distinguished unmarried visitors that occasionally resorted here. In the Bombay Courier for June 8th 1793, we read the following, which, from subsequent issues would appear to have been a standing advertisement, for the guidance of grifters in searching out respectable quarters.

This Mr Charles Featly, we learn from the advertizing columns of the same journal, was a goldsmith and Jeweller—a Rundell in his way—and saving the Hotel was the only hospitable roof where the conveniences of life were procurable. But tradesmen were regarded of more gentle blood when the merchant Company not only condescended to act as Sawyers, and had mills at Worlee, which were sold in December 1793, but even so late as 1820 carried on the not unprofitable trade of shopsellers and chapmen, fixing the rates monthly. The following Government advertisement affords the gratifying knowledge that the authorities of that day were mindful of the trifling profit on a dozen of wine!

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN.

That the prices established by Government for the sale of the Honorable Company's Madeira Wines in this month are as follow.

London Particular, per Pipe, Rupees 650, or in bottle 18 Rs. per dozen.

London Market per Pipe, 607, Rs. do, 16 Rs. per dozen.

The Wines in bottle will not be disposed of in any less quantity than six dozen.

To live without the fort of Bombay, eighty or even fifty years ago was considered as insecure as to reside in the land of the Uzbees. The Police arrangements were scarce worthy of that appellation, being under the superintendence of one of the twelve members of Council, each in turn undertaking for one month to preserve the peace and property of the good lieges! This Council partook of the character of a roving commission, for during one month a member was Chief of the Police and directed other municipal arrangements, the successive months found him at Surat, Ahmedabad, &c. almost as regular in his movement, as the signs in the Zodiac were visible in the heavens. Some were good peace protectors, others indifferent, or bad, until about 1790 when Mr. Tod was appointed High Constable or Chief of the Police. At that period the esplanade and parts beyond were chiefly jungle, it was always unsafe to travel beyond the fort walls, and at night nothing would induce a native to go without the gates of the fort. About 1802 a fire occurred in the Hindoo section of the fort, which consumed nearly the whole of the native houses, excepting the Parsee dwellings. The Hindoo population then erected a new town outside, in the neighbourhood of the Moomtadavee pagoda which now exceeds, both in the number of houses and the amount of inhabitants, the fort itself.

The great dread in which the authorities were kept in from fears of French invasion led to some great improvements and alterations in the town and its approaches. The part which now forms the esplanade was cleared of jungle, the houses which had been erected were removed, and an old windmill which imparted to the adjacent country an idea of the rural simplicity which prevailed in the mother country fell beneath the operations which calculated on causing the land approaches to the fort to be wholly submerged or laid bare on the appearance of an enemy!

Bombay and the adjacent country offered as little reluctance to the tourist as it did variety to its inhabitants. Beyond the immediate vicinity of Bombay entrance and the import department on the left hand of the building. This arrangement will be exceedingly judicious. The business of the customs department has greatly augmented: the value of goods which passed during the year 1813-14 amounted to Rs. 12,19,21,313 for Imports, and Rs. 10,46,34,715 for Exports.

BOMBAY GREEN.—This is the only open space within the fort of Bombay, and is about the same size as Trafalgar square at Charing Cross. It formerly constituted the place of rendezvous now supplied by the Esplanade, here, until the introduction of carriages at the commencement of the present century, were wont to assemble the élite of Bombay. About 1810, the green was little better than a Metal and Cotton store, for here were deposited Iron bars, &c. and bales of Cotton, which now are either placed in private godowns or on the esplanade near the Apollo pier. Bombay Green formed the rendezvous until that which is now called the Esplanade was cleared of the jungle which until 1795 covered its whole extent, from the place of the "two tombs" at Colaba to the Marine Lines. The abandonment of the present Secretariate by the Governor for the more commodious building at Parel gave a blow to the dignity of the green sward within the fort. Its importance, notwithstanding the erection of the statue in its centre, became less, but it now promises to revive under the surveillance of the Agri-Horticultural Society of Bombay, which has taken it under its protection and under the sanction of Government is about to convert it into a flower garden, with public walks, &c. thus constituting it once more a place of retreat for the residents within the fort, equal to the growing and improving importance of Bombay.

TOWN HALL.—This is a comparatively new and noble building, erected in 1821-22 and devoted to Government and municipal purposes. It is from a design of Colonel Cowper of the Engineer's. The Town Hall occupies the eastern side of Bombay Green and imparts a commanding appearance to the view. In 1793 an attempt was made at general improvement and in particular to erect a Town Hall from the proceeds of a Lottery scheme, but the plan failed and the scheme was abandoned. The Town Hall consists of a frontage of about 130 feet, the centre is a pediment supported by six fluted columns, below the base of which there are 30 steps. In the centre of the building is a large Hall used occasionally, for public assemblages on a requisition made to the Sheriff. On the right hand is a marble statue of Sir Charles Forbes, executed by Chantrey at the cost of the natives of Bombay, who, to mark their sense of Sir Charles approved services as a fellow citizen, subscribed towards a monument to be erected to his memory. On the right hand of the Hall is the Council Chamber and other offices of the Government. On the left are the rooms of the Asiatic Society, containing the Library and Museum, which for compactness, completeness and interesting contents, equal any establishment of the kind. On the ground floor, in the centre and at the rear of the building is the Civil pay office, and the Court of Requests. To the right are the rooms, of the Geographical Society the Horticultural Society: to the left the offices of the Medical Board, &c. The inspection of the building, we believe, is patent to visitors.

THE CASTLE.—In the rear of the Town Hall is the Castle, which originally constituted a building of vast importance to the inhabitants of Bombay, who on the incursions of the Mahrattas sought security within its precincts. Here are nominally passed all the decrees and official transactions of Government, which bear date "Bombay Castle". The fort flag staff is placed near one of the turrets. The Castle is chiefly used as the arsenal; here are also the offices of the Government Saving's Bank.

THE MINT.—This is a large, commodious but dingy-looking building, situated between the Town Hall and the King's Barracks.

PAY AND COMMISSARY GENERAL'S OFFICES.—These are situated on the opposite side of Bombay Green and originally formed the Secretariate, until the Governor changed his place of residence to Parel. On the East part, near the old Bombay Theatre, stand the Commissary General's Offices, where are kept in

It was not possible to proceed without a passport. Even within the recollection of twenty years the toils of trade or the pleasures of the sportsman could not be pursued beyond the limits of the island without special passport. The following order may be contrasted with the liberty which at present prevails.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

1. It having been judged necessary that a daily report should be made to the Right Honorable the Governor, of the names and descriptions of all European travellers, arriving at or departing from this presidency, either by sea or land, notice is hereby given, that, from and after this date, all persons not military, who will as usual report themselves to the Town Major, are expected immediately on their arrival at Bombay to report themselves, either personally, or in writing, at the office of the senior magistrate of the police within the fort, specifying at the same time, their intended places of abode during their stay at the presidency. And previously to their departure, they are expected in like manner to report to that officer, for the information of the Right Honorable the Governor.

2. It is to be understood that the above order is considered to be applicable to persons usually residing at Bombay, who may proceed occasionally to any place beyond the Islands of Bombay, Salsette, Caranphik or Elephanta.

3. And Europeans of whatever rank, description, or country, who shall be discovered passing through the territories under this presidency, beyond the islands above mentioned, without being furnished with a regular passport, will be taken into custody, and confined until the pleasure of government shall be known.

4. The only exception which the Right Honorable the Governor in Council has been pleased to make to the foregoing resolution, is in favor of officers commanding parties of His Majesty's or the Honorable Company's troops, or of officers of the civil, or military establishments, proceeding from station to station on duty, or known to the Magistrates, Collectors, or Senior Civil, or Military authorities of the divisions, to be in the actual employ of Government.

5. For the more strict execution of this order, notice is hereby further given, that a reward of ten Rupees, will be paid to any person, who shall take up, and bring into the nearest garrison, or to the magistrate of the division, any European deserter, or vagrant of any description.

6. Passports will be granted at Bombay by the senior magistrate of police, or in his absence, by the junior magistrate; and at the on stations by the magistrates, collectors, or senior civil or military authorities there residing.

The Commerce of Bombay, has been wonderfully augmented and the progress almost uninterrupted from the period of its cession to the East India Company to the present time. The principal commodities, which, as staple articles peculiar to Bombay, have contributed largely to its prosperity, are Cotton and Opium; the former being shipped in great quantities to Great Britain and China, and the drug to China and Singapore. Formerly this trade was almost wholly in the hands of the Company, but of late years free Merchants and Natives have entered extensively into mercantile speculations; and since the cessation of the Company's Charter of sole trade it has been almost doubled. There is now a large amount of shipping belonging to European and Native Merchants which is wholly engaged in the country trade, and maintain constant communication between Bombay, and the ports of India, China, Singapore, the Straits, Australia, Mauritius, East Coast of Africa, the Red Sea, and the Persian Gulph. Some ships carry on trade with Europe, being entitled to all the privileges of British bottoms. Most of the vessels are manned by Native Seamen, with European Officers, and some possess Native Captains called Nakodas. The other articles which constitute the products shipped from Bombay consist of Sandalwood, Pepper and Coffee from the Malabar Coast, Gums, Drugs, Pearls, and Coffee from Arabia, Persia, and the East Coast of Africa; Shark bus, fish maws, horns and dyes from the Persian Gulph, the Maldives and Laccadives.

Notwithstanding the present Commercial prosperity of Bombay it has not been without its vicissitudes and changes, especially during the long and unfortunate wars with France and the frequent interruption occasioned by the disturbances amongst the native princes in the surrounding Countries. This will be observed in reference to the events before 1700. In the year 1703 to such a state of Commercial inactivity and depression was Bombay reduced, that in November of that year a meeting was held of the Mercantile community, unconnected with the Company, at which it was resolved, in consequence of the distressed state of trade and the impracticability of employing money in safe channels as investments, to reduce the rate of interest from three quarters per cent monthly to one half per cent. The following is the resolution which appeared in the newspapers at that time.

At a meeting of the Merchants and Agents, in consequence of the Advertisement in the Bombay Courier, of the 23d Instant, the following Resolution was unanimously agreed to.—

November, 30th 1793.

From the great Stagnation in the Trade of this Port, occasioned by the present War, the unprotected state of our Shipping, the overflow of money arising from the Hon'ble Company being enabled to make a rapid progress in the discharge of their Bonded Debt, the difficulty and insecurity in employing money, except by investment in Company's Paper, which now bears an Interest only of six per cent per annum, and that subject to the inconvenience of not being realizable when wanted; We, the undersigned, find it necessary, to resolve on a reduction, for the present, of the Interest on money in our hands, belonging to our Constituents, from the hitherto current rate $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent per month, to $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per month, of thirty days to commence from the 1st of August last.

A similar state of affairs occurred about fifty years later, owing to the wars in Afghanistan and China, the market previously deluged with Europe manufac-tares, and the absence of the usual remittances of Sycee Silver from China. Still the crisis was not so severe as to induce reduction of the usual rate of interest, a circumstance which added to the difficulties and less easy of being earned than in 1793, owing to the great competition which has of late prevailed.

Under the company's rule, for many years after the cession of the island of Bombay, its gross annual revenue would not defray one fourth part of the expenses incurred in maintaining an adequate establishment for its protection, and to conduct the duties of office belonging to the government; even in the year 1880 when its actual revenue had increased eight-fold, the pay of a member of Council was limited to the sum of £70 per annum,—being the amount now paid to subordinate native clerks! In 1812-13 the commercial revenue alone of Bombay ran close upon the sum of half a Million sterling, the total imports and exports, including the Consignments, exhibit £18,079,865 as the value of merchandize and freights, but this obviously is only an approximate account of the value of merchandize. It is put down at what it is entered at the Custom House. Perhaps we do not over estimate the total invested capital if we set down the actual value at £25,000,000.

The basis to form an estimate of the augmented trade of Bombay will be a reference to figures, and we take the annexed as exhibiting the increase of trade since the expiration of the Company's Charter of exclusive trade—extending over a period of nine years.

Having afforded a few particulars relating rather to what Bombay was, we will now proceed to offer some observations on what it is at present.

The city of Bombay is situated on the narrowest part of the island near its south eastern extremity. The town within the fort is about a mile in length from the Apollo Gate to the Bazar Gate, and a quarter of a mile in breadth, it is surrounded by fortifications which have been gradually improved in proportion to the growing importance of the place. The principal part occupied by Europeans is at the north end of the town: the houses are built in a semi-European style equally commodious but less elegant than the residences of Europeans at Calcutta or Madras. The houses are lofty but have a dingy and gloomy appearance.

The streets of Bombay are of moderate width; they are macadamized; some are watered twice each day during the hot weather. There are no lamps in the streets at night: during the time of new moon the fort has a dark and melancholy aspect. In the centre of the streets run a line of sewers; these are near the surface and become frequently injured and stopped up. The houses of business are usually in convenient situations, the lower part of the buildings being generally used as godowns. The shops for Europe articles are few, but are well furnished with merchandize as Tyabjee Bhoymeas, Bennett and Co., Robert Frith & Co., Thomson and Co., Meehajeel Ahmedbhoj, &c. The interior of these bazars, far so they may be called, contrast strangely with their external cellar-looking appearance; their contents however will furnish a paper of pins or a carriage by the best English maker, a pair of kid gloves or a bundle of cloth. All the departments of carriage repository, Jewellery, Bijouterie, Millinery, Stationery, &c. &c. meet, without confusion, a place of emulence in each store. In the way of shop fronts but little progress has been made. A headdress however, was set by Messrs. Lloyd Joseph and Co., Dinegists, whose warehouse outside and within is not far behind Butler's in St. Paul's Church yard. The march of improvement has been followed by Messrs. Treacher and Co. who appear resolved not to be outdone by their new rivals. The carpenters and work-box makers' shops are worthy of remark, these are confined to Meadows and Forbes's streets, and their busy inmates impart at all times a business like appearance to the town.

The population of Bombay is uncertain and varied. On the opening and during the trading season there is an influx of the merchants or their Agents from the Deccan, Conkan, Scinde, Marwar, Mooltan, Cabool, Persia, Arabia, Lahore, and Central Asia; who resort to Bombay and return to their native countries with the produce of the civilized Globe. The number of this uncertain or temporary residents varies from 50,000 to 70,000. The ordinary inhabitants consist of Europeans, East Indians, Hindoos of all castes and Mohammedan from every Country, where Islamism is professed. There are also about 18,000 Parsees (of which number more than one third are priests)

Jews, Chinese, Armenians, Malays, &c. Nearly every country on the Globe has its representative at Bombay, each dressed in the costume of his country and imparting to the whole scene a degree of interest and ethnological variety nowhere else to be seen. In 1833 a census was taken of the population of the island of Bombay, which exhibited 117,016 as the number of the permanent adult population. In a letter from Mr. Warden to the Secretary of Government in the Judicial Department, No. 199 of 1835: "The population of the Island Bombay" observes Mr. Warden "is computed in common conversation at 250,000 souls. It will be observed from the annexed abstract of the census (No. 1) that it gives 117,016 adults, to which in a country where everybody is married we may add at least an equal number of children, making the whole population by the census 234,032. Or the census may be proved thus. There are 22,000 houses in Bombay, with at least ten persons, on an average, in each house; which gives the population at 220,000 persons."

The number of the population is now in 1844-5 about 300,000. The Government is about to take a fresh census, which will put us in possession of more satisfactory information. In the meantime we submit the following copy of the official census-abstract of 1833, which possesses some interest and may be relied on as correct. The number of men was 68,570.

Since the above period the increased trade of Bombay has caused the Inhabitants to be greatly augmented, in all probability the amount has been increased by at least one fourth.

The Pursee inhabitants live chiefly within the fort or in the immediate neighbourhood of the Aghry without the fort. The Hindoos live at the Bazar, extremity of the fort or congregate as near to the temples of Mombadavee and Bhulawer, as they can. The Mahomedan part of the population reside to the right and left of the Bendi Bazar road.

On entering Bombay from the sea the appearance is captivating: The number of ships and small craft in the harbour, the extensive pile of buildings lately erected by the Merchants on Colaba, and the town and surrounding hills in the distance, impart to the scene an extremely picturesque appearance, hardly borne out on closer inspection. On the land front of the town is the esplanade, a place of agreeable resort, on which in the hot season bungalows and tents are erected and occupied by civilians and military visitors at the Presidency. Beyond this, at the distance of a mile is the native town, in which the principal part of the Hindoos and Mohomedans reside, and which extends nearly two miles by more than a mile in breadth. Beyond this, European residents generally reside in detached Bungalows or neat villas surrounded by gardens. The objects of interest will be best described by presenting each in detail, and this we will do as nearly as possible in the order which they present themselves to our view, commencing with.

THE LIGHTHOUSE—This is situated at the highest part and at the extremity of the island of Colaba. The light is visible nearly forty Miles distant, at sea.

THE LUNATIC ASYLUM—Is situated near the lighthouse on the opposite side of the road and consists of the Institution, which is built with due regard for the security and health of its unfortunate inmates; the house occupied by the surgeon in charge and outhouses necessary for the establishment. Every care is exercised and all human means resorted to for the cure of the mental diseases of the patients or the mitigation of their sufferings, by a system of kind treatment. In addition to the wards for patients sent here by Government there are rooms for the accommodation of private individuals labouring under mental affliction, which for cleanliness and general superintendence, are not surpassed by similar establishments in England. The arrangements of the Asylum may we believe be seen by visitors on application to the Resident Surgeon. There is also a smaller asylum about a mile nearer the fort and not far from the gun-carriage manufactory.

THE OBSERVATORY—This building is close to the Lighthouse and separated from the compound of the latter by a slight fence. The observatory has been greatly improved since its institution by the addition to the building of a Lecture room, in which Scientific Lectures are given weekly, to the junior officers of the navy, and open to the public free. For this valuable addition, and various important improvements in the general arrangement of the establishment, the merit is due to George Buist, L.L. D. who is in charge of the Observatory and delivers the Lectures accompanying his remarks by experiments and demonstrations. Both duties are performed cheerfully and efficiently without cost to the Government. The Lectures owe their origin to some remarks made by Mr. Jenkins and the officers under his charge at the Observatory. Government caused a Lecture room to be constructed and ordered a sufficiency of apparatus to be supplied. The regular course, it was proposed, to commence on Wednesday, the 2nd of Oct. and close on the 14th of Dec., 1844, beginning at 5 p. m., on the Wednesdays and 5 p. m. on Saturdays, and to be repeated, with such alterations as were considered expedient, three times a year: the third term ending in May. Chemistry was designed to form the subject of the Wednesday and Natural Philosophy of the Saturday Lectures. Natural History with the application of science to the arts, form the subject for Wednesday and Saturday at the conclusion of the course.

The Observatory consists of two well fitted up buildings for the separate purposes of Astronomical, Magnetic, and Meteorological observation. The Astronomical Observatory was erected 10 or 15 years since and placed in charge of Mr. Curwin, now of the Calcutta Mint. It was rather indifferently supplied with instruments from the first, and the best of them were subsequently withdrawn. Those presently in use are a three feet transit telescope, by which the transits of from two to six stars are taken every evening; an Altitude and Azimuth Circle; an Astronomical Clock; and a couple of Refracting Telescopes. A self registering Rain and Wind Gauge on Mr. Ostler's principle, belonging to the Meteorological department, is in use at the Astronomical observatory. The work performed chiefly relates to the rating of the chronometers of the Indian Navy, of which there are generally from five to fifteen in charge, and giving time to the shipping in the port. This last is effected by two different plans so as to afford as much accommodation as possible to ship Captains: the flash of Gunfire is observed, and its error noted and published in the newspapers, and also written out and hung up daily in the Master Attendant's Office, and commercial Reading Rooms, to correct a watch on board ship by this, it is only necessary that the Gun fire should be observed and its error noted by the chronometer on board: the following will give the result.

Time of gun fire as seen from the observatory noted by a Chronometer for true time say 8-59-5. Time of gun fire as noted from on board by ship's Chronometer, say 9h. 1m. 2s. This gives error of gun fire 0h 0m. 55s: error of ship's Chronometer 0h. 1m. 57s. The other method of giving time to the shipping is by a board 3 feet square hoisted to the top of a tall spar seen from the harbour over the cupola of the Observatory: it is dropped precisely at one o'clock Bombay mean time. Dr. Buist is at present in charge of the establishment with one permanent and one occasional native Assistant; the latter being chiefly employed in the other department of the observatory. The Superintendent resides under the same roof, about two thirds of the building being occupied as a dwelling House, one third as observatory or office:—The appointment is unsalaried, and at present only held provisionally.

The Magnetic and Meteorological Observatory occupies a different building within the compound: it is, like the other Observatory, under charge of Dr. Buist. It was erected in 1840 and first put in operation, in November 1841. The original assistants were Non Commissioned Officers of the Sappers and Miners Corps. Two of these having in absence of Mr. Orlebar on a tour of inspection misconducted themselves, the regular observations in the shape prescribed by the Royal Society were for a time interrupted. Three Native Assistants having been sanctioned on 28th August 1812, operations were resumed on the 1st September and have since then been conducted regularly. The instruments for magnetic purposes are a horizontal and vertical force magnetometer, with horizontal and vertical declinometers, these are read hourly day and night. A dipping needle (Major Sabine's instrument) for determining magnetic intensity are registered at stated periods. The Meteorological instruments consist of a large Standard Barometer by Newmann with a Tube of half an inch diameter; Simplesometer by Adie, wet and dry bulb Thermometers; Maximum and Minimum self-registering Thermometers; for a solar and terrestrial radiation, and for standard reference and for the purpose of experiment. An Actinometer, and a Hygrometer by Daniell, are read at stated periods. Two rain gauges on the open ground, with a self-registering tube are used during the wet season.

The whole of these instruments are read hourly day and night. Between the hours of 2 and 4, and 8 and 10 A. M., and P. M., the Barometer and Simplesometer are read every ten minutes. The number of readings registered daily amount to above 280; besides about half as many occasional readings, all of which are afterwards corrected, tabled, and lithographed at the observatory, by the Assistants. These consist of one European non-commissioned officer, three constant and one occasional native observers. The instruments were intended for an observatory proposed to have been erected at Aden, which is nearly under the magnetic equator. They were transferred to Bombay, which is within eleven minutes of the meridian of no variation. The institution is one of 51 now in operation on the same plan in various quarters of the globe. Of these there are six in India, viz. at Simla, Madras, Singapore, Travandrum, Lucknow, and Colaba. To these as well as to the Royal Society of London, to the Government of Bombay, the Royal Asiatic Society of Calcutta, the Bombay branch of the Royal Asiatic Society and to Mr. Piddington Curator of the Museum of Economic Geology of the Museum of Calcutta, copies of the reports of the Observatory are forwarded every month by order of Government.

GRANT AND COLABA BUILDINGS—These buildings but were recently erected and form one of the great Mercantile improvements at the Presidency undertaken at the cost of some of the merchants of Bombay largely engaged in the shipment of raw Cotton. They were commenced about two years ago and are now nearly completed. These buildings are the largest erections of the kind near Bombay, they are situated on small Colaba, at about one mile distant from the Fort, and were called after the family name of a former Governor, Sir Robert Grant. The Mercantile firms whose offices are in the principal building are: McVicar Burn and Co.,—W and T Edmond and Co.,—Drom Hunter and Co.,—T. R. Richmond,—and Chushtjee Cowasjee Sons and Co. There is a very commodious Bunder here, lately erected and called Arthur Bunder, after our present worthy Governor Sir George Arthur. There are also improved cranes for landing and shipping of Cotton.

COLABA CAUSEWAY—This Causeway which connects the Islands of Colaba with Bombay was erected in the year 1838 previous to which time a ferry was established here. The construction of this work is a great improvement, but it is said that as it denies a free passage to the tide at high water; the sea has in consequence made and continues to make very serious encroachment on the esplanade and Back Bay, where it has completely swept away the sea wall which formerly existed along the Beach. The causeway is nearly half a mile in length by about fifty feet in width, and on each side is a raised footpath for the convenience of foot passengers. There is no toll and free passage is allowed to every kind of vehicle proceeding to or from the town.

APOLLO BUNDER—This is a spacious pier built of stone, and, next to the Custom House Bunder, is the general place where passengers and merchandize are landed or proceed on ship board. Each side of curb is protected by iron posts and chains to prevent persons from falling into the sea. Here also are several large and powerful cranes for the lading or unlading of small craft which are usually moored alongside the Bunder and convey cotton, &c. to the ship or land it for the purpose of its being screwed prior to final shipment. This useful way der taking was constructed at the joint expense of the Government and merchants of Bombay, and completed in 1840.

THE FORTIFICATIONS.—These are considered extremely strong, except on the land side where they would offer but feeble resistance to an enemy, once landed and capable of making regular approaches: the high range of land at Mazagon once in the possession of an enemy it would be extremely difficult to dislodge the foe. However there is but little expectation of land attacks so long as we possess sovereignty, on the sea, and in that conviction it has often been suggested to fill up the moat extending along the land side of the fort, and to erect buildings on the esplanade—a suggestion, never likely to be put in execution. Near the Ajalloo gate is the saluting battery, and adjoining this gate is the powder magazine. There are three gates; two of these are new, spacious and even elegant; the other is old and narrow. To each there are excellent drawbridges and outworks.

THE DOCKYARD.—This establishment has more than any thing else contributed to the importance of Bombay and raised it to its present degree of eminence as an entrepot of commerce. The establishment until recently was almost entirely under the Superintendence of Parsee Builders, who still exercise a large share in the operations carried on. The accommodation is so ample and the skill of the artificers so far matured that the largest description of vessels have been built here without the aid of European workmen. The family particularly distinguished as shipbuilders is that of Nowrojee Jamsetjee, the latter has lately retired at an advanced age. His sons have recently sought the advantages to be derived from instructions in England in naval Architecture and Steam machinery. About twenty ships of war have been built here: at the present time three large vessels are in course of construction for Her Majesty's Navy, for which purpose some additional ships have been built or are in course of completion. The establishment has been improved by the addition of a building in which machinery is now made under the direction of an eminent engineer. Within the Dockyard, are the offices of the Superintendent of the Indian Navy who has also the direction of the Dockyard Establishment, and is an officer of H. M. Navy. The gentleman at present holding the appointment is Commodore Pepper, I. N. Acting for Sir Robert Omer, R. N. who, in consideration of his long and able Superintendence, was knighted by Her Majesty in 1844.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—The Scotch Church is a neat edifice with a pediment front. The Church is surmounted by a neat and pointed spire. It is in connexion with the established Church of Scotland. The building was commenced in 18 and completed in 18.)

THE ICE HOUSE.—Is close to St Andrews Church. It was built by public subscription and finished a few months back. The ground was given by the authorities conditionally that it should be restored if at any future period the site were required by the Government. The total cost of the building amounted to nearly fifty thousand rupees. Its circumference is 430 feet; the depth of the ice well is about 125 feet. An iron railing is placed on three sides of the building; the entrance is from Rampart Row.

THE COURT HOUSE.—In this building Her Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature is held, in supercession of the Recorder's Court which formerly existed. The Court House was erected by Colonel Hornby for his own use. It is not eminently adapted for a Court of Law in consequence of the frequent interruption occasionally by noises in the Dock Yard. This has of late been remedied during the Criminal Sessions by stopping the operations of the workmen employed immediately in front of the Court. The sum of Rupees 2000 is paid monthly for renting the building. The lower part of the edifice is occupied by the Clerk of the Crown and the Sheriff as offices. On the first floor, in the largest room, the Court usually sits to hear and adjudicate Civil and Criminal causes; and above on the second floor are the offices of the Judges who sit here in Chambers and dispose of public business. The officers of the Court consist of the Chief and a Puisne Justice who generally sit alternately during Term and quarter Sessions, unless cases of importance require the attendance of both judges. The duties of the judges are extremely harassing; the cases are sometimes protracted and intricate, requiring the undivided attention of the presiding judge for several days without intermission, and this too with the temperature usually from 80° to 90° Fahr. In the same building also are held Courts of Admiralty, ecclesiastical and Insolvent debtors Courts, and a small cause Court for actions under 350 rupees and not less than 90 ;—any suit above the latter amount not being cognizable by the Court of Requests. Besides the usual officers of an English Court of Justice there are Interpreters and translators, European and native, to make known to the Court, the evidence and other matters of the suitors, witnesses, &c. whose testimony or matters are brought before the Court. There are at present eight gentlemen practising as Barristers and nine attorneys, solicitors and proctors. The officers and practitioners of the Court are chiefly sons of the Emerald Isle, and for talents, zeal and integrity would do honor to any Court of law at home.

DADY'S BUILDING.—This large pile of buildings, the several parts of which form mercantile offices, the Police office, &c., was formerly called Admiralty house, the garden of which joined that of old Government House, now the Secretariate. Dady's Buildings were erected by a Parsee, Dady Nasserwanjee, the Grandfather of the present Cursetjee Ardaseer. The proprietor was a merchant and it is said accumulated wealth by trading largely, and by enterprising projects, which contributed greatly to the improvement of Bombay. This same Dady Nasserwanjee built also, the large house at Ambulie, known as the Rev. Dr. Wilson's and now used as a Mission House of the Free Church of Scotland. Dady likewise built the house at Breach Candy, called the Crow's Nest, at present occupied by Professor Orlebar.

COTTON SCREWS.—There are several Screws employed for Pressing Cotton which are chiefly under the management of Companies. Various improvements have from time to time been introduced in perfecting the machines employed. Dady Nasserwanjee established Screws of which the father of Jejeebhoy Dada-bhoy Esq., was manager. Dr Scott introduced several alterations, and of late the Cotton Screws have been brought to a state of comparative perfection under the scientific skill of Mr. Cardwell of the firm of Higginson and Cardwell, merchants. The screws are worked by means of capstans and employ a great number of hands. It may suffice to enumerate the establishments, which consist of the Company's Screws, the Apollo Screws, Remington's Screws.

GENERAL POST OFFICE.—This is a neat and well arranged building; the several departments are kept distinct, thus avoiding all confusion. Betwixt the Europe and India Departments is a court yard, in the rear of which stands the office of the Postmaster General. The old post office, now the office of the Naval Store keeper, was as ill suited to the purposes of a post office as it was possible to be. The new building has been completed more than a year. Much of the improvement visible in the arrangements of the establishment are due to Mr. Gordon, the present Postmaster General, and Deputy Postmaster W. Blowers, under whose able direction, on the arrival of the Steamer from Europe, the English overland Summaries are delivered to the editors of the Courier and Times in less than five minutes after their arrival at the Post Office. Such are the admirable arrangements that on the departure of the mail for Europe, the letters and packets are assorted, packed in iron or wooden boxes and placed on board the Steamer in less than two hours from the time of closing the receiving office, even when the mail includes so great a number of covers as 45,000 or 50,000—a degree of celerity equal to most post offices in Europe!

THE CUSTOM HOUSE.—This is a large but heavy looking building, and is now one of the oldest Government erections in Bombay. It was built in 1714. At the time of its erection it was considered a large and extensive building adequate to the increasing business of Bombay. Under the Company's rule, prior to the expiration of the Charter in 1834, the arrangements of the Custom House were somewhat different to what are now in existence, as the Company carried on here the whole of their retail as well as wholesale trade, the collection of custom dues, &c. The petty Customs, as remarked elsewhere, were collected in the building which now is used as barracks. The land front of the Custom House is at present occupied as the offices for the collection of Land revenue, and the Harbour front as offices for the collection of Sea Customs. The arrangements of the latter are about to undergo certain judicious alterations, which, when completed, will localize the export department on the right hand from the harbour entrance and the import department on the left hand of the building. This arrangement will be exceedingly judicious. The business of the customs department has greatly augmented: the value of goods which passed during the year 1843-44 amounted to Rs. 12,19,21,343 for imports, and Rs. 10,46,34,715 for Exports.

BOMBAY GREEN.—This is the only open space within the fort of Bombay, and is about the same size as Trafalgar square at Charing Cross. It formerly constituted the place of rendezvous now supplied by the Esplanade; here, until the introduction of carriages at the commencement of the present century, were wont to assemble the élite of Bombay. About 1810, the green was little better than a Metal and Cotton store, for here were deposited Iron bars, &c. and bales of Cotton, which now are either placed in private godowns or on the esplanade near the Apollo pier. Bombay Green formed the rendezvous until that which is now called the Esplanade was cleared of the jungle which until 1795 covered its whole extent, from the place of the "two tombs" at Colaba to the Marine Lines. The abandonment of the present Secretariate by the Governor for the more commodious building at Parrell gave a blow to the dignity of the green sward within the fort. Its importance, notwithstanding the erection of the statue in its centre, became less; but it now promises to revive under the surveillance of the Agri-Horticultural Society of Bombay, which has taken it under its protection and under the sanction of Government is about to convert it into a flower garden, with public walks, &c. thus constituting it once more a place of retreat for the residents within the fort, equal to the growing and improving importance of Bombay.

THE TOWN HALL.—This is a comparatively new and noble building, erected in 1821-33 and devoted to Government and municipal purposes. It is from a design of Colonel Cowper of the Engineer's. The Town Hall occupies the eastern side of Bombay Green and imparts a commanding appearance to the view. In 1793 an attempt was made at general improvement and in particular to erect a Town Hall from the proceeds of a Lottery scheme, but the plan failed and the scheme was abandoned. The Town Hall consists of a frontage of about 120 feet; the centre is a pediment supported by six fluted columns, below the base of which there are 30 steps. In the centre of the building is a large Hall used occasionally, for public assemblages on a requisition made to the Sheriff. On the right hand is a marble statue of Sir Charles Forbes, executed by Chantrey at the cost of the natives of Bombay, who, to mark their sense of Sir Charles approved services as a fellow citizen, subscribed towards a monument to be erected to his memory. On the right hand of the Hall is the Council Chamber and other offices of the Government. On the left are the rooms of the Asiatic Society, containing the Library and Museum, which for compactness, completeness and interesting contents, equal any establishment of the kind. On the ground floor, in the centre and at the rear of the building is the Civil pay office, and the Court of Requests. To the right are the rooms of the Geographical Society the Horticultural Society: to the left the offices of the Medical Board, &c. The inspection of the building, we believe, is patent to visitors.

THE CASTLE.—In the rear of the Town Hall is the Castle, which originally constituted a building of vast importance to the inhabitants of Bombay, who on the incursions of the Mahrattas sought security within its precincts. Here are nominally passed all the decess and official transactions of Government, which bear date "Bombay Castle". The fort flag staff is placed near one of the turrets. The Castle is chiefly used as the arsenal; here are also the offices of the Government Savings Bank.

THE MINT.—This is a large, commodious but dingy-looking building, situated between the Town Hall and the King's Barracks.

PAY AND COMMISSARY GENERAL'S OFFICES.—These are situated on the opposite side of Bombay Green and originally formed the Secretariate, until the Governor changed his place of residence to Parrell. On the East part, near the old Bombay Theatre, stand the Commissary General's Offices, where are kept in large vats spirits, Beer &c. for the department. The south front is occupied as offices for the Military and Marine pay departments. To the right hand are the offices of the master in Equity, of the Supreme Court and at the left extremity are the offices of the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court.

CATHEDRAL OF ST. THOMAS.—This is the only protestant episcopal building within the fort. It consists of a very plain building with two entrances. The Church is surmounted by a steeple, containing a clock with four faces. The church is an old erection; the steeple, however, has been built within the last ten years, but owing to the state of the walls of the edifice, no bells of any weight were suspended in it, lest the Church should give way, the large bell is situated on the right hand of the church, immediately under the vestry, and about three feet from the ground. The church is dedicated to St. Thomas and was converted into a Cathedral on the appointment of a protestant Bishop at Bombay. Within the building are several neat but interesting monuments some from the chisel of the two great modern masters. The building itself is inferior to many parish churches in England and possesses neither ornament nor grace to recommend it.

THE SECRETARIAT.—This building situated on the western side of Bombay Green formed the Government House of "olden time," it was converted into the offices of the Secretariate on the completion of the new residence at Parell. It is a plain and uninteresting building, surrounded by a garden in the north east angle of which stands the office of the Town Major. Here are transacted the executive business of Government in the political, civil and revenue departments. The secretaries in each department are assisted by Europeans now designated unconvicted assistants, but formerly called Clerks; and in each department there is a great number of sectioners and examiners: many of the latter are Europeans. To the establishment has been added several book-binders to arrange and bind up the records. The garden is planted with mulberry trees, the leaves of which are given to the silk worms belonging to Mr. de Rames, the assistant superintendent of silk culture in the Konkan.

SIR JAMSETJEE JEEJEEBHAY'S—The residence of this wealthy and enterprising Parsee gentleman is situated in Hornby row, fronting the esplanade. It is one of the neatest buildings within the fort; the interior arrangements are elegant and complete. The above distinguished individual whose benevolence is neither shorted by the extent of the misery he beneficently relieves nor precluded by distance from exercising its most genial influence has received the warmest and most signal approbation of the Queen of Great Britain, to whom his benevolence and enterprise, indicated a fit object for Royal distinction. This was marked by creating Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, a Knight of the United Kingdom. Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, the founder of his family's fame and fortune, was brought up with his father-in-law, who was an extensive merchant. Young Jamsetjee made several voyages to China, and it is said in one of these trips, formed a friendship with the Nacoda, Mahomed Ali Rogay, which time has served only to cement. The trade of the house increased greatly, owing in great measure to the exertions of the supercargo, Jamsetjee. 1813-14 his father-in-law died and Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy, the heir, carried on trade and has continued to do so on his own account, in connection with Mahomed Ali Rogay and latterly his sons, until the extent of his commercial transactions and the amount of credit attached to his reputation is without a parallel in modern times.

EUROPEAN GENERAL HOSPITAL.—This admirable institution which has so largely contributed to relieve the sufferings of that portion of humanity which form its objects, is situated next to Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy's in Hornby Row. It is a low old fashioned building, having much the resemblance of old almshouses in England. It is nevertheless airy and the arrangements are very efficient. The institution is as its name implies a general hospital, no other recommendation on the part of Europeans is required than that they stand in need of medical assistance. During the past year the Government has resolved to remove the Hospital to some more eligible situation. It is said Government intends to erect the new Eur. General Hospital at Colaba, opposite to the Grant building.

THE ESPLANADE.—The formation of the Esplanade has more than anything else contributed to the healthfulness and security of Bombay. Prior to the removal of the jungle which surrounded the fort on the land side, Bombay was reputed one of the unhealthiest places in India, not excluding the City of Palaces on the Hooghly. In the adjudication of the question for the settlement of land, in lieu of that at present occupied as the esplanade, the Government were extremely liberal. At that time there were several residences just without the fort, on the spot where the temporary Bungalows and the Sanatorium are now located, and extending almost as far as the Dhobies' Tanks, which were then situated on the spot now used for the Marine Lines. The Beach at Back Bay then formed the race course, extending from the verge of the Esplanade to the 'Arbour' near the coopersage. The Beach as far as the Wood Bunder at Chowpatty was secured by a sea wall of great strength, the only vestige of which remains to be seen a little beyond the bungalow now occupied by Dr. Burns.—On the Esplanade there are several wells of good water, resorted to by the Parsees and every caste of Hindoos—the Muslims use those on the right hand on the South Eastern verge of the Esplanade, near which the Dhobis at present carry on their avocation. These wells have been chiefly constructed at the expense of private individuals of charitable dispositions, the great part of them have lapsed to government in consequence of their founders neglecting to keep them in a state of repair.—On the Esplanade, during the hot season, the civil and military reside at Bombay usually resort, living either in tents or in temporary dwellings constructed of wood and covered with eadjan. These temporary erections continue from the end of September to the beginning of June, when the rains setting in render a temporary shelter of no avail from the boisterous nature of the weather.

NATIVE EDUCATION SOCIETY—ELPHINSTONE COLLEGE.—The admirable institution known as the Elphinstone College, with which the Native Education Society is now united stands on the verge of the Esplanade, near the Kulkadavee road. The building is large and of late an adjoining house formerly the Racket Court Hotel, has been engaged as a Mahratta School.

SIR JAMSHETJEE JEJENHOY HOSPITAL.—This is an elegant semi-Gothic building erected by the munificence of its founder after whose name it is called. Attached to the edifice is the Grant Medical College. The building is large and commodious; the principal front is facing the Bandy Bazar road; the second front is opposite to the Baborda tank. In the rear of the building stands the Sudder Adawlut, a Court of appeal from the Zillah Courts of the Bombay Presidency. The building is near completion, so soon as it is finished the Native General Hospital will be removed hither and the Collage founded in memory of Sir Robert Grant be opened as a medical school for the instruction of the natives. The institution is in every way worthy of its distinguished benefactor and forms a great ornament to the Western Metropolis of India.

BYCULLA CHURCH.—This is a neat and modern edifice, built in a style somewhat after the celebrated Church in Langham Place, London. It is surmounted with a neat spire, below which is a clock with four faces. The interior of the building is plain but affords excellent accommodation to the congregation. Within the same enclosure are the Byculla Schools for Girls and Boys, and in the rear of the latter stands the House of Correction.

BYCULLA CLUB.—This commodious building is situated on the Bellasis road in rear of Byculla Church. It consists of a centre building and one wing, the right wing not having been at present completed. Near the principal building is the Billiard room, and fronting the road the stables are situated. The privileges of the Club are confined wholly to members.

THE RACE COURSE.—Is situated at the back of the Byculla Club House and is in good condition. The ground is even and the distance within easy reach of the eye from the Club House. The races are held here in the month of March, and are in general fraught with much interest to the lovers of the turf.

THE THEATRE.—This building is situated on the Grant road at the distance of two and a half miles from the fort. The edifice, the design of Lieut. Smart of the Engineers is a neat building, and has been erected by public subscription, including the amount realized by the sale of the old theatre which the Court of Directors ordered to be made over for the benefit of the institution. The exterior and interior parts of the edifice are now nearly completed; when these are finished the theatre will in all probability be opened.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, PARELL.—Although not an elegant this is a neat and eligible residence for the Governor and contains suitable offices for the establishment. It is nearly six miles distant from the fort and commands an extensive but not very interesting view. The edifice has been erected within the last forty years; it possesses many advantages over the old residence within the fort, whilst the accommodation for the reception of visitors at a Durbar or entertainment is very ample. It is, however, within forty minutes drive from the Town Hall in the fort where Government Councils are usually held.

At a short distance beyond Parell are the gardens of the Horticultural Society and the Silk establishment of Mr. Ramos; both these places are worthy of a second or even a third examination.

MAHIM CAUSEWAY.—This is another of the great improvements for which Bombay is indebted to the great benefactor of his race, Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, who has contributed several thousand pounds to the completion of this object, which will unite Bombay with Salsette and admit of safe and constant communication unattended with expense to all who experience its benefits. The work which is not yet completed is under the able direction of Captain Cruickshank of the Bombay Engineers. The cost is estimated at about £15,000.

MISCELLANEOUS WORKS.—Of these may be mentioned the docks at Maxagon, the gaol of Bombay, projected great Eastern Railway, Parsee, English, Hindoo and Mahomedan Burial grounds; also the Native General Hospital, the dog Hospital, the Assembly's Schools, and other places of note, the particulars of which will appear in our next.

The Bombay Government immediately extended to the Society that liberal patronage which it universally bestows on all institutions of utility connected with the Presidency. The Colaba Observatory was appropriated to its accommodation, and the important privilege conferred of allowing the Society's communications to be transmitted throughout the territories of the Presidency free of postage,*—a privilege subsequently extended to India at large, an application having been made for permission to inspect or have made over to them, copies of papers supplied to Government on geographical subjects by officers. In the exercise, the subject was referred to the Council of Directors, without whose sanction the wishes of the Society could not be complied with, Government strongly recommending the concession desired. A very favourable answer was received to this by return of post; ever since which the Society has been most liberally supplied with every variety of document bearing on the subject of their researches, which it was in the power of Government to bestow. At this time also (June 1833) the formation of a library was commenced, and the whole of the elaborate reports of the Secretary, contained in their records give nearly double information as to the progress of the Society's labours. A set of meteorological and some surveying instruments for geographical purposes were also purchased and placed under charge of the Secretary, for the use of the members of the Society. In March 1835 a letter was received from London, according to the proposal formerly made that the Bombay Association should be considered a branch of that of home.† The following resolutions explain the relation subsisting betwixt the parent society and its branches:—

Resolutions respecting Geographical Societies in the British Colonies or Dependencies, desiring of connecting themselves with the Royal Geographical Society of London.

* Minute of 12th June 1833.

† Minute of 15th March, 1835.

1. "Geographical Societies established in any of the British Colonies or Dependencies, and expressing a wish to be admitted as Branches of the Royal Geographical Society in London, may be so admitted by the Council.

2. "The members of all such of these Societies as shall correspond with the Parent Society, and forward to it reports of the Proceedings, shall be considered corresponding members of the Society while out of England; and on their return home shall be eligible, by ballot with other corresponding members, to be admitted ordinary members with payment of the entrance fee.

3. "One copy of every volume or part of a volume of the Society's Journal, as successively published, shall be sent to each Branch Society, to be placed in its library; with other copies for the authors of communications which may appear in such volumes; and any additional numbers which may be ordered shall be delivered in England, at two thirds of the price to any agents duly authorized to receive and forward them."

The Colaba Observatory having been found inconveniently distant from the Fort, the Government, in 1835, was pleased to assign the room on the ground-floor of the Court House for the use of Society; this having afterwards been found unsuitable, the present handsome apartment, under the Court Room in the Town Hall building, adjoining the room of the Medical Board, was subsequently assigned to them; the Government afterwards, with the approbation of the Court of Directors, granted for defrayment of the expenses of the Society Rs. 60 per mensem. In 1836 it was resolved to commence the publication of the Transactions of the Society in quarterly issues, or as frequently as the amount of accumulated matter in the archives permitted. A letter was at this time received from the Royal Geographical Society of Paris intimating the desire of that institution—the oldest and most distinguished of the kind in Europe—to enter into correspondence, and to exchange papers and transactions with the Bombay establishment,—a proposal to gratifying to be otherwise than favourably received by the Society; and the two associations have accordingly ever since maintained a close and cordial intercourse with each other. The Society, in 1847, reduced the annual subscription from Rs. 22 to Rs. 15, at which last rate it has ever since continued. In July, 1837, the Governor-General, Lord Auckland, with attention to the interests of science and literature which distinguished his government, in returning thanks for copies of the Society's Transactions which had been forwarded for his use by the President, Sir C. Malcolm, expressed his wish to be admitted a member, and his anxiety to second their exertions in any way within his power: requesting that the President would at all times, and without reserve, point out to him any mode in which he might be able to promote the objects of the Institution. His Lordship was elected honorary patron of the Society; and in a farther communications to the Governor, Sir R. Campbell, expressive of the gratification he experienced from his election, he requested again that he should be on all occasions informed in what manner he could best assist them,—expressing his anxiety to forward from Bengal such papers on geographical science as might be reckoned competent for publication in the Society's Transactions. In 1841, the Bombay Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society having resolved to establish a Museum, the want of which had been so greatly felt and so often complained of, memorialized the Geographical Society on the inexpediency of attempting to carry on two collections where a general receptacle, opened for the deposit and exhibition of all the curiosities likely to be collected, would be so much more likely to suit the views of both establishments. By this means, a single centre of resort would be obtained, in place of a variety of little known and comparatively unattractive points, some of which were likely to be missed by the enquirer, and must serve to distract public attention. On these grounds, the Geographical Society were solicited to make over the specimens then in their possession, together with donations which might hereafter be presented to them, to the Asiatic Society's Museum. The request was at once complied with, and the specimens made over accordingly. In March, 1842 an irreparable loss was sustained by the Society by the death of Dr. Heddle, who, from the time of its establishment, had acted as its Secretary. The publication of the Society's Transactions has from this, and other causes, at present fallen considerably behind; but is now about to be brought up by the immediate consecutive issue of four several numbers at present ready for the press.

* Minute of 27th February, 1836

* Minute of 24th June, 1836

The following is a list of the papers which have been published by the Society since June 1838, when the papers first began to be printed:—

Agents Advances on Goods.

FORT WILLIAM,

Home Department, Legislative, the 26th October, 1844.

Act No. XX of 1844.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Advances bona fide made to Agents intrusted with Goods by extending to the Territories of the East India Company in cases governed by English Law, the Provisions of the Statute 5 and 6 Victoria C. 39, as altered by this Act.

Whereas by Act XIII. of 1840 the Provisions of the Statute 4, Geo. IV., C. 83, as altered and amended by the Statute 6, Geo. IV., C. 94, were extended to the Territories of the East India Company, in cases governed by English Law; and whereas by the Statutes 5 and 6, Victoria C. 39, the said Statute 6, Geo. IV., C. 94, is altered and amended, and the Provisions thereof are extended.

It is hereby enacted, that the Statute 5 and 6, Victoria C. 39, as altered by this Act, shall from and after the passing of this Act, be extended to the Territories of the East India Company; provided always, that this Act shall not be construed to affect any case which would not have been governed by the Law of England before the passing of the last mentioned Statute, if this Act had not passed, or to extend or alter the jurisdiction of any of Her Majesty's Courts of Justice.

The Statute hereby extended to the Territories of the East India Company and as altered by this Act, is as follows:

5 and 6 Vict. Cap. XXXIX. as altered by this Act

An Act to amend the Law relating to Advances bona fide made to Agents intrusted with Goods.

Whereas by an Act passed in the 6th year of the Reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intitled an Act to alter and amend an Act for the better protection of the property of Merchants and others who may hereafter enter into contracts or agreements in relation to Goods, Wares and Merchandize intrusted to Factors or Agents, validity is given, under certain circumstances, to contracts or agreements made with persons intrusted with, and in possession of the Documents of Title to Goods and Merchandize, and Consigners, making Advances to persons abroad who are intrusted with any Goods and Merchandize, are entitled, under certain circumstances, to a lien thereon, but under the said Act, and the present state of the Law, Advances cannot safely be made upon Goods or Documents to persons known to have possession thereof as Agents only; And whereas by the said Act it is amongst other things further enacted, "that it shall be lawful to and for any person to contract with any Agent intrusted with any Goods, or to whom the same may be consigned for the purchase of any such Goods, and to receive the same of and to pay for the same to such Agent, and such contract and payment shall be binding upon and good against the Owner of such Goods, notwithstanding such person shall have notice that the person making such contract, or on whose behalf such contract is made, is an Agent; provided such contract or payment be made in the usual and ordinary course of business, and that such person shall not when such contract is entered into or payment made, have notice that such Agent is not authorized to sell the same, or to receive the said Purchase Money;" And whereas advances on the Security of Goods and Merchandize have become unusual and ordinary course of business, and it is expedient and necessary that reasonable and safe facilities should be afforded thereto, and that the same protection and validity should be extended to bona fide advances upon Goods and Merchandize as by the said recited Act is given to Sales, and that Owners intrusting Agents with the possession of Goods and Merchandize, or of Documents of Title thereto, should in all cases where such Owners by the said recited Act or otherwise would be bound by a contract or agreement of Sale be in like manner bound by any contract or agreement of pledge or lien for any advances bona fide made on the Security thereof. And whereas much litigation has arisen on the construction of the said recited Act, and the same does not extend to protect Exchanges of Securities bona fide made, and so much uncertainty exists in respect thereof, that it is expedient to alter and amend the same and to extend the Provisions thereof and to put the Law on a clear and certain basis. Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled and by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this Act

Bonâ fide Advances to Persons intrusted with the possession of Goods or Documents of Title though known to be Agents, protected.

Goods or Documents, as also for any further or continuing advance in respect thereof, and such contract or agreement shall be binding upon and good against the Owner of such Goods, and all other persons interested therein notwithstanding the person claiming such pledge or lien may have had notice that the person with whom such contract or agreement is made is only an agent.

Bonâ fide Deposits in exchange protected.

but no Lien beyond the value of the Goods given up.

11. And be it enacted, that where any such contract or agreement for pledge, lien or security shall be made in consideration of the delivery or transfer to such agent of any other Goods or Merchandise, or Document of Title or Negotiable Security upon which the person so delivering up the same had at the time a valid and available Lien and Security for or in respect of a previous advance by virtue of some contract or agreement made with such agent, such contract and agreement, if bonâ fide on the part of the person with whom the same may be made, shall be deemed to be a contract made in consideration of an advance within the true intent and meaning of this Act, and shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, and to the same extent, as if the consideration for the same had been a bonâ fide present Advance of money. Provided always that the Lien acquired under such last mentioned contract or agreement upon the Goods or Documents deposited in exchange shall not exceed the value at the time of Goods and Merchandise which, or the Documents of Title to which, or the Negotiable Security which shall be delivered up and exchanged.

But the Statute to be construed to protect only Transaction bonâ fide without notice that the agent pledging is acting without authority or malâ fide against the Owner.

Merchandise; and nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to or protect any Lien or Pledge for or in respect of any antecedent debt, owing from any agent to any person with or to whom such Lien or Pledge shall be given, nor to authorize any agent intrusted as aforesaid in deviating from any express orders or authority received from the Owner, but that, for the purpose and to the intent of protecting all such bonâ fide Loans, advances and Exchanges aforesaid (though made with notice of such agent not being the Owner but without any notice of the Agents acting without authority) and to no further, or other intent or purpose, such contract or agreement as aforesaid shall be binding on the Owner and all other person in such Goods.

Meaning of the term "Document of Title."

IV. And be it enacted, that any Bill of Lading India Warrant, Dock Warrant Warehouse-keeper's Certificate, Warrant, or order for the delivery of Goods, or any other Document used in the ordinary course of business as proof of the possession or control of Goods, or authorizing or purporting to authorize, either by indorsement or by delivery, the Possessor of such Document to transfer or receive Goods thereby represented, shall be Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 27th July, 1844.

The following act is brought up before the Legislative Council this day--The Governor General of India in Council being desirous that no time should be lost in passing the Act.--

Resolved, that the Rule requiring that no Draft of a Law should be ordered to be published till at least one week shall have elapsed from the day on which it was first laid before the Council of India in its Legislative Department, and that the Rules requiring that all Acts of the Governor General of India in Council shall be brought up for second reading in two months, or in three months from the date of the first reading, be suspended in respect to the following proposed Act, and that it be at once passed into Law.

ACT NO. XVI OF 1844.

An Act for increasing the Excise and Import Duties heretofore payable to the Government on Salt manufactured within or imported into the Territories subject to the Government of the Presidency of Bombay.

Whereas by Act VI of 1844 all Inland, Transit and Town Duties levied on behalf of the Government of the East India Company, within the limits of the Territories subordinate to the Presidency of Fort St. George were abolished, and the impost on Salt manufactured and sold within the said territories was raised to a rate more in accordance with the Tax on the same article borne by other Divisions of the British Possessions: and whereas although enquiries which have been instituted as to the origin and extent of certain Town duties and local cesses within the Presidency of Bombay with a view to their abolition have not yet been completed, it is nevertheless expedient in order to equalize the average prices of Salt within the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay to increase as well the Customs duty on imported Salt as the Excise duty heretofore and at present payable on Salt that may be delivered from any Salt Work within the territories subject to the Government of the Presidency of Bombay.

I. It is hereby enacted, that from the First day of September 1844, Sect. I. of Act XXVII. of 1837 shall be repealed.

II. And it is hereby enacted, that from the First day of September 1844, there shall be paid to the Government on every Maund of 3,200 Tolas weight of Salt that may be delivered from any Salt Work within the Territories subject to the Government of the Presidency of Bombay, a duty of One Company's Rupee.

III. And it is hereby enacted, that Sec. XLIII., Art. I. of 1838 shall be repealed.

IV. And it is hereby enacted, that on application by the Exporter from any Port of the Presidency of Bombay of any Salt that has paid the Excise duty fixed by Sec. II. of this Act, a Certificate shall be granted by the Collector of Customs at the place of Export, under authority of which Certificate the quantity of Salt specified therein shall be landed at any other Port of the said Presidency of Bombay, and shall be passed from such Port into the interior under cover of the passes applicable to the free passage of Salt without the levy of any further duty either of Excise or Customs.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that so much of Schedule A. appended to Act I. of 1838 as provides that no Salt imported by Sea into any Port of the Presidency of Bombay and not covered by a Pass shall be levied a duty of Eight Annas per maund of 80 tolas per seer, and so much of Schedule B. appended to Act I. of 1838 as provides that Salt having paid the Excise duty of Eight Annas a maund shall be permitted to be Exported free of duty from any Port or place in the Presidency of Bombay, shall be repealed.

VI. And it is hereby enacted, that on Salt imported by Sea into any Port of the Presidency of Bombay, and not covered by a Pass, there shall be levied a duty of One Company's Rupee per maund of 3,200 Tolas weight, and that Salt having paid the Excise duty of One Company's Rupee per maund shall be permitted to be exported free from further duty from any Port of the Presidency of Bombay.

PROCLAMATION.

TERRITORIAL DEPARTMENT.—REVENUE.

Whereas Act XVI. of 1844, which raises the Tax on Salt within the Presidency of Bombay from 8 annas to one Rupee per Indian Mundi, has in view the abolition of Town Duties and other Cesses, which, from unavoidable circumstances, was not promulgated simultaneously with the said Act; and whereas the delay in this abolition renders the objects of this Government at present liable to the payment of both the increased Tax on Salt, and the said town Duties and Cesses, the Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased, in order to afford relief from this double taxation, to suspend, pending decision of the Government of India, the collection of all Town Duties, Kusimbeyas, Mohoturfa, Buloria, and all other Taxes on trades and professions, which form a part of the General Revenue of the State, and are not appropriated by Law or Custom to Municipal purpose.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council.

25th. Arrears of subscription or any other sum due to the Society by the holders of any share or shares on a lapsed Life shall be deducted from the amount of the advance.

26th. At the expiration of this Society on the 31st December 1848, it is proposed that a new Society, on a similar plan, but subject to such alterations as experience may suggest, shall be immediately instituted, into which Society, all Members then holding shares on unexpired Lives in the Third Laudable Society shall be at liberty to transfer those shares without any renewed certificate of health, in consideration of a sum of money to be paid to such new Society, out of the Funds of Fourth Laudable Society, and without taking into account any proportion of the advances previously paid by the Society on account of the lapsed Lives, to entitle Members of Fourth Laudable Society to transfer the shares held by them into the ensuing or Fifth Laudable Society, no regular form of Application shall be necessary, but a certificate of admission into the new society shall be immediately issued to them on the simple payment of the usual half year's subscription in advance, subject, however to the established penalty of two per cent in the event of the payment being delayed beyond the term of one month, from the commencement of the new society and to the entire forfeiture of the privilege of transfer (excepting on a new application to the Directors, accompanied by the regular certificate of health, &c.) if not made good within the second month from that period. The rates of subscription for Members transferring their shares from the Fourth to the Fifth Laudable society shall be according to the respective ages of the parties on whose lives the shares are held on the first January 1849.

27th. It is proposed to render the institution of the Laudable society permanent by establishing a new society, in succession to each society as it expires.

28th. Upon the transfer to the Fifth Laudable society of any shares in the Fourth Laudable society, which may stand assigned by endorsement or otherwise, for the benefit of any other person or persons than the person or persons originally interested therein, or upon any subsequent transfer of any share or shares so assigned from the Fourth or any succeeding society, to the society next ensuing, such share or shares shall continue in all respect, subject to the lien of the Assignee, and shall be declared to stand for the benefit of such Assignee in the certificate of admission to be issued from the new society.

29th. Within one month and fifteen days after its termination, the accounts of the Third Laudable society shall be made up and the balance of Funds actually hand after deducting for the new society 12 per cent, on the amount of subscriptions, received during the term of the society, be divided by the number of shares held on Lives subscribed upon in this society which may have lapsed between its commencement and its close, and the parties entitled to benefit by such lapses shall each receive his or their proportion of the said Funds, according to the number of shares respectively held by them on the several lapsed Lives, the holders of half or quarter shares divided according to those fractional proportions. The sum of Rs. 10,000 shall be considered as the maximum payable on any one lapsed share and any surplus shall be carried to the credit of the new society.

30th. With respect to any lapses of Lives in this society which may not be ascertained on or prior to the 15th of February 1849, such lapses shall be at the risk of the next ensuing or Fourth Laudable society, and the advances of Dividends to which the parties claiming to benefit by such lapses may be entitled, shall be paid out of the Funds, and agreeably to the Regulations of the said ensuing society on the lapses being ascertained; but it is hereby expressly provided with respect to any lapses which may have occurred at any place to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, that notice of such lapses accompanied by satisfactory proof of the same must be given to the Secretaries of the Fifth Laudable society within one year from the expiration of the Fourth society on the 31st December 1848, or within two years if the lapses have occurred in Europe or elsewhere, beyond the Cape of Good Hope and that in the event of any party or parties interested neglecting to prefer his or their claim on account of any such lapses within the period here prescribed, he or they shall entirely forfeit all right and title to any benefit whatever, by reason of such lapses from the funds of the Fourth or any succeeding society.

31st. The following gentlemen have this day been nominated Directors of the Fourth Laudable society, viz:—

CHARLES FORBES ESQ.

RT F REMINGTON ESQ.

W. F. HUNTER ESQ.

G. FARIE ESQ.

WILLIAM FRITH ESQ.

Any mis-statement in the Affidavit of health makes the Policy void, as does suicide in cases when a person effects an Insurance on his own life, (unless the Certificate be specially endorsed over, for the benefit of a Creditor or Creditors and duly registered) but not so in case of Creditors effecting an Insurance of the lives of their debtors.

The Directors of this Society have caused investigation to be made with great care into the existing Institutions for Life Assurance, &c. &c., and they trust they have been fortunate in selecting from each what, as a whole, will place their Establishment on the most judicious and satisfactory footing both to the Proprietors and the Assured. They request particular attention to the rates, which being founded on the most accurate observations of the duration of human life as moderate as is consistent with perfect security.

The plan of this Society is to transact all its business on such terms as to leave, in all human probability, a small, but certain excess of profit on the general result of its transactions. A small portion of that profit necessary for defraying the unavoidable expense of the Institution, and who have pledged the subscribed amount of their Capital in order to afford that responsibility which relieves the Assured from any contingency of loss to which they might be liable without the intervention of such a guarantee.

Advantages offered by this Society.

The profits are declared in each year, on the second Wednesday in May, on which date all persons assured in the Society for the whole term of life, whose Policies have been in existence five complete years are entitled to participate.

The practice of an annual division, as observed by Mr. Babbage, "distributes the profits with more regularity and justice than any other," and it is especially advantageous to persons of advanced years, who cannot hope to participate in many septennial or decennial divisions.

One-fifth of the ascertained profits of the five preceding years is divided between the Policy-holders and Share-holders,—three-fourths to the former, and one-fourth to the latter. The remaining four-fifths are set apart to enter into the average of the succeeding years, and thus to provide against unforeseen contingencies.

The first division of profits was declared on the 10th May 1840, in London, and on the 15th August in India, amounting to a reduction of 60 per cent. on the annual premium of all policies entitled to participation.

The following table will shew the operation of the reduction made by the Society.

Age when Policy was issued.	Date of Policy.	Sum Assured.	Original Premium.	Reduction.	Annual Premium payable in 1840.
20	May 1835.	Co's. Rs. 10,000	Rs. 420	Rs. 252	Rs. 162
30		10,000	480	288	192
40		10,000	560	354	236
50		10,000	740	444	296
60		10,000	1,080	648	241

This system of reduction in the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Assured, or enables them to secure a considerable bonus by effecting a new Policy.

Separate tables, both Civil and Military, have been adopted for the whole of life, at reduced rates for such persons as may prefer a lower rate of Premium to participation in the general profits.

The Society makes a natural distinction between persons exposed to the hazards of Military and Maritime occupations, and those whose occupations are of a Civil nature; but Members of the Military Service holding offices purely Civil and subject to no extra risk, will be charged the Civil rate of premium only while engaged in duties purely civil. It will be in the discretion of the Directors in each particular case to say whether the higher or the lower rate of premium shall be chargeable, and that discretion will be regulated by the particular circumstances of the case.

When application is made for assuring a life subject to more than ordinary hazard, an augmented Premium will be charged proportionate to the increased risk, the rate of which will be regulated by the strictest attention to justice between the Society and the Assured, according to the circumstances.

Premiums are ordinarily payable half yearly in advance; but Policy-holders are at liberty to make arrangements with the Society to pay their premiums in one amount, in annual or quarterly payments, or for a given number of years, viz.: 5, 10, 15, or 20. Some persons may wish to avail themselves of a present season of prosperity, and adopt the latter course, in which case (although their contributions will cease with the expiration of the term they may fix upon) their share of the profits will continue to be added to their Policies annually during the remainder of life.

The Parent Institution being in London, with a similar Establishment in Calcutta for granting Policies, Premiums, as well as claims, are payable in either country at the option of the Policy-holder. The appointment of Sub-Committees at Madras and Bombay with power to grant Policies, affords similar facilities to persons residing at either of the sister Presidencies.

All Policies becoming claims on the Society will be discharged within three months after satisfactory proof of the death, and cause of death, of the Assured shall have been furnished to the Directors either in London or Calcutta.

The Directors of the Indian Branch of the Society are empowered to treat for the purchase of Policies on which Premium shall have been paid for a period of not less than five years, or to advance, if required on such Policies, by way of loan, two thirds of the estimated value.

The accounts of this Society, after being investigated by Auditors, chosen as well by the Assured as by the Proprietors, are laid before General Meetings convened twice a year for that purpose:—In like manner the accounts of the Parent Society are regularly transmitted to India for inspection, the Indian Branch enjoying reciprocal advantages with the Parent Society.

Where the application for Assurance makes no mention of the date from which the Assurance is desired to take effect, the Policy will be issued on the date of approval of the risk by the Directors, but no Assurance to be binding on the Society until the first Premium shall have been actually paid to the Agents.

Every proposal for Assurance will be immediately attended to, and the Assurance completed generally within a few days after the application is made.

All applications for Assurance must be accompanied by a Medical Fee of Eight Rupees.

The Tables, Blank Forms, and other particulars requisite to enable persons to effect Assurances, may be had on application to the Agents.

By Order of the Directors,
BAGSHAW AND CO.
Agents and Secretaries.

It is incumbent on every person desiring Assurance from fire to describe clearly the construction of the building to be assured, or containing the property to be assured according to the distinctions noted above, also to state the nature of the goods or other property, of which Assurance is proposed; and whether

When a party applies to pay premiums in London for a continuance, he shall be required to state if he wishes to continue his policy in Rupees, in which case the premiums are to be received in such an amount as will purchase a Bill of the East India Company for the amount of premium due in Calcutta, according to the terms of the policy—or should he be entitled to be reduced to the English rate, the premium must still be calculated in Rupees and received in Sterling money according to the Exchange of the day.

The preferable course is for the party to leave the Policy at the office to be endorsed as covering a certain sum of Sterling money, to be calculated at the rate of 2s the Rupee, after which the premium will always be received in Sterling money without reference to the state of the Exchange.

there be any Stove, Coal, Furnace or other implement for producing fire heat by which the risk may be in any degree increased. After an assurance shall have been effected, it is necessary for the Assured to communicate immediately to the Company any alteration which may subsequently be made in the buildings, or in the description of the goods deposited, or of the trade or process carried on in them; and if any of these changes increase the risk which has been assigned in every other respect to be perfectly explicit in their communication with the Directors, as any omission or misrepresentation vitiates the policy.

II. No claim will be allowed for loss occasioned by the invasion of a foreign enemy, by civil commotion, or by any military power; all Assurances on property in foreign countries are to be suspended during the continuance of any such invasion or civil commotion.

III. Books of Accounts, written Securities, Bills, Bonds, ready money, Tallies, and Gunpowder, are not to be held assured by any policy granted by this Company.

IV. No description of property is to be considered insured by any policy unless specially mentioned in such policy.

V. Assurances, made with other Companies on property assured by this Company must be noticed either in or by indorsement upon the policies granted by this Company. Persons neglecting to notify such assurances with other Companies, will forfeit their right of recovery on this Company.

VI. No Assurance proposed to this Company is to be considered in force, until the premium be paid.

VII. If property assured by the Company should pass by death, assignment, or otherwise, into new hands, the interest in the policy may be preserved to the successor, provided succession be allowed at the office, by indorsement on the policy, and if the goods assured be removed to a new situation, the Assurance may be continued by indorsement on the Policy; an extra premium will be charged if the risk be increased by the removal.

VIII. If any loss or damage by fire, be sustained on property assured with this Company, the person assured is forthwith to give notice of such loss or damage at the Company's office, as soon as possible after within three months at the utmost, deliver in to the Company an exact account of the particulars and amount of such loss or damage, as the nature of the case may admit. If it be required, such account shall be supported by the oath or attestation of the party assured; by the attestation of a certificate of some persons who reside within the parish, or in the immediate neighbourhood of the sufferer, and who may be competent witness as to the character of the Assured and to the fairness of the claim, and further by the production of such books, documents, or vouchers, as may appear necessary. If there be found to be any false swearing, or if it shall appear that the fire shall have been occasioned by any wilful act or connivance on his part the policy in such case shall be void and right of recovery forfeited.

XI. In every case of loss, the Company will reserve to itself the right of reinstatement, in preference to the payment of claims, if it shall judge the former course to be most expedient.

X. If any difference shall arise with respect to the amount of any claim for loss or damage by fire and no fraud be suspected, such difference shall be submitted to arbitrators, indifferently chosen, whose award or that of their umpire shall be conclusive.

Persons desirous of making Assurances for seven years, by one payment, will be charged for six years only.

In annual Assurances, the premium will be calculated for the day on which the Assurance is proposed for one year. On Assurances for less than a year the premium will be reduced. In case of short period Assurances the policies will absolutely cease at six o'clock in the evening of the day specified in the policies.

No acknowledgments for the assurances taken, will be saved except such as are on printed forms, and witnessed by one of the clerks or agents of the Company.

Buildings on which Assurance are proposed will be surveyed free of any expense to the party if required.

V. And it is hereby enacted, that no registry at all henceforth be made or certificate be granted, until the following declaration be made or subscribed before the Registering Officer, by the owner or major part of the owners of the ship or vessel required to be registered.

I, A. B., (of place of residency and occupation) do truly declare that the ship or vessel (name) of (port or place) whereof (master's name) is at present master, being (kind of built, burthen, etcetera, as described in the certificate of the Surveying Officer) was (when and where) built and that I the said (A. B.) and the other owners (names and occupations if any and where they respectively reside) am (or are) truly and bona fide a subject (or subjects) of Her Majesty for whom the Governor General of India in council has power to legislate, and that no person not being subject as aforesaid, directly or indirectly hath any share or part interest in the said ship or vessel. Provided that if the Registering Officer shall see occasion to doubt the truth of any of the facts contained in the above declaration he shall not deem such declaration to be conclusive, but may refuse the registry or certificate, and his discretion exercised in his behalf shall be subject only to an appeal to the local Government to which he is subordinate.

VI. And it is hereby enacted, that in case the required number of joint owners of any ship or vessel shall not personally attend to make and subscribe the declaration herein before directed to be made and subscribed, then and in such case such owner or owners as shall personally attend and make and subscribe the declarations aforesaid, shall further declare that the part owners of such ship or vessel then absent, is or are not resident within twenty miles of such port or place, and hath or have not to the best of his or their knowledge or belief, wilfully absented himself or themselves in order to avoid the marking the declaration herein before directed to be made and subscribed, or is or are prevented by illness from attending to make and subscribe the said declaration.

VII. And in order to enable the Registering Officer to grant a certificate truly and accurately describing every ship or vessel to be registered in pursuance of this Act, and also to enable all other Officers of Customs on due examination, to discover whether any such ship or vessel is the same with that for which a certificate is alleged to have been granted, it is hereby enacted, that previous to the registering or granting of any certificate of registry as aforesaid some one or more persons appointed by the local Governments respectively, taking to his or their assistance if he or they shall judge it necessary, one or more person or persons skilled in the building and admeasurement of ships, shall go on board of every such ship or vessel that is to be registered, and shall strictly and accurately examine and admeasure every such ship or vessel as to all and every particular contained in the form of the certificate herein before directed in the presence of the master, or of any other person who shall be appointed for that purpose on the part of the owner or owners or in his or other absence by the said master, and shall deliver a true and just account in writing of all such particulars of the build, description, and admeasurement of every such ship or vessel as are specified in the form of the certificate above recited to the Officer authorized to make such registry and grant such certificate of registry as aforesaid; and the said master or other person attending on the part of the owner or owners is hereby required to sign his name also to the certificate of such Surveying or Examining Officer, in testimony of the truth thereof, provided such master or other person shall consent and agree to the several particulars set forth and described therein.

VIII. And it is hereby enacted, that from and after the commencement of this Act the tonnage of every ship or vessel required by law to be registered, shall previous to her being registered, be measured and ascertained while her hold is clear, and according to the following rule, (that is to say) divide the length of the upper deck between the afterpart of the stern and the forepart of the stern post into six equal parts. Depths: at the foremost, the middle, and the aftermost of those points of division, measure in feet and decimal parts of a foot the depths from the under side of the upper deck to the ceiling at the timber strake. In the case of a break in the upper deck, the depths are to be measured from a line stretched in a continuation of the deck. Breadths: divide each of those three depths into five equal parts and measure the inside breadths at the following points, videlicet, at one-fifth and at four-fifths from the upper deck of the foremost and aftermost depths, and at two-fifths and four-fifths from the upper deck of the midship depth. Length, at half the midship depth measure the length of the vessel from the afterpart of the stern to the forepart of the stempost, then to twice the midship depth add the foremost and the aftermost depth for the sum of the depths; add together the upper and lower breadths at the foremost division, three times, the upper breadth, and the lower breadth at the midship division, and the upper and twice the lower breadth at the after division, for the sum of the breadths; then multiply the sum of the depths by the sum of the breadths, and this product by the length, and divide the final product by three thousand, five hundred which will give the number of tons for register. If the vessel have a poop in half deck, or a break in the upper deck measure the inside mean length, breadth and height of such part thereof as may be included within the bulk head; multiply these three measurements together, and dividing the product by 92,4 the quotient will be the number of tons to be added to the result as above found. In order to ascertain the tonnage of open vessels, the depths are to be measured from the upper edge of the upper strake.

IX. And it is hereby provided, that in each of the several rules hereinbefore prescribed when applied for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of any ship or vessel propelled by steam, the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be deducted from the total tonnage of the vessel as determined by either of the rules aforesaid, and the remainder shall be deemed the true register tonnage of the said ship or vessel. The tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be determined in the following manner, that is to say measure the inside length of the engine room in feet and decimal parts of a foot from the foremost to the aftermost bulk-head, then multiply the said length by the depth of the ship or vessel at the midship division as aforesaid, and the product by the inside breadth at the same division at two-fifths of the depth from the deck taken as aforesaid, and divide the last product by 92,4 and the quotient shall be deemed the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room.

X. And it is hereby provided, that the tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room shall be set forth in the certificate of registry as part of the description of the ship or vessel, and that any alteration of such tonnage due to the cubical contents of the engine room or of such length of the engine room after registry, shall be deemed to be an alteration requiring registry de novo within the meaning of the said act for the registering of ships or vessels.

XI. And it is hereby enacted, that for the purpose of ascertaining the tonnage of all such ships whether belonging to the United Kingdom or otherwise, as there shall be occasion to measure while their cargoes are on board the, following rule shall be observed and is hereby established, (that is to say,) measure first the length on the upper deck between the afterpart of the stern and the forepart of the sternpost; secondly, the inside breadth on the underside of the upper deck at the middle point of the length; and thirdly, the depth from the underside of the upper deck down the pump well to the skin, multiply these three dimensions together, and divide the product by one hundred and thirty, and the quotient will be the amount of the register tonnage of such ships.

XII. And it is hereby enacted that the true amount of the register tonnage of every merchant's ship or vessel belonging to the United Kingdom, to be ascertained according to the rule by this act established in respect of such ships, shall be deeply carved or cut in figures of at least three inches in length on the main beam of every such ship or vessel prior to her being registered.

XIII. And it is hereby provided that country Craft employed in coasting voyages not exceeding the burden of 200 tons may be registered and the tonnage marked according to rules to be prescribed from time to time by the respective local Governments.

XIV. And it is hereby enacted, that whenever the tonnage of any ship or vessel shall have been ascertained according to the rules herein prescribed such account of tonnage shall ever after be deemed the tonnage of such ship or vessel, and shall be repeated in every subsequent registry of such ship or vessel, unless it shall happen that any alteration has been made in the form or burden of such ship or vessel, or it shall be discovered that the tonnage of such ship or vessel had been erroneously taken and computed.

XV. And it is hereby enacted, that if such certificate as aforesaid shall be sold, lent, or otherwise disposed of to any person or persons whatever than those for whose use it is granted, or shall be made use of for the service of any other ship or vessel than the ship or vessel for which it is granted, such certificate shall therefor be utterly void, and the master or any owner of the ship or vessel who shall be proved to have sold, lent, or disposed of such certificate, or made use of the same as aforesaid, or shall have concurred in or been privy to the committing any such offence, shall be liable upon conviction by information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees. And in case such ship or vessel shall be lost or taken by the enemy, burnt, or broken up, or otherwise prevented from returning to the port at which she is registered, or shall on any account have been and forfeited the privileges of a British ship, or shall have been seized and legally condemned for illicit trading, or shall have been taken in execution for debt and sold by due process of law, or shall have been sold to the Crown or the East India Company, or shall under any circumstances have been registered de novo, the certificate, if preserved, shall be delivered up, within one month after the arrival of the master in any port or place in the territories of the East India Company to the Registering Officer at such port, in default whereof the master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction by information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees. And any person not being such subject as aforesaid shall purchase or otherwise become entitled to the whole or to any part or share or of any interest in such ship or vessel, and the same shall be within the limits of any port of the territories of the East India Company, then in such case the certificate of registry shall within seven days after such purchase or transfer of property in such ship or vessel, be delivered up to the Registering Officer at such port, and if such ship or vessel shall be in any place not within the territories of the East India Company when such purchase or transfer of property shall take place, then the certificate shall be delivered up within fourteen days after the arrival of such ship or vessel, or of the master thereof in any port of the territories of the East India Company to the Registering Officer at such port in default whereof the master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction before any Justice of the Peace in a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees recoverable in the manner provided by Act No. 2 of 1830.

XVI. And it is hereby enacted, that when and so often as the master of any ship or vessel registered in manner herein before directed shall be changed, the master or owner of such ship or vessel shall deliver to the person or persons hereinbefore authorized to make such registry and grant such certificates of registry at the port where such change shall take place, if it be a port within the territories of the East India Company, the certificate of registry belonging to such ship or vessel, who shall thereupon indorse and subscribe a memorandum of such change and shall forthwith given notice of the same to the proper officer of the port or place where such ship or vessel was last registered, pursuant to this Act, who shall likewise make a memorandum of the same in the book of registers which is hereby directed and required to be kept, and shall forthwith give notice thereof in like manner as of the original entry. But if the change do not take place in any port within the territories of the East India Company, then such delivery, memorandum and indorsement shall be made and notice given at the first port within the territories of the East India Company at which the new master shall arrive after such change. In default of which delivery of the certificate such new master or any of the owners shall be liable on conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 Rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XVII. And it is hereby enacted, that it shall not be lawful for any owner or owners of any ship or vessel, to give any name to such ship or vessel other than that by which she was first registered in pursuance of this Act, and that the owner or owners of all and every ship or vessel which shall be so registered, shall before such ship or vessel after such registry, shall begin to take in any cargo, paint, or cause to be painted, in white or yellow letters of a length of not less than four inches upon a black ground on some conspicuous part of the stern, the name by which such ship or vessel shall have been registered pursuant to this Act, and the port to which she belongs in a distinct and legible manner and shall so keep and preserve the same, and that if such owner or owners, or master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel, shall permit such ship or vessel to begin to take in cargo before the name of such ship or vessel has been so painted as aforesaid, or shall wilfully alter, erase, obliterate, or in any wise hide or conceal, or cause, or procure, or permit, the same to be done or shall in any written or printed paper, or other document describe such ship or vessel by any name other than that by which she was first registered pursuant to this Act, or shall verbally describe, or cause or procure or permit such ship or vessel to be described by any other name to any officer or officers of Revenue in the due execution of his or their duty, then and in every such case the certificate of registry shall thenceforth become utterly void, and such owner or Master or other person having or taking the charge or command of such ship or vessel shall be liable on information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees.

XVIII. And it is hereby enacted, that all and every person and persons who shall apply for a certificate of the registry of any ship or vessel shall, and they are hereby required to produce to the person or persons authorized to grant such certificate, a true and full particular under the hand of the builder of such ship or vessel, or in case the want of such certificate can be satisfactorily accounted for, then to produce other sufficient evidence of the proper denomination, and of the time when and the place where such ship or vessel was built, and also an exact account of the tonnage of such ship or vessel, and shall also make and subscribe a declaration before the person or persons hereinbefore authorized to grant such certificate that the ship or vessel for which such certificate is required is the same with that which is so described by the builder as aforesaid.

XIX. And it is hereby enacted, that if the certificate of registry of any ship or vessel shall be lost or mislaid, so that the same vessel when needful, and proof thereof shall be made to the satisfaction of the Registering Officer of the port at which the ship is registered, such Officer shall and may, where the certificate shall have been lost or mislaid, permit such ship or vessel to be registered de novo and a certificate thereof to be granted. Provided always that if such ship or vessel be absent and far distant from the port to which she belongs or by reason of the absence of the owner or owners, or of any other impediment, registry of the same cannot then be made in sufficient time, such Registering Officer shall and may grant a license for the present use of such ship or vessel, which license shall for the time and to the extent specified therein and no longer, be of the same force and virtue as a certificate of registry granted under this Act. Provided always that if the certificate of registry shall at any time afterwards be found, the same shall be forthwith delivered to the proper Officers of Customs to be cancelled, and that no illegal use be made of the same in default whereof the original certificate and the renewed certificate and license shall thenceforth become utterly void, and any person wilfully detaining the certificate so required to be cancelled, or making any illegal use thereof, shall be liable on conviction before any Justice in a penalty not exceeding 5000 rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XX. And whereas it is not proper that any person under any pretence whatever should detain the certificate of registry of any ship or vessel, or hold the same for any purpose other than the lawful use and navigation of the ship or vessel for which it was granted, it is therefore hereby enacted, that in case any person who shall have received or obtained by any means or purpose whatever the certificate of the registry of any such ship or any vessel (whether such person shall claim to be the master or to be the owner or one of the owners of such ship or vessel, or not,) shall wilfully detain and refuse to deliver up the same to the proper Officers of Customs, for the purposes of such ship or vessel, as occasion shall require, or to the person or persons having the actual command possession, and management of such ship or vessel as the ostensible and reputed owner or owners thereof, it may and shall be lawful to and for any such last mentioned person to make complaint on oath of such detainer and refusal to any Justice of the Peace residing near to the place where such detainer and refusal shall be, and on such complaint the said Justice shall and is hereby required by warrant under his hand and seal, to cause the person so complained against to be brought before him to be examined touching such detainer and refusal, and if it shall appear to the said Justice on examination of such person or otherwise that the said certificate of registry is not lost or mislaid, but is wilfully detained by the said person, such person shall be subject on conviction before such Justice to a penalty not exceeding 1,000 rupees, recoverable as aforesaid and the said Justice shall, and he is hereby required to certify the aforesaid delinquent, refusal, and conviction to the person or persons who granted such certificate of registry for such ship or vessel who shall on the terms and conditions of law being complied with, make registry of such ship or vessel de novo, and grant a certificate thereof conformably to law notifying on the back of such certificate the ground upon which the ship or vessel was so registered de novo; and if the person who shall have detained and refused to deliver up such certificate of registry as aforesaid, or shall be verily believed to have detained the same, shall have absconded so that the said warrant of the Justice cannot be executed upon him, and proof thereof shall be made to the satisfaction of the Registering Office of the port at which the ship or vessel was registered, it shall be lawful for the said officer to punish such ship or vessel to be registered de novo, or otherwise, in his discretion to grant a license for the present use of such ship or vessel in like manner as is hereinbefore provided in the case wherein the certificate of registry is lost or mislaid.

XXI. And it is hereby enacted, that if any ship or vessel after she shall have been registered pursuant to the directions of this Act, shall in any manner whatever be altered so as not to correspond with all the particulars contained in the certificate of her registry, or if any alteration shall take place in the ownership of any ship or vessel, or of any shares thereof, in such cases such ship or vessel shall be registered de novo in manner hereinbefore required as soon as she returns to the port to which she belongs, or to any other port within the territories of the East India Company, on failure whereof such ship or vessel shall be deemed to be a ship or vessel not duly registered, and any person making use of a certificate for the purposes of any ship or vessel which has been granted in respect of the same, after the same ought to have been registered, de novo, shall be liable on conviction before any Justice to a penalty not exceeding 5,000 rupees recoverable as aforesaid.

XXII. And whereas great inconvenience may arise from the Registering Officers being served with subpoenas requiring them to bring with them and produce, on trials in Courts of Law relative to the ownership of vessels, or otherwise the declaration required to be taken by the owners thereof prior to the registering thereof, and the books of registry, or copies or extracts therefrom. And whereas it would tend much to the dispatch of business if the attendance of such registering Officers with the same upon such trials were dispensed with, it is therefore hereby enacted, that the Registering Officer at any port or place and the person or persons acting for them respectively, shall upon every reasonable request by any person whomsoever, produce and exhibit for his, her or their Inspection and examination any declaration made by any such owner or owners, and also any register or entry in any books of registry required, and shall upon every reasonable request by any person or persons whomsoever, permit him, her or them to take a copy or copies of an extract or extracts thereof respectively, be allowed and received as evidence upon every trial at law, without the production of the original or originals, and without the testimony or attendance of any Registering Officer, or other person or persons acting for them respectively, in all cases, as fully and to all intents and purposes as such original or originals if produced by any Registering Officer, or other person or persons acting for them, could or might legally be admitted or received in evidence.

XXIII. And it is hereby enacted, that if any person or persons shall falsely make a declaration to any of the matters hereinbefore required to be verified by declaration, or if any person or persons shall counterfeit, erase, alter or falsify any certificate or other instrument writing required or directed to be obtained, granted, or produced this Act, or shall knowingly or wilfully make use of any certificate or other instrument so counterfeited, erased, altered, falsified or shall wilfully grant such certificate or other instrument writing, knowing it to be false, such person or persons shall for every such offence be liable on conviction upon information as aforesaid to a penalty not exceeding 10,000 rupees. And if any such offence be committed by the owner of any ship or vessel, the certificate of such ship or vessel shall henceforth be wholly void.

XXIV. And it is hereby enacted, that when any ship or vessel duly registered under this Act or sailing under the British Navigation Law, shall come to be owned by a Native Prince or State, or by any subject of such Native Prince or State as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Governor of Fort William in Bengal, or for the Governor in Council of any Presidency, to continue to such or vessel the privileges and advantages of a British ship for the purposes aforesaid by a pass to be issued under the Company's Seal and subscribed by a Secretary to Government stating the voyage or voyages for which the same is to have effect, and the period for which it is to last: and it shall be lawful for the Governor of Fort William in Bengal, or the Governor in Council of any Presidency, to issue a similar pass conferring the privileges and advantages of a British ship for the purposes aforesaid under this Act to any ship or vessel built within the dominions of such Native prince or State, and owned by such Prince or State, or by any of their subjects, provided always, that the ships belonging to Native Princes or States, or their subjects, in respect of which passes may be granted under this Act shall during the voyage or voyages, or the period for which any such pass shall be granted be commanded by a subject of Her Majesty for whom the Governor General in Council has power to legislate.

XXV. And it is hereby enacted, that the fees demandable in respect of the granting any certificate or pass under this Act shall be fixed from time to time according to the directions of the Governor General in Council, but so that the same shall not exceed the amount of fees now payable for registering or granting passes to ships or vessels at the different Presidencies.

XXVI. And it is hereby declared, and enacted, that all ships or vessels registered under this Act, shall be deemed to belong to the ports at which they shall be respectively registered. And all ships or vessels being registered or in respect of which passes may have been granted which are unexpired at this time of passing this Act, shall for the purpose of being deemed British ships be deemed to belong to the ports at which they may have been registered or when passes shall have been granted which are unexpired, at which such passes may have been respectively granted. And such ships or vessels built and owned as required by the Statute 3 and 4 Vict. Ch. 56, shall continue subject to all the rules in force at the respective Presidencies before the passing of this Act, or any provisions of the Statute law, a compliance with which may heretofore have been necessary in order that ships, vessels built and owned as aforesaid might be deemed British ships for the purposes of trade.

G. M. 187451	17.059	204.71	£1 13 24 08

The Sierra Rupee was formerly of the ticca weight, viz. 179.2-3rd grs. Troy, with 1-15th part only of Alloy, making the pure quantity as above, but in 1819 the Alloy was increased to 1-12th, the same as the Gold, by which much expense is generally spared in refining.

At the subordinate Mints, Silver is only coined, as follows.

The charge for Coming at the Calcutta Mint is 2 per Cent. if the Bullion be of the Standard fineness; but when it differs, there is a proportional charge made for refining which varies from $\frac{1}{4}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ per Cent.

CHINA.

Accounts are kept as follows :

10 Cash make 1 Candarine.

10 Candarines ,, 1 Mace.

10 Maces ,, 1 Tale = 6s 8d Sterling

Cash is the only kind of Money made in China, which is not coined but cast, and is used for small payments ; it is composed of 6 parts of copper and 4 parts of lead ; it is round, marked on one side, and rather raised at the edges, with a square hole in the middle.

These pieces are commonly carried, like beads, on a string or wire.

A Tale of fine Silver should be worth 1000 Cash ; but on account of their convenience for common use, their price is sometimes so much raised that only 750 Cash are given for a Tale.

Foreign Coins, however, circulate here, particularly Spanish Dollars ; and for small change they are cut into very exact proportions, but afterwards weighed, for which purpose Merchants generally carry scales called Datchin, made somewhat after the plan of the English steel yards. The value of the Tale varies, and is generally computed according to the price paid per Ounce for Spanish Dollars in London. The fineness of Gold and Silver is expressed by dividing the weight into 100 parts called Toques or Touch. Thus if an Ingot be 93 Touch, it is understood to contain 7 parts of Alloy, and 93 parts of fine Metal, making the whole 100. Pure Gold or Silver without Alloy is called by the Chinese, Sycee; and sometimes when of less purity, the Metal is accepted at Sycee. Silver Ingots are used as money, and weigh from 1 to 100 Tales, their value being determined by their weight. These Ingots are of the best sort of Silver, that is, about 94 Touch. Gold is not considered as money, but as Merchandise; it is sold in regular Ingots of a determined weight, which the English call shors of gold; the largest of these weighs 10 Tales each, and the Gold is reckoned 94 Touch, though it may be only 92 to 93.

EXCHANGE.

Nature of Exchange, Bills on England and vice versa, Exchange Tables at Bombay, Bengal, Madras, China and America.—Sicca Rupees converted into Company's Rupees.

The fact is indisputable that mere crude metal was weighed as money long anterior to its formation into coin. "Abraham weighed to Ephron the silver, four hundred shekels, current with the merchant;" now, the shekel was a weight centuries before it was a coin; 3000, according to Arbuthnot, being equal to a talent; and the word "current" may be understood more fitly by sterling, as being unalloyed, of right assay; the word "sterling," as we need hardly remark, being a corruption of Easterling, so termed from the money of Eastern Germany, which was remarkably pure, and therefore in request, at a period when our own coinage was excessively corrupt. We all remember too how brennus the Gaul flung his heavy sword into the scales, that were too penuriously weighing the ransom of Rome: and similar instances need not be multiplied. Unminted bullion, as a legalized medium of exchange, is not less a modern than it has been an ancient expedient; for it has been revived in our own times by Mr. Ricardo, although the project was abortive and dropped immediately, only one brick of gold weighing sixty ounces, and impressed with a sovereign stamp, having been issued for foreign commerce; a leaden model of this, gilt to resemble the original, is now in the British Museum. We are informed, on such authority as that of Suidas, that money of leather and of shells was once used by the Romans; and by Cedrenus that wood was also employed by them for the same purpose. Aristides says that leather money was once current at Carthage, and Seneca makes the same remark on Sparta. We are told, on authority somewhat more considerable, that iron was used in the same manner at Sparta, at Cluzomeno, at Byzantium, and at Rome, and tin also, by Dionysius of Syracuse. The Dutch have minted pusted-board; our old exchequer talies might be called in some sort wooden money; James II. coined gun-metal; in 1690 we had a tin coinage to the extent of £70,000; lead and pewter have circulated largely as tradesmen's tokens; the Malays have a currency of betelnuts, the Madagascar people of almonds, the African tribes cowrie-shells, the inhabitants of Yucatan certain seeds of plants, and the original settlers in Massachusetts accounted "muskiet-balls, full bore," a legal tender; so lately as in 1803, testis Captain Maryatt, deer-skins at the stated value of 40 cents per pound were a legalized means of barter at Cincinnati, and if proffered instead of money could not be refused.

The word coin is derived from the Greek word signifying common or current, and occurs on some Greek money, nominally of Alexander but really of the Roman Emperor Philip. It is a remarkable fact that, notwithstanding high civilization, there appears to have existed no money in Egypt anterior to the Persian occupancy. Cash does not seem to have entered into the calculations of Pharaoh, and nothing like a coin is found upon sculptures or papyri; Joseph's "money for the corn" need not have been other than personal ornaments; and although there are extant an abundance of circular seals or "cartouches" stamped on burnt clay, we nowhere see the idea carried on to the precious metals.

The earliest known coins, or at least those now in being, bore the indented square, as the moneys of Ægina; to this soon succeeded simple incision, as the wheat ear of Metapontum, and the bull's head of Phocæa. In the progress of coinage, silver seems to have taken precedence, and to have been in its utmost purity at Athens, which had no gold coins of her own, but contented herself with the Cyricenes and Darics of her neighbours, and governed the money market of the ancient world by the standard of her own just currency. Copper followed at an early period—perhaps almost simultaneously—to answer the demand for subdivision, though Athens issued silver coins no heavier than two grains; and gold, in a race almost equal, was probably the last; all being of very pure standard, far exceeding modern notions of a just assay.

By degrees an improvement was made even in coined money, and the mode of remittances and exchanges by Hills was adopted.

The subject of Exchanges is by many considered abstruse, if not unintelligible. In itself it is neither. It is a plain, straightforward matter, as simple as the dealings in corn or sugar. It is merely an affair of adjusting prices between the buyer and seller, as in the common markets; with this exception, that as the buyers and sellers of different countries use the moneys of those countries to pay an exact sum, a calculation must be made to what the amount in the one sort is equal, at such time, in the other.

When the Exchange between two places, such as London and Paris, is at Par, it is said to be a sign that the debts due from London to Paris are compensated by those due from Paris to London. On the contrary, when a Premium is paid at London for a bill upon Paris, it is said to be a sign that the debts due from London to Paris are not compensated by those due from Paris to London, but that a balance in money must be sent out from the latter place, for the risk, trouble, and expense of exporting which the premium is both demanded and given. But the ordinary state of debt and credit between those two cities must necessarily be regulated, it is said, by the ordinary course of their dealings with one another. When neither of them imports from the other to a greater amount than it exports to that other, the debts and credits of each may compensate one another. But when one of them exports to that other, the former necessarily becomes indebted to the latter in a greater sum than the latter becomes indebted to it. The debts and credits of each do not compensate one another, and money must be sent out from that place of which the debts overbalance the credits. The ordinary course of exchange, therefore, being an indication of the ordinary state of debt and credit between two places, must likewise be an indication of the ordinary course of their exports and imports, as these necessarily regulate that state.

The ordinary state of debt and credit between any two places is not always entirely regulated by the ordinary course of their dealings with one another; but it is often influenced by that of the dealings of either with many other places.

The just and true exchange for moneys, by bills, is par pro pari, or value for value.

In foreign exchange, one place always gives another a fixed sum or piece of money for a variable price. The former is called the certain price, and the latter uncertain price. Thus, London is said to give to Paris the certain for the uncertain, that is, the pound sterling for a variable number of francs; and to Spain the uncertain for the certain, that is, a variable number of pence sterling, for the dollar of exchange. The uncertain price, as quoted at any time, is called the Rate, or Course of Exchange.

When the demand in London for bills on Paris is great, a smaller number of francs is given for the pound sterling, and the contrary; and when there is a demand for bills on Spain, a greater number of pence sterling must be given for the dollar, and the contrary.

The Par of Exchange may be considered under two general heads, viz., the Intrinsic Par, and the Commercial Par, each of which admits of subordinate divisions.

The Intrinsic Par is the value of the money of one country compared with that of another, with respect both to weight and fineness.

The Commercial Par is the comparative value of the moneys of different countries, according to the weight, fineness, and market prices of the metals.

Thus two sums of different countries are Intrinsically at par, when they contain an equal quantity of the same kind of pure metal; and two sums of different countries are Commercially at par, when they can purchase an equal quantity of the same kind of pure metal.

RULE.

REDUCING MONEY INTO ENGLISH, AND vice versa.

Dutch money is reduced to English by saying,—as the given rate of exchange to £1 sterling, so the given Dutch to the sterling sought; and sterling is reduced to Dutch by reversing this rule.

This rule will apply in all cases by merely substituting the money of other countries with the rate of exchange.

EXAMPLES.

Reduce 8,132 guilders or florins, 16 stivers, into sterling; exchange at 10 current florins, 8 stivers, per pound sterling,

Pope's Journal of Trade, 1844.]

The origin of Bills of Exchange,* Drafts, &c., must in the most extended sense, have been nearly coeval with the invention, or at least with the general employment, of written; request from a creditor to a debtor to pay the bearer so many pieces of silver or gold, or even so many sheep or bullocks, which are the standard of value among many rude nations, would constitute a draft payable at sight. And if the debtor was desired to pay the bearer at some future date, as after an approaching fixed festival, fair or market day, that would be an order payable so many days after date.

Such simple modes of transferring personal property must have been in use from the earliest periods, when men began to dwell together under any degree of civilisation, and were doubtlessly of a much earlier origin than the date commonly assigned to them.

It is generally said that the Jews of Lombardy, or other great Italian dealers in money, who in the dark ages were the almost exclusive bankers of Europe, were the inventors of bills of exchange; and that necessity was also the parent of this scheme, since the difficulty and danger of transferring money to any distance in the precious metals was in those days extremely hazardous, more especially if the owner happened to be a Jew.

In spite, however, of the opposition of the courts, promissory notes still continued to be more and more employed, until at length the Act of the 3 & 4 Anne, c. 9 (1704), made perpetual by the 7 Anne, c. 25 (1708), declared that a holder of a promissory note "shall and may maintain an action for the same, in such manner as, &c., upon any inland bill of exchange."

By 9 & 10 William 3, c. 17 (1698), the holders of inland bills were desired, in cases of non-payment, to protest them within three days of their becoming due, and the form of the protest is given.

By the 3 & 4 of Anne, c. 9 (1704), made perpetual by the 7 Anne, c. 25 (1708), promissory notes were declared to be assignable in the same manner as bills of exchange, "to the intent to encourage trade and commerce," and directs that bills refused acceptance shall be protested, but that no protest shall be necessary, either for non-payment or non-acceptance, unless the amount shall be for 20l. or upwards, and for "value received."

The legislature and the courts of Westminster, instead of directing the law of bills of exchange, have wisely endeavoured to further and promote the Lex Mercatoria, or customs of merchants; and this is not a modern doctrine; for a century and a half since the celebrated Holt, C. J., remarked, in the case of Cramlington v. Evans (1688), 1 Show. 6, "An universal custom is a law, and I knew no distinction between Lex Mercatoria and Consuetudo Mercatorum."—

Johnson on the Law of Bills of Exchange:

The statutes relating to Bills of Exchange, &c., are numerous, will be seen in the annexed list. A mere abridgment of them would occupy by far too great a space for work of the nature of the "Journal of Trade." Besides, there are able treatises on the subject, by Bailey, Johnson, and others. More than is done here, it would not therefore be prudent to attempt.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 11, 1843.

WARWICK v. ROGERS

Lord Chief Justice Tindal delivered judgment in this case, which was argued in Trinity Term last. The action was brought upon a bill of exchange for 300*l.*, of which the plaintiff was the endorsee, and one Richard Jericho, the acceptor, and the jury found a special verdict, which set out the facts, and left it to the Court to declare the mode in which the five issues raised by the pleadings should be entered. The defendants, Messrs. Rogers, Towgood, and Co., of Lombard-street, were, on the 26th of January, 1836, when the bill became due, the bankers of the acceptor, Jericho, and had on that day funds in their hands belonging to him sufficient to pay the bill, which was duly presented by the plaintiff's bankers in the mode usual with bankers using the clearing-house—namely, by putting it that morning into the defendants' drawer there. The defendants cancelled the acceptance, thereby signifying their intention to pay the bill at 5 o'clock that evening on the behalf of the acceptor; but in the course of that day, Jericho, having determined to stop payment, sent the requisite instructions to his bankers, who thereupon wrote upon the cancelled bill, "cancelled by mistake, orders not to pay," and in that state the bill was returned. The jury found that it was usual so to mark bills which were cancelled by mistake. The intermediate parties to the bill refused to pay it, upon the grounds of the cancellation; and the plaintiff accordingly brought the present action against the defendants, alleging that they were bound either to have returned the bill uncanceled, or to have paid the money due on the bill. Upon this point, which was the main question between the parties, the Court now expressed their opinion, stating, that in their view of the case, no such duty was imposed upon the defendants as that alleged in the declaration. It had, however, been contended for the plaintiff, that although he might not succeed on the special count in the declaration, he was entitled to recover on the count for money had and received; but it had often been determined that no action for money had and received would lie against a party who had funds in his hands to pay a bill, unless he had communicated his assent to the person applying for payment, and no such assent had been given in this case. The verdict on the first, second, and fifth issues must be entered for the defendants, and for the plaintiff upon the third and fourth issues; but as the issues found for the defendants went to the whole cause of action, the judgment of the Court must upon the whole be for them.

Judgment for the defendant.

COURT OF EXCHEQUER, TUESDAY, MAY, 2, 1843.
(Sittings in Banco — New Trial Paper.)

RIDGE v. SIENBURN.

This was an action by the endorsee of a promissory note, which purported to be payable by instalments, and at the trial it was objected, on the part of the defendant, that such an instrument was not negotiable; but the verdict having gone for the plaintiff, under the direction of the learned judge then presiding, this rule was afterwards obtained for a new trial on the ground of misdirection.

Mr. R. V. Richards and Mr. Whitehurst were to-day heard in opposition to, and Mr. Knowles in support of, the rule.

At the close of the argument, which was of a lengthened character,

Mr. Baron Parke gave judgment in favour of the plaintiff:—"The first question for the consideration of the Court is whether this instrument is a promissory note within the statute of Anne which puts such securities on a footing with bills of exchange, allowing them to be assigned by the original parties; and the next is, whether the instalments were to be paid on the day named or after the usual "days of grace." Upon the latter point there will be little difficulty if the trial be resumed. Now, in reference to the language of the statute in question, it appears that this instrument is properly speaking, a promissory note. The words of the statute are very large indeed; they speak of a security for the payment of "any sum," and there is no limit fixed as to the mode or times of repayment. It may be therefore an entire sum or by instalments, and there is no doubt but that an instrument payable by instalments would be valid in the hands of the original party. Are such securities then assignable? Of this I have no doubt, for we find authorities for such a proposition in the universal practice of the profession and the world at large, while we have cases which deal with other objections raised on such security, and speak of them as "promissory notes," but never breathe a hint that they were open to any objection such as this. These, coupled with the usage of the profession and the world, are quite sufficient to stamp such instruments with validity in the hands of endorsees. We are next to consider, whether "days of grace" ought to be allowed upon the time specified for the payment of each instalment, and I am of opinion that they ought so to be. These instruments being put upon the same footing as bills of exchange, must be so for all purposes whatever, and therefore days of grace being observable in the one class of securities, ought to be adopted in the other.

Mr. Baron Alderson was of the same opinion. It had been well observed that, at all events, universal practice had established these securities. All the text books which treated of the subject had moreover carefully omitted to raise any objection to promissory notes payable by instalments on that ground, and it was not to be supposed that, if they were objectionable, the point would have escaped their acute minds. There was a maxim that communis consensus facit just, and it might be that communis error might have the same effect after a long series of years, and it was too late now to question the practice.

Mr. Baron Rolfe assented, and the rule was accordingly discharged.

SHORT METHOD TO FIND THE SIMPLE INTEREST OF ANY SUM.

FOR ANY NUMBER OF DAYS, AT ANY RATE PER CENT, PER ANNUM.

Formula.

Let p denot the principal.

„ d the number of days

$$\text{Assume } \frac{3}{10} \frac{p d r}{1000} (3 p d r \times \frac{1}{10} \frac{2 p d r}{10} \times \frac{1}{10} \frac{2 p d r}{10}) =$$

Rule.

Multiply the principal by the number of days, and that product by double the rate per cent. Then divide the amount by 3,30, and 300; add these quotients to it; and, subtracting the 10,000th part at the sum, the remainder divided by 10,000 will be interest required.

Example

Required the interest of Rs. 180,000 for 146 days at 9 per cent. per annum?
Answer, Rs. 6,480.

Principal 180,000 X 146 days.

180000

Product..26280000 X 18 (double) the rate per cent.

Amount..... 472040000
Add 1-3rd part..... 15768000
1-30th do..... 15768000
1-300th do..... 1576800

Sum..... 648064800

Deduct 1-10,000th part, 64800 (remaining fractions)

Remainder 8480,00000 divided by 100,000, (by inserting the decimal point before the fifth figure to the right hand) shows, that the interest is Rs. 6,480.

Thus, from 31st December till 18th August following are 230 days, and to 30th October 308 days.

II. To find the number of days from any particular day, to the end of the year.—Suppose 27th July. From 305, the days in a year, take the number answering to 27th July, viz 208.

Remainder 157

III. To find the number of days from any day in one month to any day in another month—suppose from 5th April to 28th November.—Rule: Take the difference between the numbers corresponding to these days.

28th November 332
5th April..... 95

Answer..... 237

IV. To find the number of days between any day in one year to any day in the year following.—Suppose from 21st August, 1822, to 27th May, 1823—(See Rules 1 and 2.)

From 365 Days in a Year.
Take the number of 21st August 233

232 days in 1822.
Add the number of 26th May 147

Total.....379

NEW WEIGHTS & LIQUID MEASURES

COMPILED BY THE HONBLE J. H. CRAWFORD, Esq.
LATE ACCOUNTANT GENERAL.

New Indian Weights established in Bengal by Regulation VII of 1833, and adopted by the Government of Bombay, at the recommendation of the Tariff Committee in the New Tariff valuation, about to come into operation throughout the Bombay Presidency; with a few memoranda, intended to facilitate the conversions of old weight into new, that may become necessary in Custom House transactions under the new system of valuations mentioned about 16th December 1840.

1 Tola = 180 Grains Troy
80 Tolas = 1 Seer = 14,400
30 Seers = 1 Indian Maund = 576,000

Then as = 7,000 Grains Troy are exactly equal to
1 seer of = 14,400 Grains Troy are exactly equal to 1 md of = 576,000 Grains Troy are exactly equal to

11. Avoirdupois
82 2 7

And it follows therefore,

That 35 Seers are exactly equal to

7 Indian Maunds = wt 57	or	72	lbs	Avoirdupois
49 do = " 36	or	576	"	"
245 do = Tons 9 = " 180	or	4,032	"	"
		20 160	"	"

The following simple and accurate Rules for the conversion of new Indian weight into avoirdupois weight, and vice versa, deducted from the foregoing data, are given in the volume of useful Tables published by Mr. James Prinsep, in Calcutta in 1834, Page 66.

Rule 1. To convert Indian weight into Avoirdupois weight.

1. Multiply the weight in seers by 72 and divide by 35, the result will be the weight in lbs. avoirdupois.

Rule 2. To convert Avoirdupois weight into Indian weight.

1. Multiply the weight in lbs. avoirdupois by 35 and divide by 72, the result will be the weight in Seers.

2. Or, Multiply the weight in cwt. by 49 and divide by 136, the result will be the weight in maunds.

Since the foregoing Memoranda and calculations were made, I have been able to obtain a copy of the Bengal Regulation VII of 1833, on which the new system of Indian weight is founded, and sojoin the following further memoranda, connected therewith, in the belief that they will be found useful at this time.

The first Section of the Regulation in question, after reciting the reasons that render it expedient to adopt the weight and standard of the Furruckabad Rupee (which are the same as that of Madras and Bombay Rupees) in the Calcutta Mint as well as in the Saugor Mint, where they had been introduced as far back as the year 1821 (25, continues as follows. "It is further convenient to introduce the weight of the Furruckabad Rupee as the unit of a general system of weights for Government transactions throughout India, under the Native and well known denomination of the Tola."

And Section IV. in ordering the discontinuance of the use of the Sicea weight of 172,666 grains heretofore employed for the receipt of Bullion at the Calcutta Mint, states that, "in its place the following unit to be called the Tola shall be introduced, which form its immediate connection with the Rupee of the upper Provinces, and of Madras and Bombay, will easily and speedily become universal throughout the British Territories.

NEW WEIGHTS & LIQUID MEASURE.

COMPILED BY THE HONBLE J. B. CRAWFORD, Esq.
LATE ACCOUNTANT GENERAL.

New Indian Weights established in Bengal by Regulation VII of 1833, and adopted by the Government of Bombay, at the recommendation of the Joint Committee in the New Fair Valuation, about to come into operation throughout the Bombay Presidency, with a few memoranda, intended to facilitate the conversion of old weight into new, that may become necessary in Custom House transactions under the new system of valuations mentioned about 10th December 1840.

1 Tola = 180 Grains Troy
50 Tolas = 1 Seer = 11,400
30 Seers = 1 Indian Maund = 5,70,000

Then as = 7,000 Grains Troy are exactly equal to
1 seer of = 11,400 Grains Troy are exactly equal to
1 maund of = 570,000 Grains Troy are exactly equal to

11. Avoidupois

And it follows therefore,

That 35 Seers are exactly equal to

" 7 Indian Maunds = wt. 57

" 19 do = " 36

" 245 do = 1 Tona 9 = " 180

or

11. Avoidupois
72
20,160

The following simple and accurate Rules for the conversion of new Indian weight into avoidupois weight, and vice versa, deduced from the foregoing data are given in the volume of useful Table published by Mr. James Princep, in Calcutta in 1831, Page 66.

Rule 1. To convert Indian weight into Avoidupois weight.

1. Multiply the weight in seers by 72 and divide by 35, the result will be the weight in lbs. avoidupois.

Rule 2. To convert Avoidupois weight into Indian weight.

1. Multiply the weight in lbs. avoidupois by 35 and divide by 72, the result will be the weight in Seers.

2. Or, Multiply the weight in cwt. by 40 and divide by 56, the result will be the weight in maunds.

Since the foregoing Memoranda and calculations were made, I have been able to obtain a copy of the Bengal Regulation VII of 1833, on which the new system of Indian weight is founded, and subjoin the following further memoranda, connected therewith, in the belief that they will be found useful at this time.

The first Section of the Regulation in question, after reciting the reasons that render it expedient to adopt the weight and standard of the Puruckabad Rupee (which are the same as that of Madras and Bombay Rupees) in the Calcutta Mint as well as in the Sasser Mint, where they had been introduced as far back as the year 1824-25, continues as follows: "It is further convenient to introduce the weight of the Puruckabad Rupee as the unit of a general system of weights for Government transactions throughout India, under the Native and well known denomination of the Tola."

And Section IV. in ordering the discontinuance of the use of the Sikka weight of 172,600 grains heretofore employed for the receipt of Bullion to the Calcutta Mint, states that, "in its place the following unit to be called the Tola shall be introduced, which from its immediate connection with the Rupee of the upper Provinces, and of Madras and Bombay, will easily and speedily become universal throughout the British Territories."

The Tola, or Sicca weight to be equal to 1809 Grains Troy and the other denominations of weight to be derived from this unit, according to the following scale.

8 Ruttees	= 1 Masha	= 15 Troy Grains.
12 Masha	= 1 Tola	= 186 ditto.
80 Tolas (or Sicca weight)	= 1 Seer	= 2½ lbs. Troy
40 Seers	= 1 Mun (or Bazar Maund)	100 lbs. Troy.

Mr. James Prinsep says, with reference to the foregoing change, in Pages--62 and 63 of his very useful Tables already alluded to in these memoranda. The Tola is chiefly used in the weighing of the precious metals and Coin; all Bullion at the Mints is received in this denomination, and the Tables of Bullion produce are calculated per 100 tolas. It is also used at the Mints to make the subdivision of the Tola into annas (sixteenths) and pie, in lieu of Mashas and Ruttees.

Mashas, Ruttees, and Dhans are used chiefly by native Goldsmiths and Jewelers. They are also employed in the native valuation by assay of the precious metals; thus 10 Mashas fine, signifies 10-12ths, pure and corresponds to "10 oz. touch," of the English assay report of Silver. There is a closer accordance with the English Gold assay scale, inasmuch as the 96 Ruttees in a Tola exactly represent the 96 Surat grains in the Gold assay pound, and the Dhan the quarter Grain, and the Ruttee, of which eight go to the Masha as the above, is not an exact divisor of the latter weight, the following further Table may not be without use in calculations connected with the conversion of precious metals from the Troy weight of Great Britain, into the Tola weight of India.

1 Ruttee	= Grains Troy 1. 875 decs.--	or 1½ Grains Troy exactly.
2 do	= do. 5 750 "	3½ do.
3 do	= do. 5 625 "	5½ do.
4 do	= do. 7. 500 "	7½ do.
5 do	= do. 9. 375 "	9½ do.
6 do	= do. 11 250 "	11½ do.
7 do	= do. 13 125 "	13½ do.
8 do	= do. 15. "	15 do.

It will be observed, that the preceding observations, whether extracted from the Regulations of Government (VII.) of 1833 Bengal, Mr. Prinsep's Tables, or made by myself, relate chiefly to the Bullion or Mint weights. Speaking on the Tola in connection with Indian weights generally Mr. Prinsep says, Page 61, "The unit of the British Indian ponderary system is called the Tola. It weighs 180 Grains English Troy weight. From it upwards are derived the heavy weights, viz. Chittack, seer, and mun (or Maunds,) and by its subdivision the small or Jeweller's weights, called Mashas, Ruttees, and Dhans.

These last mentioned weights having already been disposed of, it will be sufficient to give the following Table of the larger or Bazar weights

5 Tolas or sicca weight	= 1 Chittack, or Gra. Troy 900
10 Chittack	= 1 Seer or lbs. Troy 2½
40 Seers	= 1 Maund or lbs. Troy 100

and to add with reference to the Chittack that it is the lowest denomination of the Gross weights; and in Bazar transactions is commonly divided into halves and quarters (called in Bengalee Kacha,) thus marking the line between the two series which are otherwise connected by the relation of the seer, &c. to the Tola. (Prinsep's Table Page 62) whilst the Government of India, appear by the Tables prepared by their authority for the transactions of the Commissariat and other public Establishments in Bengal, to have sanctioned the introduction of a smaller denomination of great weight than the Chittack called tenth parts in the Tables in question.

It appears to me, however, that neither of the above subdivisions of the Chittack are so correct in principle, and certainly not more convenient in practice, than the Tola, the unit on which, as observed by Mr. Prinsep, the whole ponderary system of India is founded. In the practice adopted in the Bazar transactions as above subdivisions of one half and one quarter, are not only in themselves fractional parts of Chittack, but represent Tolas and their fractional parts also half a Chittack being equal to two and half Tolas, and the quarter of a Chittack to 1½ Tola and neither of them carries the subdivision so low in actual quantity as the weight represented by the unit itself, whilst in the Transactions of Government though the actual quantity represented by the newly created tenth parts, carries the weight as low as half Tola, it does so by the adoption of weight not recognized in the general dealings of commerce or by law, and as it appears to me without sufficient cause, for a Tola, which is considerably less than half an ounce avoirdupois, is a weight not sufficiently small for the purpose of Government, its transactions may be carried out in the next lower subdivision to Tola, Masha and Ruttees, viz. Grains Troy. But, I believe it will be admitted by mercantile men in general, that the ounce avoirdupois is the lowest denomination of English weight to which recourse need be had in the ordinary operations of commerce, and it therefore seems to me, that the Tola which, as already stated, is not equal to one half that weight, is as low a standard, as need be noticed in Indian mercantile dealings generally, the more especially as the subdivisions of the Tola (Masha and Ruttees and Grains) afford the means of the most minute calculations in retail transactions, as well as in the adjustment of weights connected with the more valuable article of Trade such as Musk, Opium, Silk, &c. &c. &c., and in all dealings indeed where perfect accuracy is considered necessary or desirable

The weights of the several Presidencies of India, Travancore, China, and England compared with the new Indian Maund introduced into Bengal by Regulation VII of 1833, and adopted in the New Tariff valuation above to come into operation under the Bombay Presidency, (10th December 1840.)

Making the proportion between the old Wine Gallon and the Imperial Gallon so early as 10 are to 12, 5 are to 6, that the difference between converting the former description of Gallon into the latter, according to the proportions just quoted, or working the conversion to the greatest nicety of calculation, will, only occasion a difference of 222 decimal parts of an Imperial Gallon (or say, rather more than 1-5th, of an Imperial Gallon) in every one thousand (1000) old Wine Gallons converted as above.

To convert old Wine Gallons, therefore, into Imperial Gallons, we may either multiply by 5 & divide by 6 or deduct 16th, from the number of old Wine Gallons given.

Old Wine Gallons.	Imperial Gallons decs.
For 1000 $\times 10 =$	$10000 \div 12 = 833 \text{ } 333$
1000 $\times 5 =$	$5000 \div 6 = 833 \text{ } 333$
1000 1-16th, or 166666	$= 833 \text{ } 333$

Again, taking the converse of this proportion from the data above given, we have the proportions between the Imperial Gallon and old wine Gallon so nearly as 12 are to 10, or as 6 are to 5, that the difference between converting Imperial Gallons into old Wine Gallons, according to the proportions just quoted, or working the conversion to the greatest nicety of calculation will only occasion a difference of 320 decimal parts of Wine Gallon (or any rather less than one third of such Gallon) in every one thousand (1000) Imperial Gallons converted above.

To convert Imperial Gallons therefore into old Wine Gallons we may either multiply by 12 and divide by 10 or multiply by 6 and divide by 5 or add 1-6th, to the numbers of Imperial Gallons given.

Imperial Gallons.	Old Wine Gallons decs.
For 1000 $\times 12$	$12000 \div 10 = 1200$
1000 $\times 6 =$	$6000 \div 5 = 1200$
1000 1-6th or	$200 = 1200$

Memorandum intended to show the check against fraudulent weights in the Bazar, and elsewhere, which the introduction of the New Indian Maund and its several subdivisions, will prove, where soever adopted, to all classes of the community.

Extract being para 6 of a Report from the Revenue Accountant (Bombay) to Government in the Territorial Department No. 23 of 1839, dated 25th May 1839,

6. It has been stated in the 4th para of this Report, the Revenue Accountant would recommend Indian Maunds, Seers, and Tolas, in preference to his, avoidrupoos, as the weight to be adopted in Opium purchases and sales hereafter and he would now respectfully state, in support of this opinion, that however much maunds differ in their actual weight, and in their several subdivisions in different parts of India, still the maund is a weight familiar to the Native population in every portion of it, and that whilst the Company's or head Rupee, which grains troy, 80 tolus or one Indian

is exactly a tola, or 160 grains troy, enables every individual of the better classes of Society, who may possess eighty Rupees of that coinage or of the Bombay, Madras, and Purnekabad coinage of years immediately preceding the introduction of the head Rupee, to check or establish a standard seer in every part of the country, the proper individual, to whom our Copper currency may be better known, need only possess thirty six annas (or two and quarter Rupees) of the new copper coinage to command the same check against fraud and imposition, as his more fortunate neighbour, the possessor of Rupees; the weight being in both cases grains troy fourteen thousand and four hundred, and therefore equal to one new Indian seer as per margin.

N. B. And further if annas 36 = 1 seer, then 36 annas $4 \times$ annas = $144 \div 12$ rupees in new Copper Currency = 1 seer of the new, Indian weight.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Extracts from the Appendix to the Itinerary of Western India.
By Captain John Clunes.

Throughout India, and particularly the Decan, a very considerable diversity prevails, not merely in every district, but in every village, in measures whether of weight, length or capacity; nor are the subdivisions to be found in a deter-minate proportion of each other. To whatever this may be owing, whether to the want of a common or universal standard in former times, the decay or abrasion of the measures and weights, the knavery of the owners of them, or to the apathy or connivance of the Native district authorities, is probably immaterial, but the present ill defined system must be felt by all the class of buyers as a hardship, and they doubtless would be grateful for any beneficial amendment.

There are three kinds of weights in use in India; the first are for weighing drugs, gold, silver &c.—second for all bulky articles,—and the third, for pearls and precious stones.

Those of the first class seem to be founded on the weight of a Tola through India and the Tola under most Governments, seem to conform with the Rupee, or principal current Coin of accounts. In towns, the weights generally are of Iron or Lead, sometimes in a determinate form, but oftener as a shapeless mass. In many Villages however, the shopkeepers have only ballast stones as weights, which are met with in beds of rivers. Indeed, when great weights are required they are generally made of stones, and under any circumstances, considerable advantage would be derived by the people, were the use of stones as weights prohibited under severe enactments. The table of weights annexed, will shew the great variety of the first class, (and corresponding English weights) which exists throughout western and central India. Nor are the weights at the Presidency less multifarious than they are in the interior. In the following table of the various weights, with which goods are sold in Bombay, it will strike one as a singular incongruity, that varying as those weights do, with almost every variety of goods, and that serving as such they must clog commerce; this system should be submitted to when the fact is known, that actually every article is weighed by one weight, vizt. the English Avoirdupois, afterwards reduced by calculation, into the great variety of local weights, which are merely nominal.

The small weight, commonly called GOLDSMITH'S WEIGHT, is either founded on the Goonj or Ruttee, or the Mustard seed: the Goonj or Ruttee is the small red seed, whether of the white or red species, of the abroa precatorious; these seeds are very uniform in size, and the plant producing them, grows wild all over India. Two seeds, otherwise Goonj, make one Waul, a weight represented by a seed of the Checlur. This weight is further subdivided as follows.

8 Mustard seeds = 1 Barley Corn.

2 Barley Corns = 1 Goonj.

Under different Governments of India, the Tola is composed of different proportions of the Goonj, or of the massa. The Bengal Tola being of 100 Goonj, or 12½ massa, the Malwa Tola of 96 Goonj or 12 massa. The Bombay Tola, of 92 Goonj, or 11½ massa, several districts in the Southern Concan of 92 Goonj or 11½ massa and 96 Goonj or 12 massa. The pice of Kota in Malwa is equal in weight to 18 massa, so that from these we may hope to obtain something approaching to the common weight of the massa or Goonj; the fundamental measures of weight.

The weight of the Bengal Massa, in Troy grains, is 15,353 — being 191.916 troy grains, the weight of a Calcutta Sicca Rupee, divided by 125, gives the number of Massa in one tola. The weight in troy grains of the total in Malwa is 190 Grains; which being divided by 12, (the number of massa is one tola) gives 15.8333 troy grains, for the weight of the massa.

In ascertaining (says Major Sykes) the weight troy of a Goonj, with a Hydrostatic balance, turning with the 10th of a Grain, the results were as follows, 32 Seeds or Goonj weighed 60.5 grains troy — 16 seeds or Goonj weighed 30.5 grains — 8 weighed 15.1, and 56 seeds weighed 105.2 grains, which would give an average weight of 1.914 grains troy for each seed. 96 of these would make total equal to 183.7636 grains troy. But as the Seer weight of 80 Rupees, 13000 grains troy is to consist of 72 tolas, the tola should weigh 191.6666 grain instead of 183.7536, affording sufficient evidence that the tola in use, like every other weight, is below the proper standard.

MEASURE OF CAPACITY.

Whether of measures of capacity in India are derived from those of length, agreeably to the notions of many able theorists in Europe, and in which they are borne out by very ancient writings amongst the Hindoos, or whether they were invented originally merely to save trouble in weighing grains and liquids, is a subject of enquiry for the philosopher. I am much inclined to the latter opinion, as far as regards Western India, from observing that the same denominations refer to the measures of weight as to the measures of capacity, and so relatively to the subdivision. In this case it seems to me highly probable that the Tunka or Tukka, a small silver coin, current during the period of the Mogul supremacy, and in which the Revenue was collected and reckoned throughout the Western Provinces of their Empire, and particularly in the Nizam Shah's Territories, was the foundation of the weights at present in practice throughout the Deccan. Seventy-Two of these Tukkas go to the Seer which makes it nearly similar to the Tola and the now-Tukkas, or una-tukkas is still a measure for liquids in very general use. The Chetak, or 6 tanks, is the 10th part of a seer or weight in the Deccan; but my enquiries regarding the weights that are in use, and not those that have been. The most popular of the actual measures of capacity are the NOTTANK, the SEER the PUNSEEREE, and the ADHOLEE.

DRY MEASURE

The ADHOLEE ---The dry measure, called Adholee of two seers, which is the largest in use in the Deccan, is, in Towns and large villages made of wood turned in a lathe and lackered. It is in form nearly similar to that of an hour glass, and a $\frac{1}{2}$ seer, and $\frac{1}{3}$ seer and $\frac{1}{4}$ seer resemble it in form and lackered. In small villages where the dealers are poorer, these measures are made from large bamboos sawed through at the joint.

The Adholee in the Northern Konkun consists of $3\frac{1}{2}$ and 4 Kutchia seers, and the number of Adholees to the Konkun Maund varies in different towns in the Collectorate from 17 to 24. Where the 4 seer Adholee obtains, there the Maund contains 20 Adholees, and where the Adholee is $3\frac{1}{2}$ seers, there the Maund consists of 24 Adholees, so that the Adholee and not the Maunds, differs; the 17 Adholee Measures, is perhaps confined to Salsettee. The Konkun and Arabic Candy are both in general use in this Collectorate, the first consists of seven maunds the other of eight maunds. The Cattia or Deccan Candy, is also in use and is used for measuring salt.

The large dry measure in Bombay for Salt is the Phara containing.

104 Adholee = 1 Phara.

100 Phara = 1 Anna.

16 Annas = 1 Rash or 40 Tons.

The Phara measure when used, is struck off even with a run by a rod made for the purpose.

The small dry measure for grains is the seer, whereof

4 Seers = 1 Puhalee.

17 Puhalees = 1 Phara.

8 Pharas = 1 Candy.

Batty or rice in the Husk is reckoned by Moora of 25 Pharas.

LIQUID MEASURE

The liquid seer Measure used in Bombay for Spirits, Arrack, and Milk, is equal in weight to 60 Rupees, or 1 lb. 10 oz. 7 dwts 12 grains troy. The maund consist of 10 of these seers, and the seer is subdivided into half seers, quarter seers, and latter into two measures called now-tanks, or nine-tanks tuchka. The measures of Oil, corresponds with the Muid of 28 lb. that is, the contents weigh that, and the contents of the seer consequently weigh 11 oz 4 dwts

LONG MEASURE.

The Measures of length, are the KATHEN, the Guz and the Cubit, the first is only used as a land measure, the other two are most used by artificers, and sometimes used in measuring piece Goods, Clothes, Silks, &c., are not sold by the piece. In most of the provinces under this presidency, the Guz is divided into 20 Tussoo. In Guzerat it measures 27.5 inches, making the cubit of 14 Tussoo, equal to 19.25 inches. At Bombay and in Malabar it is 28 inches, and the Cubit 19.6 inches. In the Deccan, the Doah, the Southern Konkan, Surat, and also in Kutch, the Guz is divided into 24 Tussoo, but of a greater variety of length, and the cubit into 14 tussoo. The Peshwa's Guz, which is in use in the Public Departments at Poona is 33.86 inches. At seven of the principle towns in the Doah the Guz varies from 34.75 inches, to 34.75 inches, and broad cloth velvet elantz, and other articles of Europe Manufacture are measured by it. An average accurately taken at 12 of the chief towns in the Southern Konkan makes the Guz 22.138 inches and the cubit 15.08 inches.

The length of the Cubit however, almost every where, is usually determined by the mean length of five different men's arms, measured from the elbow to end of the middle finger; turbans, &c. are sold by this measure, but it is seldom met without of Surat as a measure, unless with tailors; purchasers usually measure by their own arm's length. The English yard is in common use at Bombay in measuring Europe manufactures, and indeed in many places in the interior.

SUPERFICIAL AND SOLID MEASURES.

SUPERFICIAL measure, for the measurement of land, solid measures for ascertaining the quantity of timber, and many kind of artificers, works, are obtained from the same date as the measure of length.

Artificer's work, superficial measurement throughout Guzerat, Deccan, Konkan, and at the presidency, the reckoning is made by 100 in length, whether Guz, or cubit by one in breadth. This rule applies also to the manufacture of carpets, mats, &c.

Masonry is calculated by the brass, which is 25 cubits in length by one in breadth, and one in height. The cubits in use among Masons in Bombay is 20 inches (being 4 longer than the timber Guz,) so that a brass of Masonry contains 115.74 cubic feet.

Timber is measured by the Guz, and the rule for determining the contents is, by the square of the quarter girt multiplied into the length. A sawyer's Guz, is 32 inches in length, and 9 inches in breadth; 32.988 square inches 2 square feet.

BOMBAY AND CANARA MEASUREMENT OF TIMBER AND PLANK.

TIMBER 20 vissassa = 1 Vassa,

20 Vassa = 1 Covit or Candy

Plank is measured by the Guz of 28 English inches, or 24 Borels, 24 Borels in length, 12 Borels in breadth, and one Borel in thickness, make Guz. A Borel is equal to 1.666 English inches

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information, the following Notification of the Government of India, under date the 17th of January last.

General Department, Fort William, the 17th January 1838.

The Government of India having received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors a copy of a letter addressed by the Servants to the Post Master General in England, to the Hon'ble Court, dated 11th September 1837, from which it appears that in Act (1 Victoria, cap 76) had been passed by the British Parliament for regulating the Postage to be levied on letters transmitted between the United Kingdom and India, by Her Majesty's Mediterranean Packets, the President in Council deems it necessary to publish for general information, the rates of postage established thereby in succession of those establishments by clause XXXIV per Rules for the management of the Post Office Department passed by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council of the 30th August 1837

The following is the order contained in the letter above referred to, to which the Post Master General and Post Masters in the different Presidencies of India, are hereby directed to give attention.

The Act 1st Victoria, Cap. 76, having authorized a Postage of 1s. single, 2s. double, 3s. treble, and 4s. for an ounce weight, and for every quarter of an ounce beyond that weight, the Postage of a single letters upon all letters passing between any Port in the Red Sea, or Persian Gulph, and the East Indies which are not conveyed to or from the United Kingdom by Her Majesty's Mediterranean packets, I am commanded by the Post Master General to request you will move the Court of Directors, to give instructions to their Post Masters India, to demand this rate upon all letters, which shall not be enclosed in the mails despatched from Falmouth for the East Indies, which will be made up in boxes, marked East India Mail from the United Kingdom by Her Majesty's Mediterranean Packets, which the exception of Letters put into the Post Offices of the United Kingdom, which shall be addressed to India, via Marseilles, and upon which as the postage allowed for would have already been paid in this country, no additional rate should be demanded; letters of this description can be easily distinguished from those having the Post mark of the Town in the United Kingdom at which they were posted in addition to the address of via Marseilles. With the exception of these two classes, namely, letters contained in the Mail boxes and those addressed via Marseilles, all letters conveyed to the East Indies by packets, will be liable to the charges in question, which can only be collected by the Company's Post Masters from the persons to whom they are addressed in India.

With respect to the return correspondence, this rate must not be taken in India on either of the two classes of letters before mentioned, whether they shall be simply addressed to the United Kingdom, or passing through it to countries beyond, or whether directed to it via Marseilles, as the Postage can be collected in this country. On all other letters however the rate must be demanded at the time the letter is posted in India as the only means of securing the charge, the Post office having no method of collecting it in the countries to which the letters will be addressed.

Under the above orders, Inland Postage only will be leviable in India on letters arriving from or received for transmission to the United Kingdom via any Port in the Red Sea or Persian Gulph. If letters arrive from, or are addressed to any other place than the United Kingdom so that the Postage will not be liable therein, the following rates will be levied in India, as the place of delivery or of receipt for transmission.

Letters or sealed Packets of any description.
Single.	Double.	Treble
Not exceeding 1 Tola weight.	Not exceeding 1½ Tola weight.	Not exceeding 2½ Tolas weight.
8 Annas	1 Rupee.	1 Rupee 8 Annas	Single postage being added for each additional ½ Tola weight

Note - 8 Annas has been assumed as equal to 1 shilling. A scale according to weight has been substituted for the rule regarding single and double letters for uniformity with the system generally in force in India, and because the Post Masters have not the means of discriminating between single and double sheets, 3 Tolas also have been assumed as equivalent to an ounce.

No ship Postage under Schedule B. Act No. XVII, 1837, will be leviable in India on letters transmitted in the manner provided for in these rules, notwithstanding that they may have been conveyed or may be forwarded between India and the Red Sea or Persian Gulph in sailing vessel.

The orders received hitherto containing no provision in respect to Newspapers, Pamphlets or other unsent packets of printed papers transmitted via the Red Sea, or the Persian Gulph, these will be subjected in India to no charge beyond that of Inland postage duty.

By order of the Hon'ble the President in Council.

NOTIFICATION.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information, the following extract paras. 1st and 2nd of a letter from the Hon'ble Court, No. 35 of the 19th Dec. last.

Extract of a letter from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, in the Public Department—No. 35, of the 19th Dec. 1838.

Para 1st. Complaints have been made in this country of the expense occasioned by the practice of the indiscriminate transmission of letters and packages of the Overland Mail. This is a practice which independent of the private inconvenience which it occasions, has a tendency to impede the public service by overloading the daks, and we desire that in future no letters, or packages be forwarded Overland, unless specially superscribed to be sent by that mode of conveyance.

2d. In adopting the regulation now suggested, it will be proper, in order to avert disappointment, to give publicity to the change of practice.

The Hon'ble the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information the following copy of the Regulation at the Post Office in England, under which the receipt of letters by the Overland Mail for the Hon'ble Company is restricted.

Under the authority of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, the Chairman, Deputy Chairman, Secretary, and Assistant Secretary to the East India Company, have the personal privilege of receiving letters free of postage from the East Indies by packet, via the Mediterranean, but the privilege does not extend to any other Director or officer of the Company.

NOTICE

To prevent mistakes and consequent complaints, it is particularly requested that Gentlemen arriving at the Presidency and subsequently calling at the Post Office, to give instructions about their letters, will not do so verbally, either to the peons, or purvoes, but will leave a written memorandum, stating the name of the station they have come from, and their place of residence in Bombay.

11th November 1840

NOTICE.

Although opposed in the XXIII clause of the rules for the management of the Post Office Department, appended to the Post Office Act, the system of giving credit to parties at the Post Office and interchanging accounts at the end of the month was tried as an experimental measure, but as it has been productive of much inconvenience and great irregularity it is abolished, and the former plan reverted to of requiring immediate payment of postage from this date.

As there still continues to be considerable misapprehension as to the right of parties addressing me as Post Master General, or the Deputy Post Master General in letters either on service or Bearing, on subjects relating to their private affairs, it is hereby notified to all concerned, that such Letters will in future be returned to the senders "Bearing"; this practice being at variance with the LIX clause of the Rules for the management of the Post Office, appended to the Post Office Act, which requires, that all such letters be post paid.

(Signed) E. E. ELLIOTT, P. M. General.

Bombay, General Post Office,
2nd December 1840.

NOTICE.

As it would greatly facilitate the delivery of the Letters on the arrival of an Overland Mail, were less interruption experienced by the Sorters, it is particularly requested, that Gentlemen instead of sending their servants to the Post Office immediately the signal is made, would wait a few hours, as the steamer generally takes three hours from the time she is signalled to come, to an anchor, and fully three more are required to sort the Letters.

The hour of delivery is marked on a board affixed to the door of the Post Office.

3. Letters, &c. for places lying between Bombay and Marseilles, are made up separately, and directed to Cairo, Alexandria, Malta and Marseilles.

NOTIFICATION.

Optional pre payment of Postage on Overland Letters.

1. The Home Authorities having finally determined on the introduction of the scheme for permitting the optional pre-payment of the Postage on Letters passing between the United Kingdom and India via Southampton, it is hereby notified for general information, that the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council has been pleased to fix, as the day on which the new system shall be brought into operation in this Country, the 1st of March next, from which date the several Post Masters throughout India will be prepared to receive, at the option of the sender, Steam Postage on all letters directed to the United Kingdom via Southampton.

2. The following are the British rates of Steam Postage agreed upon by the Lords of the Treasury, and sanctioned by the Government of India, according to which, all letters received "Bearing" from, or despatched "Paid" to the United Kingdom via Southampton will be taxed in addition to the usual Indian Postages, viz :

When not exceeding.....	1	1	Ounce 1 Shilling or 8 annas.
Above 1 oz. and not exceeding..	2	2	do. 2 do. or 1 Rupee.
" 1 do. and not exceeding..	3	3	do. 4 do. or 2 rupees.
" 2 do. and not exceeding..	4	4	do. 6 do. or 3 do.
" 3 do. and not exceeding..	5	5	do. 8 do. or 4 do.

And so on, increasing two Shillings, or one Rupee, for every additional ounce weight or any fraction thereof.

3. As British weights may not be generally available to the Public for calculating the weight of their correspondence, the following scheme for using Coins of the Indian Currency for that purpose, will be found to afford a very close approximation to the Ounce and the half ounce weights.

The half ounce avoirdupois— the weight for a single Steamer Letter— being equal to Grains Troy 218½, and one Rupee and one Copper Pie of the Company's currency being equal to Grains Troy 219½, every person confiding his English correspondence to the weight of these two Coins will be certain of being within the weight prescribed for a single Steamer Letter— The ounce avoirdupois— the weight of a double Steamer Letter—being equal to Grains Troy 437½, and two half anna pieces, and one Copper Pie being equal to Grains 438½, every Letter not exceeding the aggregate weight of three such Coins will, in like manner, be within the weight allowed to a double Steamer Letter.
1 Copper Pie.....	33 333
Grains Troy..	219 ½ 333
Two half anna pieces 43 Grains Troy 200 each 400
1 Copper Pie.....	33 333
Grains Troy..	433 333

4 The Public will bear in mind that this optional pre-payment of the Steam postage applies only to the route via "Southampton" and that letters sent by "Marseillies" cannot be prepaid in this Country. It applies also only to Letters posted in India addressed to the United Kingdom and vice versa, and does not apply to letters posted in, or addressed to places beyond the United Kingdom, i. e. all letters for America, unless addressed to Agents in the United Kingdom, as well as those addressed to the Continent of Europe, if marked "via Southampton," must go "bearing" from this Country.

5 The postage of all letters for the Red Sea, Egypt, the Mediterranean and Foreign Europe, via Marseillies, upon which 9 annas have hitherto been levied as single Postage, (agreeably to the Notification * by the Government of India of 5th June 1839) is to be reduced † from 1st March next to the same scale as the Steam postage on Letters from, and to, the United Kingdom via Southampton.

JOHN GOSDON, Post Master General—

Bombay, General Post Office, 7th February 1841.

HER Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and his Majesty the King of the French, being desirous of making an arrangement for conveying through France the correspondence between Great Britain and the East Indies, have resolved to secure this important result by means of an Additional Convention to the Post Office Convention concluded the 30th March 1836, and have for this purpose named as their Plenipotentiaries, that is to say,

Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland the right Hon'ble Granville Earl Granville, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath, a Peer of the Realm, a Privy Councillor, and Her Britannic Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to His Majesty the King of the French;

And His Majesty the King of the French, the Sieur Napoleon Lannes, Duke of Montebello, a Peer of France, Officer of His Royal Order of the Legion of Honour, Grand Cross of the Order of Isabella the Catholic, His Minister and Secretary of State for Department of Foreign Affairs.

ARTICLE I.

The Government of Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland shall confide to the Post Office of France, upon the conditions expressed in the following Article, the conveyance, in mail-bags or closed boxes, of the correspondence coming from the East Indies, destined for the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and vice versa, whenever the above-mentioned correspondence shall pass through France.

The British Government reserves to itself at all times the right of causing, whenever it shall think proper, the above-mentioned correspondence coming from the East Indies to the United Kingdom, and vice versa, and passing through France, to be conveyed, either between Alexandria and Malta, or between Malta and Marseilles, or between Alexandria and Marseilles, by vessels freighted or employed for that purpose by its orders, or by the packets of the Royal Navy.

ARTICLE II.

Whenever the packets of the Royal British Navy, charged with the correspondence from the East Indies to Great Britain, shall touch at Marseilles, or at any other French port in the Mediterranean, they shall be considered and received in those ports as vessels of war; shall be exempt from all dues of navigation and port charges; and shall enjoy therein all the honours and privileges accorded by the convention of the 14th June 1838, to the vessels of the two States employed in the conveyance of the correspondence between Dover and Calais.

The same immunities, honours, and privileges are secured to the packets of the Royal French Navy in the ports of the Mediterranean subject to the dominion of Her Britannic Majesty.

ARTICLE III.

The French Govt. engages to effect the conveyance of the correspondence designated in the 1st Article of the present additional convention, in the manner following.

1st. Between Alexandria and Marseilles, by steam packets of 160 horse power, belonging to the Government which shall leave Alexandria on the 7th, 17th, and 27th, and Marseilles on the 1st, 11th and 21st of each month.

2nd. Between Marseilles and Calais, by mail coaches starting from both those towns every day.

In the event of any alteration in the days or hours of departure from those two ports, the French Post Office shall give six months before notice thereof to the British Post Office, ARTICLE IV.

The duration of the passage from Alexandria to Marseilles, including the time necessary for the trans-shipment and for the purification, if necessary, for the correspondence at Malta, shall not exceed under uncontrollable circumstances, exceed three hundred and forty-five hours, or fourteen days and nine hours.

The duration of the passage from Marseilles to Alexandria including the time necessary for the trans-shipment of the correspondence at Malta, shall not except under uncontrollable circumstances, exceed three hundred hours, or twelve days and twelve hours.

ARTICLE V

ARTICLE VI.

The mail from the East Indies to Great Britain, or from Great Britain to the East Indies, shall pass through the French territory sealed with the seal of the Post Office of the East India Company or with that of the British Post Office.

An impression of the seal used for sealing the mails coming from the East Indies shall be furnished to, and deposited in the Health Office at Marseilles.

With a view to exempt the correspondence coming from the East Indies from the operation of purification, to which it would otherwise be subjected by the sanitary regulations, the cases destined to contain such correspondence shall be made of plate iron or tin, and shall be hermetically closed; and they shall not have attached to them any substance considered according to the sanitary regulations, as capable of communicating infection.

ARTICLE VII

Whenever cases containing the correspondence of the East Indies, for Great Britain, or of Great Britain for the East Indies, shall be forwarded by the French Post Office, there shall be received, as well in the French Mediterranean packets as in the mail-coaches by which such correspondence shall be conveyed, a place free of charge for a courier of Her Britannic Majesty who shall keep under his special care the dispatches and mails of the Government of Her said Majesty, and who shall have the right to be present at the purification of the correspondence, whenever it shall take place, and, at all other operations to which the correspondence may be subjected.

A free passage shall be likewise allowed to the said courier in the French Post Office packet, established in the channel, whenever he shall think proper to proceed from Calais to Dover by these vessels.

ARTICLE VIII.

The Governor of Her Britannic Majesty engages to deliver to the French Post Office all letters from the East Indies, and from the French possessions in India destined for France, or for countries to which France serves as the channel of communication, and to convey with his own correspondence all such letters destined for the East Indies and for the French possessions in India, as shall be delivered to it by the French Post Office.

The postage of all such letters shall be paid as far as Alexandria by the senders, whether in France or in the East Indies.

It is understood, that no correspondence coming from the East Indies, and destined for the countries to which France serves as the channel of communication, shall be delivered to the French Post Office, unless the senders shall have expressed the intention of sending such correspondence through France, by writing on the address the words, by French Post Office, or, by way of France.

ARTICLE IX.

The Post Office of Great Britain shall pay to the Post Office of France, in satisfaction of all charges of conveyance or transit of the correspondence mentioned in the 1st Article of the present Additional Convention, between Alexandria and Calais, as follows, that is to say:

- 1st. For letters, six francs per ounce British net weight.
- 2nd. For newspapers, printed prices current and other publications which are allowed to pass by post in Great Britain at reduced rates, ten cents. per newspaper, or printed sheet.

The letters shall be weighed, and the newspapers, printed prices current, and above-mentioned publications shall be counted by the Post Office of London, before the departure, or immediately on the arrival of the East Indian mail, and immediately after this operation a statement shall be made out containing the result of such counting and weighing, which shall be sent by the British Post Office to the Post Office of France.

Whenever British packets shall be employed for conveying the correspondence coming from or destined for the French Office, the operations of weighing and counting above prescribed shall be performed by the Post Office at Marseilles, and the result thereof shall be communicated by the French Post Office to the Post Office of the United Kingdom.

ARTICLE X.

The sums accruing to the Post Office of France, in virtue of the preceding article shall be placed to the credit of that office in the general account of the transmission of the correspondence, which is to be made out every month, in conformity with the stipulations of the XIV. Article of the convention of the 30th March 1830.

ARTICLE XI.

It is understood, that if the conveyance of the correspondence mentioned in Article I. of the present additional convention, shall be performed by means of the packets of the Royal Navy of Great Britain, or by vessels which shall be freighted or employed by order of the Government of Her Britannic Majesty, either between Alexandria and Marseilles, or between Marseilles, and Malta, or between Malta and Alexandria, the transit postage on such correspondence to be paid to the Post Office of France, in conformity with the provisions of article IX of the present additional convention, shall be fixed as follows :

2nd. When the correspondence shall have been conveyed by similar vessels only from Alexandria to Malta, or from Malta to Marseilles, and vice versa five francs per ounce British for letters, and ten cents, as fixed by Article IX aforsaid for newspapers, printed prices current, and other above-mentioned publications.

ARTICLE XII.

In like manner, the packets of Her Britannic Majesty which shall perform the passage between Marseilles and Alexandria or Malta, shall convey, in closed bags, the correspondence coming from or destined for the East Indies and the French possessions in India, which shall be delivered to them by the French Post Office, or for that Office, under the conditions hereinafter mentioned, that is to say :—

3rd. And for newspapers, printed prices current, and other publications mentioned in Article IX of the present Additional Convention, at the rate of five cents per newspaper, or per printed sheet.

ARTICLE XIII.

The correspondence mentioned in the preceding Article may be accompanied by a Courier or Agent of the French Post Office, who shall, in such case, enjoy on board the English Packets or vessels which shall be freighted or employed by the English Government, the privileges allowed to the Courier of the British Post Office by Article VII of the present additional convention.

ARTICLE XIV.

The Courier of the British Post Office who shall accompany, on board the French Mediterranean packets, the correspondence of the East Indies for Great Britain, and of Great Britain for the East Indies, may receive or deliver either at Malta, or at any other station at which the said packets shall touch, mail bags from or for Great Britain on the same conditions, and with the same privileges stipulated by the present additional convention, relative to the conveyance of the East Indian correspondence, subject to the operation of the sanitary regulations.

It is however understood, that whenever the above mentioned correspondence coming from Malta, or from the Levant, shall have been purified at the Lazaretto of Malta, it shall not be subjected to any purification on arriving at Marseilles.

As regard to the rates to be paid to the French Office, the stations, on this side of Malta shall be assimilated to Malta, and the stations beyond Malta to Alexandria.

Nevertheless, the two Post Offices of Great Britain and France may, by mutual consent, fix an earlier date for commencing to carry the said Convention into operation.

NOTICE.

Superintendent's Office, Bombay, 14th June 1838.

It having been remarked that letters have been carried on board the Government steamers by passengers, not merely letters of introduction or credit but sealed letters, for which postage should have been paid, the Superintendent therefore directs the attention of Officers commanding the Government Steamers to Article 4th of the rules for the engagement of passages, and directs that the same be brought to the notice of all parties applying for passage, and that they be required to sign the acknowledgment as directed to be forwarded to the Superintendent's office, on arrival at the Presidency.

NOTIFICATION

Notice is hereby given, that Southampton has been made by Her Majesty's Government, the Port of arrival and departure of the Mediterranean and East India Mails instead of Falmouth, all Letters and Packages theretofore from India, which under the Orders hitherto in force, would have been marked for transmission "via Falmouth," should now be addressed "via Southampton."

Cabin passengers have the first choice of seats at the table and after them the saloon passengers in preference to those on the deck whose priority will be arranged, according to their standing on the passage list. The seats will be arranged by the Commander and once taken they cannot be changed without his permission during the voyage.

5. In addition to the Table Money the following sums will be charged for the accommodation engaged by first class passengers, viz.

8. Three lists for each month's Steamer will be kept at the Master Attendant's Office, viz., one for cabin passengers, and one for saloon, and one for deck-passengers. A statement of the number of each class, which each packet is calculated to accommodate, will be open at the same place, to the inspection of the public.

9. Every applicant may register his name in whichever of the lists he pleases but the name of the packet will not be declared until 10 days prior to the appointed day of sailing, when choice of accommodation will be given, according to priority of standing on the lists. Ladies having the preference for the first three cabins.

10. In the event of a greater number of names having been registered than the Steamer when declared, is calculated, to accommodate, the supernumerary names on the cabin lists may be transferred to that of the saloon or the deck, and those of saloon lists to that of the deck, or they may be withdrawn and the deposit repaid, at the option of the parties. In the case of a transfer under this rule, the name will be placed in the same position in which it would have stood by date of registry had the original application been for a saloon or a deck passage instead of a cabin or for a deck instead of for a saloon. Should any of the cabin or saloon berth remain open after the vessel has left the harbour, the saloon, or deck passengers may be allowed to take them on paying into the hands of the Commander the regulated difference of price.

11. Ladies and Children can take passages in cabins only, and female servants cannot be accommodated otherwise than in the cabin engaged for the family they accompany.

12. A passenger who has engaged a cabin may make what arrangement he likes for its occupation; he may either keep it entirely to himself, or admit to share it with any one that he pleases, provided only that the name of the person so admitted (if an adult) must have been previously on one of the lists, and subject to the following restrictions, viz:—

- Two Ladies.
- One Gentleman
- Three Children.
- One Lady and two Children.

Children under 5 years of age may be taken extra to the complement of a cabin on payment of 50 Rupees for each additional.

13. Passages for immediate places can be engaged only when there is accommodation not taken up for the entire voyage, unless the parties are willing to pay the price of the whole voyage, in which case they may register their names in the same manner as all other passengers. The vacant accommodation will be declared three days before the sailing of the Vessel. The passage between Aden and Mocha, and Bombay and Suez respectively will be counted as one half of the whole passage between Bombay and Suez:—between Juda and Suez, will be counted as one-third, and between Juda and Bombay as two-thirds: Cassier and Suez are considered to be alike

14. The engagement of a passage will not be considered valid unless a deposit of the following sums be made at the time of application, viz:—

For a Cabin passage.....	Rs. 300
For a Saloon.....	150
For a Deck.....	125

This deposit, should the party not proceed, will invariably be forfeited, except under the provisions of art. 10, and in cases where, by the production of a Medical Certificate, it is satisfactorily shewn that the person was compelled, by sickness to abandon the passage. A deposit is not required on the registry of the names of children, except when the children are to occupy a cabin, by themselves, in which case the same deposit must be made as for the cabin passage of a lady or gentleman, viz. 300 rupees.

15. To prevent unnecessary trouble, the Master Attendant is authorized to receive and pass receipts for the deposit money.

16. Ten days prior to the appointed day of sailing, each passenger must pay to the Master Attendant the remaining portion of the passage money, in default of which the deposit will be considered forfeited, and any claim to passage invalid. When the cabins are finally allotted, an adjustment will be made with the party or parties to whom they are appropriated, the difference between the value of the place occupied by each individual and the deposit made under article 14 being paid up or returned, as the case may be. When the passage money has been paid up no portion of it can, on any plea be returned, except under the provisions specified in article 14.

17. Persons who from non-arrival at Bombay, may have omitted to pay the balance of the passage money may be re-admitted as passengers, if before the period of departure the balance is paid. They, however, will be placed at the bottom of the list of the class of passengers in which they are registered.

18. No transfer of accommodation in the Steamers by an individual who has taken a passage to one, who has not taken his passage will be permitted, but after the list has been filled up, any person wishing to stand the chance of succeeding to a vacancy caused by a lapse of any kind may do so, by registering his name and paying the required sum which will be refunded to him should no vacancy occur.

19. It is to be understood, that Government reserves to itself the right of appropriating a cabin or cabins for the use of public functionaries or others proceeding on duty or by special order of Government as passengers in any of the Honorable Company's Steamers.

20. Passengers on a Steamer that may from accident or other cause be obliged to return to Port will be entitled to the refund of the amount that has been paid, deducting therefrom a sum for the Table Allowance of the Commander, according to the number of days that the vessel may have been at sea calculating the average time occupied in a voyage to or from Suez to be 18 days, and Aden 10 days.

21. It is necessary for passengers not belonging to the Honorable Company's Service, to make the requisite arrangements at Suez or other intermediate Port with the Commander before or at least at the time of their embarkation for the payment of the passage money.

22. For the convenience of passengers from the Red Sea to India, the Commanders of the Honorable Company's Packets are authorized to receive payment of passage money at Suez or any Port between Suez and Bombay in Sovereigns, Spanish Dollars, or German Crowns, at the following rates of exchange, viz:—Sovereigns at ten Rupees each, Spanish Dollars at Rupees two, and three Annas each, German Crowns at Rupees two and two Annas each.

23. The baggage of such passenger must not exceed four boxes of the following dimensions viz:—

Length.....	2 Feet 5 Inches	and the total weight must not be more
Breadth.....	1 " 5 "	than four cwt. Second class passengers
Depth.....	1 " 3 "	are allowed half the above quantity

24. Each cabin passenger may, if he pleases put all his baggage into his cabin. The saloon and deck passengers will be allowed to keep one box or bag above. The rest of the baggage is to be in the baggage-room and passengers will be allowed access to it twice a week, on a day and hour fixed by the Commander, who will appoint a person to have charge of the baggages.

25. Any applicant may be refused a passage without any cause being assigned either by the authorities at Bombay or by the Commander of the vessel when away from Bombay, but a report of the rejection is to be communicated to Government.

26. All persons who take passage either themselves or through their agents, will be considered as thereby binding themselves to comply with these Rules which will be shown by the Master Attendant or by the Commander of the Vessel to parties who engage passage.

The aggregate population of the globe, according to the foregoing statement, amounts to 829 millions of souls. It may be observed, however, that the number of Jews must be far greater and may be taken at more than eight millions. We have given it at 2,650,000, because that is derived from authentic sources; but these are very uncertain, in Asia and Africa especially. In the same way the number of sunnite Mahomedans may be rated as exceeding the amount above stated by nearly twenty millions—From the Algemeyne Zirkenzictung

RULES FOR THE POSTING OF PALKEE BEARERS.

NOTIFICATION

The following Rules approved by Government respecting the Posting of Palkee Bearers are published for the information of the Public, and for the guidance of the several Post Masters under this Presidency.

1. Travellers may be furnished with Dawk Bearers on application at the different Post Offices, where they will obtain all the requisite information as to the estimated distances between known stations, to which only Dawk bearers can be laid by any Post Master.

11. A set of Dawk Bearers comprises twelve, and one Mussalchee for which is charged, payable in advance, at the rate of eight annas per Mile, but as in many instances, owing to the delay caused by Travellers remaining longer on the road than the stipulated time, this sum is found unequal to the expense, a further sum of four annas per Mile is required to be paid as a deposit to cover any eventual expense or demurrage caused by delay on the part of the Traveller.—Should none occur the full amount of the sum deposited is refunded, upon the Traveller furnishing a certificate from the Deputy Post Master at the place where his journey finished, that he arrived there without having incurred demurrage. It is the duty of the Deputy Post Masters to furnish Travellers with certificates specifying according to circumstances whether or otherwise they had come on demurrage,--such certificate must however be understood, is only applicable to the Deputy Post Master's Division, who grants it, for it sometimes happens that a Traveller having incurred demurrage on part of the road, by travelling subsequently during those hours originally appointed for halting, reaches the last Division within the given time.

N. B. -- It is to be particularly observed, that in some Districts, Bearers are with difficulty procured, and where they have to be sent a considerable distance to take up the Traveller, and in like manner to return home, for time so occupied they are paid additionally, and in all such cases Post Masters are authorized to charge the actual cost for the Travellers Bearers.

III. When it is reported that a Traveller come on demurrage, on any part of the road the adjustment of the amount deposited to cover such expenses will be postponed until the receipt of the bills for the Dāk, from all the Post Masters through whose Divisions the Traveller may have passed.

IV. Travellers whether proceeding from the Presidency, or from Outstations are provided with a Form, in which they are requested particularly to note any cause of dissatisfaction they may meet with on their journey, and the places where they meet with obstructions, or irregularities on the part of the Bearers or Subordinate Post Office Servants, this Form being annexed to the certificate which the Travellers has to present for signature, secures its being noticed.

V. When Dāk has been ordered and circumstances may render it expedient for the Traveller to postpone his journey, or to withdraw the Bearers entirely, he will of course be held liable for any expense which may have been incurred on his account. The amount paid for the Dāk and the amount deposited to cover demurrage will therefore remain unadjusted until reports are received from the General Post Master on the line of route upon which the Dāk was ordered.

VI. Travellers Baggage must not exceed for each Banghy Bardar, twenty-four seers and this must be divided into two Parcels, or Paitaraks of such dimensions as to render them conveniently portable when slung as Banghies.

VII. It is to be generally understood, that although Government permits their servants to lay Dāk Bearers for the convenience of the Public, the State derives no benefit from this source, and that neither Government nor any of their Officers are in any degree responsible to the Traveller for the misfortunes and disappointments which are inseparable from Dāk travelling, thus every Traveller travels at his own risk, and is liable to the losses and increased expenses incidental to delays, and accidents, and that Government can in no instance be considered liable to make good any losses whatever.

VIII. When irregularities and consequent inconvenience occur to Travellers, the Post Master General on being applied to, will immediately investigate the complaint brought to his notice, but this can only be done in the same manner, and to the same end as a superior in any other Department would interfere to enquire into complaints preferred against his subordinates.

IX. In case of surcharge alone, or charges which to the Parties complaining might appear unjust because arising out of some positive neglect, or error on the part of the Deputy Post Master who lays the Dāk, it would be the duty of the Post Master General to investigate the matter with a view to afford pecuniary redress.

X. In every case of refusal to make good demands on account of laying Dāk Bearers, Post Masters are authorized to detain all Letters, Parcels, &c. for the person from whom demands are done in the same manner as is authorized to act under clause IX of the General Rules.

XI. Any decision pronounced by the Post Master General in all references relative to Dāk Bearers, to be considered final.

NOTES ON SPECIAL CASES.

AFFECTING PERSONS INTERESTED

IN

EXCHANGE OF PAPER.—No. 1.

On an application being made by a party to be allowed in lieu of certain Government Notes of the five per cent loan paid off, a similar amount in the new 4 per cent loan, bearing the same date which they would have borne, if a constitutional transfer had been made before the liquidation of the loan, it was ruled that the transfer should take effect only from the day of presentation.

FORCE OF COPIES OF BILLS.—No. 2

Mr. A. B. applied for acceptance of copies of thirds of seven sets of bills drawn on the Government, the originals being on board a ship from China which was overdue; and the first and second supposed to be lost in another vessel.

Acceptance was declined; but Mr. A. B. was informed that the presentation might be noted to give the holder the advantage of time as to date of sight, and that at the proper time payment might be ordered, should there be good reason to believe all the originals lost, upon certificates from the Financial Agents at Canton, and under the guarantee of an established house.

ADMISSION OF LETTERS AS POWER OF ATTORNEY.—No. 3

On an application from Mr. A. B. that certain letters from Mr. C. D. might be admitted as a power of attorney, to enable him to receive the principal of a Govt Promissory Note of 1823, standing in the name of Mr P. P (deceased) Mr C. D. and Mr. A. B (the applicant), his request was complied with under general guarantee.

RECOGNITION OF TRUSTERS ---No. 4.

It has been ruled that no account shall be opened on the Stock Books recognising parties as trustees, and that Promissory Notes and Bills of Exchange, thus describing parties, sh. not be issued.

PROMISSORY NOTES NOT SUSCEPTIBLE OF SEQUESTRATIONS.---No. 5.

On a notice being received from the Sheriff of Calcutta under writ of Sequestration, demanding an account and possession of certain Company's paper, the Accountant General was instructed to reply that Promissory Notes being negotiable securities, the Govt. would be under obligation to pay to the person to whom they might be assigned, and that Govt. held nothing susceptible of sequestration by a notice of the kind received.

TRANSMISSION OF GOVERNMENT PROMISSORY NOTES BY DAK. -No. 6.

Two or three instances having come to light of the abstractions of parcels containing Govt. Promissory notes in course of transit through the Post Office, arrangements have been made to guard against such occurrences, by issuing notes with signatures and numbers in duplicate, to enable them to be divided and forwarded by separate daks, the 2d half after the acknowledgement of the receipt of the first.

INTEREST ---No. 7.

Mr. A. B. claimed the difference between 5 and 6 per cent interest from the 31st December 1834 to the date of declared payment of certain 6 per cent Remittable Notes transferred to 5 per cent loan, and not subsequently to either of the book debts. It appeared that the 6 per cent remittable notes were authorized for discharge in two portions - the notice for the discharge of the first expiring on the 10th of August 1835. The property of Mr. A. B. in one of the two notes, upon which he claimed the difference of interest, was stated to have been acquired on the 22nd March 1836, in the other on the 16th November of the same year. As in both instances his right did not accrue until sometime after all claims to interest at the rate of 6 per cent had ceased, it was ruled by the Home Authorities in concurrence with the opinion of the Advocate General at Calcutta, that Mr. A. B.'s application ought not to be complied with.

INTEREST.---No. 8.

In a case where interest was due on account of stock transferred, the question arose whether the transfer conveyed interest since that last half yearly payment up to the period of transfer. This question was referred to the Advocate General who decided in the negative. The local and Home Governments concurred in that decision.

ADMINISTRATION TO ESTATES.---No. 9.

An application in 1838, from the Governor of Serampore, in connexion with the estate of a deceased native of Denmark, for permission to administrators of estates at that settlement to administer to property situated within the British territories without taking out letters of administration in the Supreme Court was refused, on the ground that the Government had no power to interfere with the process of administration prescribed by law, except by an act of the Legislative Council.

DITTO.---10.

Joykissen Doss was a banker in the city of Benares. By his Will, executed in Aug. 1832, he bequeathed the whole of his property to any son that might be hereafter born to him, and in the event of his having no son, to his daughter, an only child, then in the fourth year of her age, and to his wife, and any wives and grandsons in the female line that he might subsequently have. If his daughter should have a son, such son was to be entitled to the whole property on his attaining his sixteenth year. Certain monthly allowances were to be paid to his wife and daughter, a house was assigned for their residence, and ornaments of a certain value bequeathed to them. The will also appropriated sums for the performance of the testator's obsequies, and those of his wife, for the marriage of his daughter, and for allowances to other parties, as well as a number of directions on various points. To carry into effect the trusts and bequests of the will, the testator appointed the company his attorney and manager, and in the failure of descendants from him, either in the first or second generation, and the death of his wife, the company were to succeed to the entire property, subject to the payment of a monthly allowance to his father, provided he had not received from a certain stipulation, and to the payment on his death of the expense of his funeral rites. By a codicil executed in September 1831, he referred specially to the three Government Agents for the time being, as the officers of the company, who would become charged with the execution of the trusts of his will and the administration of his effects, and provided that if they should decline the duty, the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court should become his Executor. Joykissen Doss died in December 1835, leaving a widow and the daughter above referred to, his only child.

It appears that on the above facts being brought to the notice of Government it called upon its Agents to administer to the will of Joykissen Doss as executors. These gentlemen prayed to be absolved from undertaking this duty; and it was ruled at Home that the functions of an executor to a will formed no part of the duties of Government. Further, that in the case of parties dying intestate, it was necessary indeed that the law should interfere to prevent property being wasted or diverted to improper channels, and this duty has been assigned to a particular officer. But that if the practice were sanctioned of Government undertaking the onerous, difficult, and frequently dangerous office of executor, it was not easy to determine how far it might be carried.

In addition to the general objections, the particular case of Joykissen Doss was upon several special ones. The trusts under the will were numerous and complicated, the property though nominally large, appeared to be scattered in a variety of quarters, and much of it to be not very easily capable of realization. There were large estates upon the ruins which had become insolvent, other large portions were involved in what appeared an almost interminable mass of litigation and much perhaps he further embarrassed by the hostile disposition said to be entertained towards the deceased by his surviving relations. Under such circumstances it was ruled that the Government would be justified in acceding to the request of the Government Agents to be permitted to renounce the executorship. Further that the duty of the Government Agents to execute the will under review did not necessarily appertain to their public character, and its discharge involved personal liability which could not descend to their successors. Other reasons were stated, and ordered from Home against Government taking upon itself in future such cases as that under review.

OMISSION TO ENDORSE BILLS.—No. 11.

Messrs. A. B. and Co. applied to Government for an order for payment of 4 accepted bills for Rs. 50,000, which Capt. C. D. of the ship E. P., by whom they were transmitted had united to endorse. The application was complied with on receiving a guarantee from Messrs. A. B. and Co. to produce a power of attorney from Capt. C. D., and on his letter to the firm being deposited an interim with the Government. It has however been decided that this case is not to form a precedent, and that further and most complete security must be taken in further and similar cases.

RATE OF EXCHANGE FOR H. M.'S SERVICE FOR 1840-41.—No. 12.

The rate of exchange for bills to be drawn in the official year 1840-41, in repayment of advance for the Queen's service in the East Indies has been fixed with the concurrence of the Lord Commissioners of Her M.'s Treasury, at two shillings and one half penny, 2s. 1½d. the C's Rupee.

CONSTRUCTION AS TO AUDITED SALARY BILLS.—No. 13.

On the question whether the Government in the case of its having a claim against the drawer of an audited salary bill would recognize the nonaffide transfer by the endorsement to a third party, it was stated to the Secretary to the Bank of Bengal, that it was the practice of the Government to order retrenchments to be made through the civil auditor, prospectively upon the bills that might be subsequently brought for audit. It was added that the Government could scarcely imagine the case in which it could interfere between the audit and payment of a bill passed to an officer to whom the sum passed was absolutely due at the time of audit.

BANK OF BENGAL POST BILLS.—No. 14.

It has been ruled by Home authorities that Bank Post Bills are to be received at Mofussil Treasuries on precisely the same conditions as Bank Notes.

Government shall also be at liberty to advertise other Notes for payment without waiting for the expiration of pending notices, and to discharge the Notes so subsequently advertised at the expiration of the notice relating to them, notwithstanding the Holders of Notes comprised in prior advertisement may have omitted by themselves, or their Attorneys duly authorised to apply for payment.

CORRECT POSITION OF THE ISLAND.

NOTIFICATION

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, 25th November 1844

The following letter, relative to an error in the position assigned in the Charts to the Lackadives Islands and the Shoals in their vicinity, is published for general information.

No. 199 of 1844.

TO CAPTAIN JOHN PEPPLER,

Acting Superintendent of the Indian Navy

SIR,—I beg to bring to your notice, that on the arrival, report of the Barque "Indoon," on the 8th instant, it is stated that the vessel struck on the Byramore shoal, of the Lackadives, when by her reckoning her Latitude was $12^{\circ} 1'$ North, and Longitude $71^{\circ} 40'$ East of Greenwich, and recently another Vessel, the "Ceylon," bound to this Port, was wrecked on the Christmas Bank, when, by her reckoning, her Latitude was $12^{\circ} 22'$ North, and Longitude $71^{\circ} 51'$ East. In the first case the position of the Vessel would appear to the Commander to be 23 miles to the Westward of the Shoal, and on the second case $18^{\circ} 20'$.

My object in addressing you, is to point out, that the dangers of the Lackadives group, are all placed $18'$ miles of Longitude too much Easterly, on the Chart of the most recent Survey, executed by Captain Moreby of the Indian Navy in 1826, an error which is likely to prove fatal to some ships passing to the Westward of the group and then passage to this Port. In justice to Captain Moreby, I would state, that the error arises from the Longitude of Mangalore Flag Staff at the time of the Survey, being allowed to be $18^{\circ} 18'$ to the Eastward of the correct position, as determined by the grand trigonometrical operations, with reference to the Longitude of Madras Observatory. The first station at the Lackadives, was the Christmas Bank, and the distance between it and Mangalore Flag Staff was determined by Chronometrical measurement, after which all the other Islands and dangers were determined, from the Christmas Bank, consequently the relative bearings and distances of each must be correct, but the erroneous Longitude East of Greenwich affects the whole.

I would beg to suggest, that notice be given to Ship Masters (who may be navigating by that Chart) of the necessity of deducting $18\frac{1}{2}$ miles of Longitude from the positions assigned to the Banks and Islands of the Lackadives, to obtain their correct position.

I have the honor to be, &c

(Signed) DAN: ROSE, Master Attendant.

REGULATIONS FOR THE HARBOUR POLICE.

NOTIFICATION.

The Honorable the Governor in Council having approved of the following Rules for the guidance of the Water Division of Police, in respect to Arab Vessels frequenting this Port, they are published for general information.

Great irregularity appearing to prevail in the arrangements on the departure of Native boats from the harbour of Bombay; the following rules are to be hereafter enforced.

I. All Arab boats arriving in Bombay, not using a Pilot, shall report their arrival at the Police Office, when the names of the crew and passengers, and any extraordinary occurrence which may have happened, will be taken down in writing by the Deputy Superintendent of the Water Division, and a report made to the Senior Magistrate of Police.

II. Two days previous to the departure of the Vessel, the Nacquedah or Tindal shall report to the Police Office, any casualty or other peculiar circumstance which may have occurred on board the Vessel while it has been in the harbour, together with the names of all passengers proceeding in her; this information is, if necessary, to be verified by search under the orders of the Deputy Superintendent of the Water Division.

III. A certificate that this has been duly performed will be given by the Deputy Superintendent of the Water Division, and without which, the certificate from the Senior Magistrate of Police will be withheld.

IV. All boats shall, one day previous to their departure, anchor as near as possible to the Police Hulk in order that they may be overhauled and their crews mustered before leaving the port.

V. In reference to the embarkation of Pilgrims, the following rules will be in future observed.

VI. When an application for a clearance is made by the Nacquedah of the vessel, he will deliver in a list of the intended Pilgrim passengers, an officer of the Water Division will then proceed on board and inspect the vessel, compare the list with the Pilgrims on board, and certify before the Senior Magistrate the state of the vessel, the correctness of the list, &c.

VII. Until this is done no certificate will be granted.

VIII. The officer who proceeds on this duty of inspection, should inspect personally the place allotted to each Pilgrim in the vessel, and to each Pilgrim should be allowed a space of five feet in length, and two and a half feet in breadth.

IX. If the number of Pilgrims be reported by the inspecting Officer as too great, steps should be taken to ensure the removal of the extra portion to some other vessel.

X. Vessels should not be allowed to sail, leaving any of their Pilgrim passengers on shore.

XI. The freight and passage money should also be ascertained and noted down, to prevent imposition, and the food and water provided for the Pilgrims on board, should form a subject of proper enquiry to the inspecting Officer.

Bombay, 4th November, 1844.

AHMEDABAD.—A large and thickly populated city, on the Sahermatty in the province of Guzerat, of which it is the chief town. It is 320 miles from Bombay, 385 from Poona and near 1200 miles from Calcutta. This city was formerly one of great importance and about 300 years constituted the metropolis of a large and independent kingdom. It reached the height of its importance under Mahmood Begra in 1450 but rapidly declined with the growing celebrity of Surat, the European mart of commerce in Western India. The city is pleasantly situated on the banks of the Sahermatty, which falls into the gulf of Cambay about 60 miles below the city, near Cambay the proper port of Guzerat. The inhabitants consist chiefly of Mahanattas, Moslems and Parsees. It is now under the rule of the English. Here are held the Judges Courts for the trial of Civil and Criminal cases. The judges are members of the Company's Civil Service, from whose decision an appeal may be made to the Court of Sudder Dewanee and Foujdrees Adawlut at Bombay. There are several mosques well worthy of inspection. The jugglers of Ahmedabad are as celebrated for the ingenuity of their feats of legerdemain and strength as those of Trichinopoly. Population 100,000.

AHMEDNUGGER.—This is an extensive and important city in the province of Aurungabad and was formerly the capital of one of the sovereignties of the Deccan. It is 63 miles from Poona, 181 from Bombay via Poona, 335 from Hyderabad in the Deccan, 403 from Nagpoor, 1119 from Calcutta and ——— from Madras. The town was commenced in 1493, by Ahmed Nizam Shah, who after the dissolution of the Bhameenuee empire of the Deccan made Aurungabad a kingdom, then called Ahmednugger, the same name as the city, which became the capital. Ahmed died in 1508 and for the succeeding century it had several rulers, none of whom remained at the head of Government for any length of time. In 1634 it merged into the Mogul Empire, under whose dominion it continued until the death of Aurunzebe, when it was seized on by the Maharrattas and continued a part of the Peshwa's possessions, until 1797 when it fell into the hands of Scindia. In 1803 it was taken possession of by the English, under General Sir Arthur Wellesly but restored to the Peshwa on the following year and again reverted to us on the destruction of the Peshwa's power after the battle of Kirkee. The fort is strong: the gaois are reported to be unhealthy—Population.

ASSERGER—This is one of the strongest and best fortified towns in the Bombay Presidency and under the Mahrattas was made so formidable and capable of making resistance, that the name given to it was Assodnagar, the city of Lions. It is situated in a district of the same name, in the province of Bejapoor, about 158 miles from Bombay and 68 S. E. from Poona. It is frequently used as a fortress in which are detained state prisoners whose influence, and means of communication with adversaries it is necessary to prevent.—Population.

AURINGABAD—An extensive and valuable city in the province of the same name, and formerly its capital. It is 281 miles from Bombay, 180 from Poona, 205 from Hyderabad, 647 from Madras and 1022 from Calcutta. This city was originally called Gurka, then a small village, a few miles distant from Dowlatabad the former capital of the Empire. It was the favorite residence of Aurungzebe, during his vice-royalty of the Deccan, and to that prince it owes its name, and subsequent importance. This town continued subsequently to be the capital of the Nizams' Kingdom until they quitted it for Hyderabad, where they were less open to the incursions of the Mahrattas. It now belongs to the presidency of Bombay, and as now viewed presents little of the grandeur it possessed in the palmy days of its founder; the ruins which are the chief remains of its former greatness bear witness of the magnificence of its moslem rulers. A few miles distant is the strong fortress of Dowlatabad and the remarkable caves of Ellora.—Population 60,000.

Postmaster, Mr. Paymaster J. Ralph, (Nizams' Service.)

BELGAUM.—This station forms the Head-Quarters of the Southern Division of the Bombay Army. The town is not extensive, but the general arrangements of the place are not inferior to the towns of the Mahrattas. The Police arrangements are good and the station healthy. Population.

BROACH.—This is an extensive commercial town situated on the north bank of the Nerbudd at the distance of about 20 miles from the sea. It is comprised in the Collectorate of Broach. The town was founded at a very early period, and is supposed to be the Barygaza of the ancients. Notwithstanding the circumstance of the increased trade of Broach, its appearance and general importance is rapidly declining. In 1793 the population amounted to about 80,000; this number was greatly reduced by famine and in 1804 the inhabitants amounted to about 55,000. The town together with the district of Zillah were ceded to the British in 1782. At the period when Broach was besieged, under Sindia, General Wedderburne who commanded the attacking Army was killed under the walls, but the place was taken a few days after that distinguished Officer's death. Broach is 231 miles from Bombay, and 40 from Surat.—Population 40,000.

CAMBAY—This town which is situated at the Upper part of the Gulf of Cambay, was the Sea port of Guzerat during the time, it was a flourishing and independent province. It is now decayed; a great part of the town is in ruins. It is 100 miles distant from Bombay. The principal trade of the town consists in Cotton, Gram, Elephant's teeth and corals called Cambay stones; the two latter are shipped largely to China and the eastward. Here are several native public buildings, Hindoo temples and a small Mahomedan mosque, which for neatness and general beauty, are comparable with the best works of the natives to be found in the cities of British India.—Population

MALINGAVALA—Is a place of no considerable importance in Candesh, but was formerly a stronghold, garrisoned by Arabs. The fort is well and strongly built, and from its proximity to the river Cauis easily defended. The reduction of the fort by the British troops was a work of much toil, the siege was protracted, the sorties of the bold and gallant garrison brave, frequent, and serious, and it was not until the English force had sustained considerable loss of officers and men, that the successful explosion of a mine induced the garrison to surrender. Population.

MAHALESHPUR—The Mahaleshpur Hills, which from the site of the only convalescent station under the Bombay Presidency, are situated in 17dg 56' north latitude and in longitude 73dg 30' east, and are distant twenty-five miles due east from the sea, and sixty nine miles from Bombay, which bears north 29dg. W. They form a portion of the extensive chain of mountains known under the name of the Western Ghats, or Syhadree mountains. On their western side they rise with an abrupt and precipitous ascent from the Concan which separates them from the sea, while their eastern face presents a somewhat less rapid and steep descent into the table land of Deccan.

The general elevation of the station is 4,500 feet above the level of the sea while its highest summit attains an altitude of 4,700 feet. It is elevated upwards of 400 feet above the subjacent country on the Concan side, and about 2,300 feet above the general level of the Deccan at its eastern base. Its greatest breadth at the northern extremity is about 15 miles, and about 8 at its southern boundary. The average direct length north and south does not exceed five miles; through from N. E. to S. W. it extends diagonally seventeen miles.

Excellent roads have been made in almost every direction. These already extend over a space of upwards of forty miles, more than one half of which are carriage-roads, and the remainder bridle-paths, and have been so laid out as to open up to the visitor a varied succession of mountain scenery which for grandeur and beauty, it is believed, can be equalled in few parts of the world.

The soil consists principally of a red clay (formed by the disintegration of cellular ferruginous clay-stone, which constitutes the surface rock), intermixed with the debris of trap rock, and in many places with a considerable proportion of decayed vegetable matter, forming a brown mould, which is found to be very productive. An abundant supply of excellent water is at all seasons procurable, either from wells, which vary from twenty to forty feet in depth, or from the small streamlets which traverse the hills, some of which retain their water during the whole of the hot season. An extensive artificial lake, recently constructed by His Highness the Rajah of Satara, has aided materially to the supply of water already available, whether for cultivation or for domestic use.

The most striking feature in the vegetation of these hills is the protrusion of the common Brake (Pteris Aquilina) which serves to reveal the associations of a more northern climate. A species of Curcuma, the root of which yields an excellent description of Arrowroot, grows every where in the greatest abundance. There is a considerable variety of Parasitic Orchidæ, some of which possess great beauty; and the trunks and branches of many of the trees, are covered with a variety of Lichens and Mushrooms.

Potatoes of excellent quality are cultivated very extensively, both for the consumption of the station, and for the supply of the Bombay and Poona markets. A plentiful supply of all the common culinary vegetables of the best description can be procured at reasonable rates. The excessive heaviness of the rains prevents the successful cultivation of European fruits.

The village of Malacolin Peth, (so named by the Rajah of Satara in honor of the late Sir John Malcolm, the distinguished founder of the station) contains six European shops, where European supplies of almost every description are procurable at the same rates as at Poona, and very little higher than at Bombay. The station is also visited by numerous itinerant hawkers (Bomhs) from Bombay, whose baskets are usually filled with a varied assortment both of European and Indian goods. The Malacolin Peth Bazar is a tolerably large one and is well supplied with all articles of consumption, which are the produce of the country, and generally at moderate rates. The mutton, which is small but of excellent quality, is sold at 14 annas per pound. Perlat 1 anna per lb. Fowls at 3 or 4 annas each. Grain is principally imported from Wye, (a distance of 21 miles,) and is usually about 8 or 10 per cent higher than in the Deccan. Firewood is abundant and cheap; grass is of inferior quality. A monthly market or poor is held on the station, but the information of visitors, but under existing regulations, its observance cannot be enforced on the dealers, though they almost invariably conform to it.

Malacolin is easily accessible both from Bombay and from the principal stations of Deccan and Concan. The visitor from Bombay, by sailing down the coast to Bhamate, and thence up the Sawitree river to Athar (a distance of seventy miles by sea, and thirty by river) is brought within twenty seven miles land journey from the hills; but should he object to even this short sea trip, he can cross the bar from Nagotia (which is effected in one tide) from which the distance by land is only seventy miles, along an excellent road with a public bungalow at each stage. The distance from Poona, by an indifferent hilly route, is seventy miles, and from Satara only thirty miles by a very good carriage-road. The approach both from the Concan and from the Deccan side is at all times safe, as there is no prevailing jungle, and no danger to be apprehended from attacks of fever, or other disease, of malarious origin.

This station was founded by the then Governor of Bombay, Sir John Malcolm, in 1824. It was ceded to the British Government by the Rajah of Satara, in exchange for another village, and was subsequently annexed to the Zillah of the Concan. Its European establishment consist only of a Chaplain and a Medical officer, the former visits Satara once a month, during the fair season; and during the rains he performs the duties of Chaplain at Satara. The Medical officer is also Superintendent of the station, and a first assistant to the Magistrate, and has charge of a subsidiary Jail, as also of a treasure chest for the payment of sick officers and their families. A detachment of fifty sepoys, under the command of a jemadar, is kept up to supply the usual guards.

The public buildings consist of a Sanatorium (containing eight sets of quarters) and five detached Bungalows, for the accommodation of sick officers and their families—a church, which was built by private subscription, and accommodates 120 people—a small subsidiary jail, containing sixty Chinese convicts who are employed in the construction and repair of roads—a chowrie—and a Dhuram callah for native travellers. There is a subscription Library containing upwards of 500 vols., and a Hotel on a small scale was opened in 1843 by Mr. Pascal de Souza.

The private dwelling-houses are 70 in number: of which 53 are substantially built of brown stone and lime, and the remainder of rough stone and mortar surrounded bricks, or wattle-work. The greater number of them are thatched, thus having been found not to resist the monsoon rain. Allotments of ground for building are granted by government, on a twenty one years' lease, the principal provisions of which are, that the lease shall pay an annual rent at the rate of a rupee an acre; that he shall build a substantial bungalow, and erect suitable landmarks on the boundaries of his allotment; that he shall not be permitted to cut down trees which are close to the public road; and that he shall obey all regulations existing in the Mofussil, so far as they are not of a personal nature, but are incidental to the possession of immovable property, and so far also as they affect the health, safety, and convenience of the other inhabitants of the station. The average size of individual allotments granted, during the last three years, is six acres.

The following is a statement of the numbers of visitors of all ages who have resorted to the station, each season, during the last three years.

In 1831-32 visitors 197	In 1834-35 visitors 210.	In 1837-38 visitors 313.
1832-33... .. 168	1835-36... .. 240	1838-39... .. 263.
1833-34... .. 209	1836-37... .. 252	1839-40... .. 307.

It remains to add a brief outline of the Physical & Medical qualities of the climate.

The mean annual temperature of the station is 66 J^o. 2', which approximates very closely to that of the Cape of Good Hope, and of New South Wales, and is nearly identical with the estimated mean temperature of the globe. The following summary embraces the principal particulars of the climate, as deduced from ten years meteorological observations.

Mean Annual Temperature, .. 66 J ^o . 2'	Mean Tem. in the Rainy season, .. 63 J ^o . 8'
Do. daily variation of Temperature 9, .. 8'	Do. Tem. in the Sun at Mid day in

The influence of the climate upon the healthy constitution, constituting what may be termed its physiological action, is stimulant and tonic. In addition to the effects which usually result from a change from a warm to a cool climate in all latitudes and at all elevations an improvement of the appetite and of the digestive and of assimilative functions, and an increase of muscular and mental energy—there are experienced, in greater or less degree, at this station, a peculiar feeling of excitement, and a sense of dryness and constriction of the skin, which appear to be solely attributable to the effect of diminished atmospheric pressure, in exciting the circulating system, and in augmenting cutaneous evaporation. It is the presence of this latter element in the constitution of inter-tropical mountain climates, which emphatically distinguishes them from all other climates whose temperature is the effect of latitude, and which will ever render them inferior in therapeutic efficacy.

The climate of this station is inapplicable, if not positively injurious, in all acute inflammatory affections, in the greater number of organic visceral diseases in Dysentery, and in almost all the varieties of Rheumatism.—On the other hand, it has been found beneficial in uncomplicated Intermittent fevers—in the greater number of functional disorders of the digestive organs—in general debility, Cachexia, and impaired general health (unaccompanied by local disease,) whether the result of long continued exposure to a tropical climate, or of close application to official duty and the sedentary life which usually accompanies it, or of tedious convalescence from acute disease—in a few forms of diarrhoea, such as those which depend on simple relaxation of the exhalant vessels of the bowels, or which occur in persons of a cachectic or strumous diathesis—in some of the slighter and more chronic hepatic and spleen affections, provided they be unaccompanied by any evidence of morbid vascular excitement, general or local—in some varieties of nervous and periodical headaches—in chronic rheumatism, occurring in a debilitated or in a Cachectic state of the system, and unaccompanied by any feverish tendency or by morbid irritability of the bowels—in various Scrofulous affections, and in the precursory or incipient stage of pulmonary phthisis, where there are the usual constitutional indications of the tubercular diathesis; and where the existence of tubercular deposition in the lungs is suspected rather than unequivocally ascertained—in the greater number of the varying modifications of disorder arising from, or co-existent with functional morbid derangement—and in almost all the diseases incidental to infancy and childhood.

The agency of this climate in the preservation of health and the prevention of disease is probably greater and more beneficial than its direct therapeutic efficacy, more particularly in relation to females and children. The practice, which is now so prevalent in the Bombay presidency, of withdrawing children from the pernicious influence of the excessive heat of the low country during the hot season, and of transferring them, during these months, to this temperate and equable climate, has the incalculable beneficial effect of warding off many of the acute attacks incident to childhood, and more especially to the period of dentition; of supporting the energies of their constitution on a more level with the European standard during the first years of their growth, when such constitutional invigoration is of vital importance; and of lessening the liability to future disease and future debility of constitution, to which all children, born and reared for some years in this country, are more or less liable.

Public Buildings on the Mahabulshwur Hills.

1st. The houses erected by Government for the accommodation of sick officers and their families at the convalescent station on the Mahabulshwur hills, are placed under the control and superintendence of the Medical Officer of the station to whom all applications for Quarters are to be addressed officially in writing.

2d. Each applicant is directed to state distinctly the description of quarters he desires to occupy, the period for which he requires them, and whether he is proceeding on medical certificate. These applications will be filed and complied with in the order of their dates, preference being given, however, to the claims of officers on medical certificate, and their sick families.

3d. Officers not on medical certificate, will be permitted to occupy quarters in the Sanitarium, on condition of their being vacated when required for the accommodation of sick officers.

4th. Each applicant will incur the penalty of a month's rent, who may decline on their being offered to him, to occupy such quarters as he may have applied for unless he shall have withdrawn his name from the Roll a month previous to the time at which he had intimated his intention of occupying them.

5th. No house can be hired for a shorter period than one month, and the tenant shall give a fortnight's notice to the Superintendent, of his intention to vacate his quarters under forfeiture of half a month's rent.

6th. No private transfer of quarters by the tenant is permitted, to the prejudice of the regular succession by the Superintendent's List.

7th. Any tenant who does not occupy his house within a month after engaging it shall be considered as having forfeited all further claim to it, provided there is any other applicant on the list.

9th. The amount of Rent due by officers of the Army or Indian Navy, will be deducted from their monthly abstracts by the Public Officers from whom they draw Pay; that due by other persons in the public Service is to be paid in cash to the Officer in charge of the Station, on the first of each month, or deducted by him from the amount of advances on account of Pay made to them from the treasure chest under his charge; and that due by persons not in the public Service, is to be paid in cash in like manner, or by Bill payable in Bombay, in favour of the Officer in charge of the buildings, who will transmit it to the General Pay Master for recovery.

10th. The tenant will be held responsible for all damages or destruction of Quarters by fire or otherwise.

11th. On the first of each month the Superintendent's Native Agent will inspect all the houses, and report any damages that may have taken place, and should thus not be immediately repaired by the tenant, the Government contractor will be directed to repair them at the expense of the tenant, who will not be entitled in such case to object to the contractor's bill, if countersigned by the Superintendent. All disputes between tenants and the contractor regarding petty damages occurring during their occupancy, are to be referred to the Superintendent, to whose decision both parties are to submit.

POONA.—This station is situated 13 deg. 30' north latitude and in longitude 73° 60' each. It is distant about 72 miles from the sea, up to St. Mary's Church. The Country from Bombay to Khundalla is low beneath the Ghauts, or commonly called the Syadree range of mountains whose height is from the sea about 3,000 feet. Although the passage up the Bhoze Ghaut is comparatively easy, and was made by that able and scientific Engineer Captain Hughes under the auspices of Sir John Malcolm's Government; yet these mountain range of Hills on the western side are abrupt, steep and precipitous, leading into the Concan. And on the eastern side you come upon a wide plain which in some places is as high as many parts of the ridge of the Ghats. In general the hills rise to the height of from 1000 to 1500 feet. The road from Panwell to Poona is a good macadamized road. This with the advantage of the establishment of the Phadon for Passengers, two separate firms whose rates are shown in a note below renders it easy. * This rapid conveyance is born for letters and Passengers, a great public benefit, and the most encouraging given to the undertakings in question is a decided proof that their utility for expedition and comfort is appreciated by the public. If the traveller however is averse to this mode of transit, and is desirous of proceeding to the Deccan at an easy pace, a good carriage road with the advantage of a public Bungalow at each stage and the recent establishment of the Victoria Hotel at Khandalla are circumstances likely to render travelling both comfortable and pleasant.

Poona is now daily gaining in importance. The appearance of Kakee from Boregum is very enhancing. When the visitor sees the pretty Houses and systematic ranges of barracks and other public buildings it is a meeting and truly cheering. Then as on nearer approach to Poona, as the visitor proceeds along the Suburban and its picturesque buildings then a residence suggest the idea of being in one of the most beautiful and coolest retreats; a little further and the conspicuous building called the Collector's Cutcherry, which goes by the name of the "Pillah" Adawlat forces itself on the eye. On the right there is a row of large and small buildings, with pretty gardens in front, leading to St. Mary's Church; on the Northern side there is the Military Library—a good one of its kind—can fanning some thousand of volumes, and its building in most of the newly published works and periodicals affords satisfactory evidence of its being liberally supported. On the Western side of the Church is situated a tank which retains water during the whole year. On the Northward of the tank is the Victoria Hotel, lately established by a Mr. Windsor, and on its Southward is the Presbyterian chapel, which by the way, is well adapted for a large congregation, particularly during the residence of a Scottish Regiment. Further on to the Southward of the Church is a row of Barracks for a European Regiment. The road leads as far as Wanotee, nearly a mile South-east from the Chattrah where the Horse Artillery is situated. The officers Bungalows are on a rising ground and many of the staff in Poona reside here. We may remark en passant that the "fever" so much declaimed against by medical men as causing malarious, fevers, &c. has been wholly removed, and substituted by milk-bush and other shrubs as a fence. On the right of the Collector's Cutcherry there is a road leading to the arsenal, where it meets the principal road leading to St. Mary's Church. There is a third road on the right of the last mentioned where one or two commodious and pretty Bungalows have been erected for the purpose of being rented. On the right of the latter is situated the excellent Cutcherry buildings called the Bishops' lodge and Dr. Ducat's Bungalow. These new buildings considerably enhance the appearance of this road, which is called the "Circular road" and leads across the lines of the Engineer Corps to the new Barrack on the easterly side of Poona and near the village of Ghorpuria; thence by the Horse Artillery lines and round a small oblong hillock on the southern side of camp.

The contourment of Poona now wears a most imposing aspect and is daily improving by the erection of fine Bungalows, uniform hedges, good and spacious macadamized roads. The number of new Shops and other Buildings lately erected in the Military Bazar has contributed much to its improvement, and every building that is now erected has a character for permanency and stability.

There are several Shops for European goods. In these shops can be obtained

* 1st. Westonjee.

Per Bangs one Passenger Do. Do 20.

In Poona to Sorabjee Cursetjee Sudder Bazar.

European Articles of every description and often (altho' scarcely credible) cheaper than they are to be had in Bombay. The numerous agent hawkers who come about the Camp sell goods much cheaper than the regular established shopkeepers. The cost of articles of consumption in this town is extremely moderate. Good Mutton is sold from 10 to 12 lbs. per ripple. Beef from 12 to 14 lbs. per ripple. Milk 14 to 15 quants per ripple. Gram 20 to 25 seers (20 lbs.) per ripple. Rice from 12 to 14 seers per ripple, but every Article of consumption can be procured in the city of Poona at a cheap rate, save a few more in grain, and a fowl or two more, but the distance from Camp and a little inconvenient for masters to send their servants so far to avail themselves of the advantages offered. Very little mutton is sold in the city, such as is disposed of is considerably cheaper, but the quality perhaps will not be found to be so good. If however the civil Government of the station were to encourage the establishment of mutton shops on the outskirts of the city of Poona, they, in all probability, would be able to get first rate mutton at prices considerably lower than are given at the Camp Bazar. To the credit of the superintendent of Poona, it may be remarked, that although the articles are cheaper than they can be procured for in the city, they are generally of the first quality. Vegetables are to be had in abundance in the Camp Bazar, but not quite so cheap or fresh as in the city. The common Cabbage, which at one time was a rare article of consumption in Poona, is to be had in the city from 3 to 4 annas a head. Potatoes, of very good description, brought principally from the village of Neergod, and Part in the Khanna and Poonee Districts of Poona, where they have been introduced by Doctor Gibson, are to be had both plentifully and cheap; some Potatoes come to the Poona market from Mulmudeshwar. Many Gentlemen in Bombay get a supply of Potatoes direct from the places mentioned. Fruits of every description are plentiful and in great profusion in Poona. Their enumeration may be annexed to the nomenclature of botanical vision. The Guava, Guinia, Citrus and Mosambique Oranges, The Purple, Indian, Honey-sweet and the common white Grapes, Guavas, Bananas and other Plantains, Peaches, Eggs, Custard-apples, Bull's Heart or "Hacod" and other fruits are to be had in abundance during their respective seasons, and of the very best quality. The Mangoes, Pomeloos and Pine-apple are the only exceptions, such as are grown at Mazagon and other parts contiguous to Bombay are esteemed superior to those that are to be had in Poona, but where persons are desirous of obtaining fruits cheap, they must send their servants early in the morning in a palanquin to the city called "Mundla" situated near the Jogwara, where they will get fruits and vegetables cheap and cheap. They are taken thither for wholesale vending and it is from this place that the Camp market is supplied.

As a knowledge of the individuals who have houses for rent in the Civil limits will be useful to persons resorting to Poona during the rains, then enumeration may not be amiss, viz. Messrs. Smidt, Martmann, Fernandez, Hansen, Akeel, Winkemann, Metcalden, Mrs. Mason. The rents of houses are regulated according to the size, cost, and den and vary from 50 to 200 rupees per month. None are to be had during the rains for a lower rate, excepting such as are on a line with the shops or nearer the city of Poona, and which, from their construction and situation, there is a total absence of that requisite element, air. By recourse to them the object for which a person temporarily locates at Poona is entirely frustrated.

The climate of Poona is acknowledged by the Faculty to be the best for a residence during the monsoon. It is free from that dampness and bleakness which is characteristic of the climate of Bombay during the wet months. The fogs here are not so incessant and season or never continue for any length of time without the intervention of sunshine. Taking the hot, cold and wet months into consideration, there is no climate in India so congenial and salubrious as that of Poona. It is not peculiar for any particular disease, altho' as in all other countries, the inhabitants have their share of the different and innumerable diseases which man is heir to; but often it must be remembered these have been caused by intemperance, folly, carelessness or by an indulgement of the organic laws. To such as strictly maintain the observance of a system reverse to the above, the climate of Poona is likely to agree with the constitution. It does not, at all events, appear dangerous for any particular complaint, altho' it may be necessary in some diseases to resort to colder climates for their perfect cure.

The public Buildings at this station are as follows. The Collectors Cutcherry, Civil Hospital, Judges Residence, Pay Office, Post Office, Police Magistrate's Office. The Arsenal, Commisariat Department, and travellers Bungalow, which is situated in the civil limits and is too small for so large a station as Poona.

For the amusement of the Ladies and Gentlemen at the station the Band plays twice a week; once at Suugum in the Adawlat compound and at other times at a spot marked out between St. Mary's Church and the Horse Artillery lines, where a circular platform is erected for the Band, and for about 30 or 40 feet, the ground is levelled for carriages to drive round it.

The city of Poona since the reign of Shewapye, the founder of the tract of country called the Mahrashtra, has become an important place, and was formerly the capital of the Paishwas. Shewapye, was succeeded by the following chattering-puffs, namely, Sunhujee, Mullarjee and Shano, and then by the Paishwas named Bhalajee Wirsowath, Bajee rao Bullat or otherwise called Bajee rao first Ballajee, Bajee rao or Sana Sahnib, Mahadew rao Bullat or Mahadew rao first, Narrao rao, Mahadew rao, second, and Bajee rao Ragoowath who is now a state prisoner at the Green place called Brannawent on the Banks of the Ganges, near Cawnpore. The city was at one time estimated to contain about 1,10,000 inhabitants, but after the removal of Bajee rao Paishwa with his court and army it lost from a tenth to a fifth. It is now inhabited by various castes, but the Brhammins and Mahattas may be reckoned as forming the majority. The Brammins are divided into two classes, the dishust and konkumst, and are generally employed as caricoms or clerks. The Mahattas hold all the menial situations under Government, such as peons, Jasscoils &c. they also serve private Gentlemen as grooms, dressing boys, and altho' some Mahattas may be seen as table servants, yet they generally consider it a degrading office and spurn even the prospect of a good salary held out to them. Piquinies on this score are rapidly wearing away. The city of Poona may now be considered to contain from 80 to 90,000 souls, and in its vicinity, the camp about 15,000 more, making all about 1,10,000 including Europeans and natives.

It may not be here amiss to give a brief notice of the last Paishwa's reign from grant Dal's History "Bajee rao the eldest son of Ragoowath rao succeeded Mahadew rao Narrao in 1796; after an interval of a year Sana Funnavees who was the Prime minister was his enemy, and was desirous of excluding him from the Peishwasnip, but was afterwards obliged to abandon his design and to aid his elevation to it. The Paishwa was not well disposed towards this able statesman, and in order to get rid of him persuaded Dowlat rao Scindia, to seize his person, and to put him into confinement. It was not long however before he was released and reinstated as minister. He died in 1800 three years after Bajee rao's accession, he left no male issue but his widow is still alive and enjoys an annual pension of Rs. 12,000 per annum from the Government. Sana Funnavees had no equal as a statesman in any of the modern Governments of India. His wise measures it is said preserved the country in a flourishing state during his administration of the Government; so high an opinion did the people entertain of him that when he died it was remarked that the wisdom and moderation of the Mahratta Government had departed with him."

The city lost a great part of its wealth in the plunder of Poona in the beginning of Bajee rao's Peishwasnip. It was occasioned by the Peishwa having promised Dowlatrao Scindia two crores of rupees for his assistance in raising him to power, and having no means of paying, while Scindia required money for his troops; it was mutually agreed between them to extract that sum from the wealthy inhabitants of Poona, many of whom had incalculable sums of money. Various inhuman means were resorted to, to effect this object; and many were even tortured to death to make them give up their money and other valuable property.

The march of Teetwunt rao Holkur upon Poona in 1803 and his victory over Scindia & the Paishwa's united forces in a battle fought in the outskirts of the city led to Bajee rao's flight from it to Rayagad and afterwards to Busseer, where he entered into treaty with the British Government. He concluded the treaty with the British Government even at the sacrifice of his independence, as he was compelled by the necessity of the circumstances to agree to maintain a British force of eight thousand men within his Territory. On this condition the British Government agreed to restore him, and to maintain him against all Foreign enemies. This treaty sealed the downfall of Mahadita independence, and was one of the most important events during the reign of Bajee Rao. It was ratified on the 31st December 1802. The city of Poona was on this occasion plundered by Yeshwant Rao Holkar prior to the restoration of the Peishwah, which event was followed by a state of Peace for 14 years until the final war in 1817 which led to the overthrow of the Peishwah and the supremacy of the British Government.

There is manifest improvement to be seen now in the city of Poona in the construction of good Roads, thro' all the leading thoroughfares, in the erection of conspicuous and neat Chowkies; in the cleanliness of the streets; in the building of uniform shops by private individuals in the principal public streets. The interest shown by Government for the health and happiness of the inhabitants by in these improvements is compensated somewhat by the population having erected some excellent edifices and many old dilapidated buildings have been put in thorough repair, a circumstance quite unusual before. In having moreover contributed in many half the expense for the construction of the "Dhuru" or dharm which is now finished and is called by many of the inhabitants "Nall's Dhuru" on whose recommendation the Government had sanctioned its construction. This Dhuru is situated in the N. W. direction of the city, is a great public benefit, not only for passengers, but in collecting a quantity of water for drinking, washing and other culinary purposes for this portion of the city. The old Sungum Pool or bridge situated in the west end of the city has been removed, it having been considered useless to repair it any longer. It was upwards of 200 Years old. A new one is being constructed under the Superintendence of the road and tank Department which when completed will be a great public benefit, as well as impart an impulse to trade in the traffic from the Mawals and the Maram. Many old and dilapidated houses have been destroyed and new ones erected with the materials but on smaller scale. The houses now erected are seldom more than three stories high, formerly they were erected as high as five stories.

The Joon-warra or the Peishwa's Palace was one of the principal buildings belonging to the Peishwa, both in respect to extent and grandeur; It was built by Bajee Rao, the grand father of he, who is now a state prisoner at Bradnawant; the Builder was a warrior of no small stamp, and it was from having signified himself in some undertaking with Sharnraje of Satara that he was appointed by him Peishwa of Poona. But however valorous or intrepid he might have been, he did not indicate any of the Mahadita craft and cupidity of Sewajee who alone extended the territory of the Mahratta, and left his successors very few countries to subdue. When Bajee Rao, the Builder was erecting this building, and had had got to the height it originally stood, intelligence had in the meantime reached Sharnraje of his design, when he sent word to him to discontinue the work, and think of protecting the people under his care, sword in hand, in the open field; rather than remain sheltered in a huge fortified house where he would be able to display little of his valour or enterprise. This rebuke put a stop to a design which had it been completed would have placed it in competition with any edifice in India, remarkable for extent and altitude; as it stood it was a building of great magnificence, innumerable and gorgeous were the apartments, and the materials were principally if not all of Timber, and of a description and size unequal to what one can possibly conceive. Each beam is estimated by the Natives to have cost Rs.500, but as Natives are in the habit of exaggerating things two or three fold, we should suppose it to be the medium which is Rs. 250. More than this it probably did not cost. The outward appearance of it was so grand and engaging that no one could have mistaken it for any other Building but that which best befitted the residence of Royalty, a splendid and substantial wall like that of a fort environs it, together with two large Gates, the one facing the North and the other the East. It has also 7 Bastions equidistant from each other, and Guns might be located thereon, but very much to the detriment of the houses surrounding. It is not too much to suppose that Guns were fired from them (tho' no certain information can be procured) from their being some light ordnance placed on the top of the North Gate, which has a pretty wide surface on top with a flag extending in a central position. The building stood six stories high, and the sixth story was called the Gunpattas Mahal, whose festival was celebrated there, with much illumination, pomp and grandeur.

A circumstance not less remarkable than grievous to the inhabitants, happened in this Mahal to one Suwahee Mahadaro Nartam Peshwa, a young man of very promising talents, whilst a few of his statesmen were in attendance on him, he at the time was labouring under a paroxysm of fever, when he made a rush and leaped through the window on a cistern close by. Such was the force with which he fell that the pipe of the cistern went through his thigh, and his body was so mangled and disfigured that the poor young Prince did not survive many minutes a life, and notwithstanding the agility of one of his attendants in endeavouring to save him from the fall by laying hold of his garment, it was too fragile to sustain his weight and save him from his impending fate. After the death of his father Nartam no many schemes were in practice by several persons to get the Peshwaship, but it having been discovered that Gangabha his mother was pregnant with him, it put an end to all their plans. But still the question was undecided whether the child would be a male one, on which account they resolved on pretence of carrying her to a place of safety, to convey her to the fort of Pooneendhur, a place about 11 miles from Poona, that in the event of its proving to be a female to substitute a male child. For the furtherance of the design, several Brahmin women in a state of pregnancy are said to have been conveyed into the Fort at the same time; it fortunately however happened to be a male child, which prevented all clandestine proceedings. This is a circumstance quite fresh in the memory of the Natives to this day, and they even say that this Prince reigned before he was born.

As it is not our intention to dwell long on accidental circumstances we shall revert to the Palace again. This Palace was very lofty, its terraces commanded an excellent view of the whole of Poona, its adjacent villages and scenes. Particularly that a shrine, or sacred image of no small eminence, when on top of this edifice appeared at medial height. Its pointed temples interspersed with trees, a few towering over the buildings on the hill afforded gratification and delight seldom to be met with amid the monotony of Indian scenery.—Kutkee, whose plains and rising grounds are memorable for the associations they conjure up both to the English and Natives, afforded an enchanting view when seen from the top of this Building. Bamboorda, a village contiguous to the city of Poona was distinctly visible with its lofty Palms and thick groves of Bamboo trees growing at nature's will, without art or care, and the course of the Moola river impelling its rapid waters between both places, and forming a junction with the river Moola close by, called by the natives "Sungum," opposite to which a famous statesman had his residence during the Poona war. It was then that Sungum should have been viewed in its rich robes, a truly picturesque spot, time and its harrowing influence has made a great change for the worse, away principally to its being robbed of its romantic semblance by cutting down innumerable trees then growing wild, and in their stead erecting public buildings. It is to be regretted that such a metamorphose should have been completed for had it continued in its former state it would have afforded the visitor inexpressible delight. Sungum however cannot be said to be robbed of all its beauty; there is a fragment of it still remaining. Sherabang, situated on the S. W. side of the city can be seen to no small advantage. It is situated at the foot of Parbatty Hill, and is a spot to which many resort as the scene for recreation on native festival days: its beautiful associations attract many a rider early in the morning towards it, and to inhale its fragrant and odoriferous herbs abounding in this enchanted spot. The advantages of the pure air, unobstructed and unobscured by native fumes, and the commanding situation of this edifice must have been a source of pleasure and enjoyment without its alloy to those who in succession got the Peshwaship: and then again to look around its precincts within the walls, on the great number of fountains playing and throwing forth their crystal drops on the water excite feelings of admiration—admirable and possessing as these scenes were and some of them still are, could the visitor wish for any thing more than to gratify his desire by being situated on an eminence of this description, and have the advantage of seeing with one view all the prospects around him—how pleasing, how gratifying these must have been to the princely inhabitants of this once truly magnificent Palace. Envious indeed must have been their situation!

All who may choose to peruse this will regret that a catastrophe should have occurred which has made so fine a building—a large heap of mould! This Palace was consumed by fire in 1827 and the conflagration lasted seven days: every possible exertion was made to extinguish the fire but without avail. Very little timber, a few beams of the lower apartments and some of the adjoining offices where the flames could not extend its ravages, were saved. There are some fragments here and there remaining which will give the curious some idea of its former excellence. The cause which gave rise to the fire is not accurately known: some suppose it to be done by prisoners sent to work there, and others attribute it to accident by having kept a piece of fuel opposite a hearth which took fire. It is generally supposed to have been well done. In 1861 Europeans the natives say it was a visitation from "Eshwan" for depriving Bajee Rao of his County and Palace—the Government had metamorphosed the place into the Civil Jail as being well adapted for the safe custody of Prisoners. It was in contemplation to establish a public Bazar, as well as stationing the Police within the precincts of the walls. This was decidedly a good plan, but why it has been abandoned we cannot account for. In the late improvements made in the City, a room has been erected in each of the Bisons, and originally intended for the different Native Courts on Poona, but this idea would also appear to have been abandoned, as the apartments are now unoccupied.

The Shookerwara was the next in importance. It was five stories high, but it was not quite so perfect in architectural strength and stability: it was therefore deemed expedient by professional Engineers to pull it down, and with the materials St. Mary's Church was erected at Poona. The apartments of this building were somewhat inferior in size to the Shunwarra.

The Boodwarra Palace, or commonly called the Boodwarra, is the only dwelling house of the Peishwas of any significance worth seeing. When Poona was taken by the British Government the upper series of apartments on the third story were not completed; they were subsequently finished by Government under the Superintendence of the Collector. This Palace is three stories high. The 3d floor is occupied by the Fowdar, the Police Officer of the City, and a line with it there is a large and handsome terrace for Promenade. Had it not been for this the Palace situated as it is in the heart of the City and crowded as it is with large Houses would make a comfortable residence. One part of the Palace is occupied by the Police Officer, or commonly called the "Lanah khana" another by the Duvally and City Mamludars canteen. A third portion by an English and two Mahratta Government schools. There are four native Courts held in it for the adjudication of Civil suits: these are the Sudr Amra's Court whose officer is "In the receipt of Rs 300 per month and three Moonsiff Courts, each mooniff being in the receipt of Rs 200 per month. The state property office, or office of the Nazir, also occupies a few rooms of the Palace. The reader will doubtless form some idea of its size by the occupation of so many Courts, schools, canteens, Etc, Etc. The apartments, altho' nothing in comparison to what the Jounwarra was before its destruction by fire, are numerous, tolerably capacious, and constructed on much the same principle as Jounwarra is described to have been. Water near the Palace is in great abundance and nothing can equal its public convenience and comfort, indeed one of the greatest blessings bestowed on this populous City by the Peishwa was the bringing of water from Kutrag water-fall to the City of Poona by an aqueduct, whence it is conveyed by minor pipes to all parts of the City to the different cisterns constructed for the reception of water: these cisterns are generally divided into two, one side is intended for the Brahmins and the other for the Mahrattas and other Hindoos, from which cisterns they take water for drinking and culinary purposes. near these reservoirs men, women and children bathe—The women be it observed perform this office in so chaste a manner as not to expose their persons in any way, but of course to the English idea of modesty public bathing is considered as violating public morals. Mahadeo Row Rastia has also a null or aqueduct which brings water into Poona, in that portion of the City called "Rastia's Pail" (after his own name) from the village called Kondwa "Khond" (or large) situated about 8 miles from Poona—it has minor pipes which extend to the limits of the camp and supply a great portion of the camp people. There is a third "null" called Dama Furunkis null: water is conveyed by it from Wargum, situated at the S. W. direction of Poona, a distance about 5 miles, but these are inferior to the one constructed by one of the Peishwas.

* At a Government building called the "Wisram bar" which belonged to the Peishwa and was erected for the sole purpose of his retreating to from the toils of state cares to refreshment and relaxation such at all events is the acceptance of the word विश्रान्त weeshrant from which the word "Wisram" has been given to it. It is now occupied by the "Sanskrit college" which institution is continued and supported by Government and is under the superintendence of Captain Cundy.

Independent of the Schools above enumerated there are two other schools supported by Government, situated in Shakerwar Pant in a building called Talim Khana. There is a fifth Government school in Rastias Pant and occupies a room within this Sindars premises. Besides the schools supported by Government, there are about 25 other schools in the City of Poona supported by Private Individuals, but the instruction received in them is not quite so good as that obtained in the Government schools, as the Government school masters have undergone a regular and systematic course of studying. There is a missionary school in this City for which a large House is hired in the street called the "Jop Khana" and is well attended by Brahmans and Malnatha Boys. Considerable attention is paid to their instruction by the missionaries at the station.

The Police of the City of Poona was organized in the year 1841. Their strength is 348, having a Pongdar on a salary of Rs. 200, a Deputy on Rs. 50 per month, with a superintendent of Police at the head of both, who is an assistant magistrate. The Pongdar is vested with the highest Judicial Powers allowed a native local Functionary in accordance with Reg. XII, Sec. XIII. His powers are not to exceed ordinary imprisonment without hard labour for a period of 2 months and a fine of 30 Rupees. The Deputy tries no cases but has to go his rounds at night and to make his report in the morning to the superintendent of Police. The cases tried by these functionaries can be either annulled or confirmed by the Magistrate on an appeal being made by the dissatisfied Party, or if the sentence of incarceration in any case be beyond three months. The Magistrate is the highest Judicial authority for the city of Poona and the Districts attached thereto. The Police of this City is generally spoken of as being very efficient and creditable—times would appear to have been diminished considerably since its organization and what appears worthy of remark is that when robberies are perpetrated, those concerned are soon discovered and property seldom or never escapes recovery. Gang robberies, which were heretofore very frequent on account of the wealth of the Inhabitants, never occur now. This is owing mainly to exemplary European supervision.

The Building of Gates to every "Ghullee" or minor street tends more than any thing to the prevention of robbers in dark and dismal lanes without the possibility of detection. Large Gates have also been erected to all the outlets from the City which prevent the easy facility, the robbers hitherto had of making their way out of the City with stolen property.

The trade of Poona has fallen considerably to what it was during the former Governments. Iron and all other Articles of consumption are on the increase owing to the abolition of all Transit and Town duties and all objectionable municipal taxes which has doubtless given trade a fresh stimulus, as nothing could have corrupted the energies of a people naturally apathetic, and thwarted enterprises than taxing trade and tradesmen. Clothes such as Sarries, Doodnates, Pagodas, &c. were manufactured here, but of course to no very great extent; they were principally brought from Nasick and other places; but still the present manufactures bear no proportion to what they were during the native Governments. The Bankers and the Shoofhs have met with considerable losses in their sources of profit from various causes. The stoppage of the Tank-al or Mint of Poona is one. The introduction of the Company's Copper currency is another; and last not least the establishment of the Bombay Bank which precludes the necessity of the public availing themselves of the method of remitting money to different stations in India by Hooondres. The only source of profit left the Bankers now is the lending of money on unexceptionable security, such as on the mortgage of property; little or no value is set on houses and perishable property, money is readily lent on private estates or by the deposit of Jewels equivalent in value to the money lent.

As it may not be uninteresting to know the number of the principal Sindars and men of rank who are residing in this populous and important City, with a brief sketch of their Political character, possessions &c. we shall attempt here to give a conscriptive, account of those only who permanently reside in it. There are many who hold possessions in the Poona districts but do not reside in the City. Of these individuals it is not our intention to speak of, but it may not be irrelevant to remark that of this class some have their Vakeels or Agents in Poona who are their representatives with the Government or its local Officers in all matters connected with their Chieftains. These Sardars being men of high rank, their Agents are treated with consideration and respect by the Government and its local Officers. It is indeed by such courtesy, conciliation and attention to the natives of India that the reputation of the British has risen so high. While on this subject we will here quote a passage from Sir John Malcolm's work on central India which will be useful to a novice entering upon the Civil or Military Service in conducting himself towards the natives of India when posted into the Mofussil. "The people of India must by a recurring sense of benefits have friends made them for the degradation of continuing amenable to foreign masters and this can alone be done by the combined efforts of every individual employed in a station of trust and responsibility to render popular a Government which though not natural, has its foundations laid deep on the principles of toleration, justice and wisdom."

Mahadurao Gungadhar Merichkur, is an independent chieftain whose territories are situated at Belgaum, the revenues of which amount to Rs 1,25,000 per annum. There are several brothers and each possesses a separate estate. The collective value of the estates is supposed to amount to Rupees 11,00,000 per annum. This individual occasionally resides in Poona, and has a ~~worra~~ ^{warra}, situated at Shunwar Palt. The Merichkur or otherwise called the Putwardhams, afforded valuable assistance to the British in their hostilities with Tippoo Sultan when en route to Seringapatam—they are said to be a brave meritorious family.

Ruggonathrao 1st Class Sardar is the son of the late Wittalrao Nursing Veechoorkur, a very great chief, in fact he is one of the chieftains in the Deccan, most of whose Jagheers were of ancient date. He submitted to Sir John Malcolm with the Paishwa. The whole of his personal property was restored to him on the strong recommendation and promises held out to him by Sir John Malcolm. The whole of the father's Surinjam possessions have been continued to his son amounting to Rupees 40,000 per annum, and Government may deem it necessary in its wise policy to continue all, or a good portion of to the next male issue, in order that so great and important a family may not break down or dwindle into insignificance. The present incumbent has a warra in Shunwar Palt, near the Temple of Dhankeshwar: he conducts himself with credit and respectability and keeps up the dignity of his rank.

Eulwontao Mahadeo Rastna, was the grand son of the first British Grantee Mahadeo Rastna; he holds a surinjam of the value of Rupees 60,000 per annum. Rastna's father was the head of a large and respectable family, he left the Paishwa after Colonel Adam's affair. He had sent in overtures to the British troops from the village of Senudeh where he had retired on condition that his personal Jagheer of 60,000 and 20,000 Rupees more from his former Jagheer in the Carnatic should be restored to him. It would appear he was unjustly and without any good cause deprived of his Jagheer by the Paishwa: it was restored to him in opposition to that prince's wishes by a clause in the treaty of Poona. He joined the Paishwa in the beginning of the war and gave no proof of attachment to the British Government until the Paishwa's flight in the direction of Chanda, where it seems he endeavoured to supersede Appa Sahib the Paishwa's brother, to throw himself on the liberality of the British Government; it was indeed owing principally to his persuasion that Appa Sahib did come in at a late period. He was friendly to the British during the war, and from his having conducted himself with great respect towards Government whose system he never liked, every personal consideration was shewn to him by the British Government. Mr Riphinston states that his son is more respected than any Chief in the Deccan, and is personally worthy of consideration himself. His palace at Poona was occupied on the capture of the City by part of the British troops to the loss of a large portion of the family archives. His son is to this day highly respected by the inhabitants and acts towards the Government with great attachment and fidelity. The surinjam enjoyed by this chieftain will it is believed be continued to his direct line for nine generations. There is very little of the family property left, at all events the present family would appear to be worth nothing in available cash. The Peshwa was indebted in large sums to the present incumbent's father on account of money which he had lent the state, which circumstance caused Rastia himself to incur debts, a portion of which, as his means permitted, his son repaid.

Ramrao Tribnuck is a Sardar of the first class and by the death of his cousin Abha Poorundherry he became the head and representative of the Poorundherry family, and to be one of the greatest celebrities in the Deccan. Mr. Warden, Deputy Agent, in speaking of this family states "that its rise is exactly coeval with the circumstance by which the person holding the Office of Peshwa obtained that influence which enabled his successor to usurp the royal authority and which ultimately led to the imprisonment of the hereditary sovereign of the country."

The first Poorundherry named Ambjee Punt Poorundherry was deewan to the Peshwa Baji Rao Visootath, when he was nominated to that Office in A. D. 1713 by His Highness the Rajah of Satara and married also from the Rajah of Satara the title and authority of mooabk, a personal seragam of about Rupees 17,000 was also referred upon him. His son Mahadojee Punt succeeded him: he was attached to the Peshwas Baji Rao, Balaji and Baji Rao Baje Rao. During the administration of the latter he voluntarily resigned his Office and retired on a pension of Rs. 20,000 and an additional personal surinjam of a lakh of rupees per annum. He was then succeeded by his son Nolkunt Rao who on dying a muzzor or peasant was allowed to adopt Nolkunt Rao Mahadeo commonly called Abha Poorundherry who held a portion of the Punt surinjam of his father, which amounted to a little better than 2 lacs of rupees, and a personal surinjam of about 40,000 Rs. per annum.

This individual having been a particular and intimate friend and favorite of Baje Rao, possessed great influence with him and other men of rank in Poona. He is well known by the people of the Deccan and is highly respected by them: he is supposed to have had considerable influence in the Councils of the state. In all the dangers and disasters which befell the Peshwa he was a steadfast and faithful adherent to the last, and hence it is said that he and his dependants followed the fortunes of their King. He accompanied Baje Rao in his flight and was with him when he resigned his royal authority to Sir John Malcolm. This great and noble adherent on the resignation of the Peshwa transferred his allegiance to the British power and retired to Sassoon on a personal seragam of 50,000 Rupees per annum. On Abha Poorundherry finding his health declining, overtaken by age and infirmities and being childless he applied to Government in the year 1825 to allow him to adopt a son who should succeed to the surinjam that had been granted him. The Government at that time merely sanctioned the adoption without continuing the surinjam. This sardar deferred the adoption till he was taken seriously ill and on the point of death, but his creditors and dependants having falsely represented that the adoption received the sanction of one or two members of the civil service when Mr. Liphinstone ordered the sequestration of the estate which had legally lapsed to Government but for this circumstance occurring the resignation in all probability would not have taken place. This accession however entailed considerable hardship and poverty to the adopted son, but on a strong recommendation from the Bombay Government in the year 1832 to the Court of Directors, a surinjam to the annual value of Rs. 25,000 has been lately continued to the adopted son Ramrao Tribnuck from the date of Abha Poorundherry's death. During some portion of the year he resides in his large and well fortified warra at Sassoon near which his villages are situated and the other portion of the year in his warra in Punt Kasha at Poona. This being one of the first families of the Deccan, Government may in its wisdom and policy continue the surinjam to the next male issue.

Chimrajeo rao Wittul is a first class sardar and is the son of the late Wittul rao Mullar Poorundherry. He is one branch of the Poorundherry family just described, but branch of the family is said to be poor and in embarrassed circumstances. The father was deprived by the Nizam's Government, notwithstanding the urgent recommendations of the Bombay Government in his behalf, of a surinjam yielding Rs 11,000 per annum. This circumstance threw the family into great distress and was a great blow to them upon 1860. The father's conduct for loyalty and peaceable demeanor has given his son, the present incumbent, favor and consideration with Government and he is in the enjoyment of a surinjam valued at Rs. 1725 1/2 per annum.

Hurree Hur Punditoot Tatia Maharaj, a Sardar of the first class. His ancestors were the Guridar Priest of the Kolapoor Rajah. They were clever men and had a knowledge of Sanskrit and the "Waydant" or theological doctrines. They indulge in abstract and speculative monotheoretical worship and deny the actual existence of a material universe, but the education of the present incumbent was not much cultivated in any of the sciences above described. He possesses an Ewa estate of the value of Rs 60,000 per annum, is a very respectable man, and resides in his own warra in Sidasew Patt near Kallawarra.

Sheonam Kargeewalla is the nephew of the first British-Guaratee Amundrow Sewajee, possesses a surinjam of nearly Rs. 1700 per annum. He is a Sardar of the 1st class, is the descendant of a great family, and consequently well known by the names of the Deccan. He lives in his own warra in Sookerwar and Boodwar Patts.

Balla Krishna Thattay is a sirdar of the first class. He was the Brother-in-law of the first Peshwa but one, and consequently must be treated with consideration and respect: we are only surprised that his surinjam amounts to the small sum of Rs 567 per annum. He is a warra near the Boodwar Palace.

Venik Chintaman Deshmuk is a 2nd class sirdar and received his personal Jagheer at the recommendation of Baccaro in accordance with his agreement with Sir John Malcolm. He has a warra in Sookerwar Patt.

Mulla rao Bage Mankeshwar is a 2nd class sirdar and is the Brother of Sidasew Mankeshwar, who was the Peshwa's la e minister, whose adopted son inherited his property and who after a very short illness died last year, on which occasion a surinjam of Rs. 5000 per annum reverted to Government. It is said that his brother was plundered by the Peshwa, he is supposed to have left some treasure and some cash and jewels which were given to him by individuals and foreign states. The long pending dispute between Luxman rao and Mulla rao Mankeshwar respecting some family property was ultimately decided by the Queen in Council in favor of the latter. This circumstance nearly ruined Luxman rao in the expenses attendant in law suits and his then liquidation his property was attached by Government. The subject of the present notice enjoys a small surinjam of Rs. 1400 per annum but the dispute which his brothers adopted having been decided in his favor will no doubt enable him to live comfortably. He has at the present day one of the largest warras in Poona not excluding the Boodwar warra otherwise called the Peshwa's Palace, in which he has placed called the "Ayee Mahal" or Hall of Mirrors which when illuminated has a grand effect and is worth seeing; many Ladies and Gentlemen resort to his place for this purpose.

Baccarjee Junaidann Attowley is an old Rajah Chief and a 2nd class sirdar and is on the enjoyment of an annual surinjam of Rs 4730. He has a warra in Narran Patt.

Ramchunder Pandorung Bhodhar, a 3rd class sirdar. He is the son of the late Anna Dhumdhary who with the present incumbent, his son joined the British but afterwards returned to the Peshwa's Camp to bring his brother, but is said to have been detained by the Peshwa. This personal Jagheer amounting to Rs. 14,493 has been continued to him at the recommendation of Sir John Malcolm.

The Sirdars above mentioned are those most in note but there are many others together with many Political Prisoners residing in this celebrated city, once the seat of the former Government. As a list of the Sirdars and the amount of their annual revenues cannot fail to afford interest, annexed are the details.

The town is but indifferently built, and possesses scarce any thing remarkable. It is an important post so near to the Nizams' Territories of which the greater portion formerly constituted a part.—Population

SURAT.—Is a large city on the Taptee about 20 miles from the Sea, 38 from Broach, and 231 from Bombay. It was formerly the principal town in the Sagar of the same name, which extended to Mahim and Bassein, and subsequently became the great emporium of British India. It has since decayed, owing to the prosperity of its rival Bombay, to which place the seat of Government was removed. Surat was formerly one of the largest cities in India ; it is now dwindled into an insignificant place, which but for the Cotton grown in the neighbourhood, known at Surat staple, the city would be comparatively unknown. The two powerful elements, fire and water, have greatly accelerated the decline of Sur. Within the last ten years, a disastrous fire made more than one half the town a heap of ruins ; the overflowing of the Taptee inundated, and destroyed such of the lower town that escaped the flames. These casualties have not been repaired, the ruins extend some miles and form the dwelling place of Jackals, vulture dogs, rats, snakes, squmrels, and an amount of filth and vermin sufficient to contaminate and destroy a great part of the Population.

In consequence of the river being in some places shallow large ships cannot proceed so far as the town, or even vessels of 200 tons receive the whole of their cargo, to complete their freight they anchor just off the mouth of the river and the Cotton is conveyed to them in boats. Cotton staple is the chief article of export but this is now chiefly sent down to Bandray in boats of from 50 to 120 tons burthen. Surat still possesses a small direct trade with Arabia and the Malay Archipelago, which consists principally of Cotton and piece goods made at Surat, when at one time supplied the place of Europe goods both in the East and West. The buildings at Surat although mostly now in ruins bear ample testimony to the greatness of the city, when the emporium of Western India. In 1612, the English factory was established, and five years afterwards the Dutch also possessed a factory. The French likewise obtained a firman for the erection of a factory, but their trade was invariably a losing concern owing in great part to the operations of their English and Dutch rivals and the want of capital for their investments. The French factory is partly in ruins ; the Dutch factory is used as English Offices and a section of it made into the Traveller's Bungalow. The Port of Surat is a small but neat and secure, near the verge of the river, and equidistant from the Dutch and French factories.—Population 130,000.

TANNAU.—This is a town the capital of the Island of Salsette and the seat of a Collectorate of the same name. Here is a small but strong fortress in which the state prisoners are kept whose crimes or personal importance have not secured them location north of the holy river. Christina. Formerly a strong military force was stationed here in order to repel any incursions of the Mahatras from the province of Aurangabad. This is no longer necessary. The neighbouring country is much infested by robbers, whose principal booty is generally opium in his transit from Malwa to Bombay, and whatever wealth the industrious classes on the island are enabled to accumulate. To suppress these outrages a corps has been formed called the Faniah Rangers, to whose activity and carefulness the inhabitants bear grateful testimony. The town of Tanna is 23 miles from Bombay, it is straggling, ill built and not extensive. There are several Portuguese churches. Population 8,500.

VINGORIA.—This station is situated in the extreme south of the Rutnaghery Zillah,—and is distant from Bombay about 275 miles,—The Head land by which the anchorage-ground (for Coasting craft) is formed, is called 'Beacon seen, from a vessel's deck, in clear weather, about ten miles off.

The little "Bay of Vingoria" is completely sheltered from every point of the compass, the south alone excepted,—When it blows fresh from that quarter (a rare occurrence, and always of short duration,) the little tenders make a fair wind of it, and run to "Malwan," (18 miles north) where they remain until the wind changes. The roadstead of Vingoria is also, good. Vessels of any burthen may be, within three miles of the shore, and receive or discharge cargo, with as much ease, and as little inconvenience, of any sort, as at any other place of commercial resort.

There are about eighty boats at all times available to carry goods. The trade of Vingoria is chiefly confined to the staple,—Cotton. This article is exported to Bombay, during eight months of the year, in large quantities. The value of this branch of the revenue has increased, in the last three years, twelvefold.
The total amount of collections, on imports and exports, for the official year
1842-43, may be estimated, in round numbers, at Rs. 65,000

The Custom House is situated close to the beach, but owing to the tediousness of a shallow back-water communication, which is wholly under tidal influence, much delay, and inconvenience, in the transaction of business, are experienced. A good pier has long been a desideratum, and is much wanted at Vingorla. Considering that it is the very "Gateway" of the high road to the Southern Mahratta Country, through which Troops, Treasure, and valuable stores, of every description, are constantly being passed, and that the place, itself, is evidently, making rapid strides toward commercial importance, it certainly does seem strange, that something has not yet been done, by way of improving it, as a landing and shipping Port. It remains, however, to this day, literally, as nature left it.

The group of small Islands, about eight miles West of this place, commonly designated the Vingorla Rocks, yield a small revenue to Government, owing to the famous "Birds'-nests," so highly prized as an edible, by the Chinese, being found upon them. The Rocks produce about one hundred weight of nests, annually.

The Village of Vingorla may contain about 5,000 inhabitants, has a tolerably good Bazaar and locates between twenty and thirty native merchants. These are yearly increasing. There are, likewise, a commissariat, and three private agents in the place.

The "Travellers' bungalow" (which is now an excellent, and commodious building, having lately been thoroughly repaired, and improved) is conveniently situated, within five minutes walk of the landing-place. The only other public premises are, a small house, occupied by the store sergeant, and a sort of semi-Fort, known as the "Factory." It is a large, and very strong building, having three tiers of spacious apartments. The lowest are used as depositories for Treasure, and arsenal stores. It is surrounded by a high, loop holed wall, at each of the four angles of which there is a small bastion, capable of mounting six guns, a pair of strong Gates, with a small moat, three quarters round, complete the defences. The open space between the wall, and the building itself, is fitted up with extensive sheds.

The "camp", which was formerly a large and regular cantonment, is eligibly situated about two miles from the Village, occupying a fine circular plain, about three miles in diametrical extent, and bounded by a belt of hills, verdant all the year round. Here the military out-post, which usually consists of 150 men (which, by the way, is too weak for the general duties, and character of the surrounding country,) under the command of a captain, and Subaltern, the medical officer (who is, generally, an apothecary) and assistant Collector of Sea-Customs, (when the latter is not on circuit,) reside. The public buildings at the camp comprise, a fine stone built Hospital, or Barrack, capable of accommodating from forty to fifty persons, with good out-houses, and a well attached; a small native hospital, Magazine, and a guard-room, all well built, and regularly kept in repair, by Government. The "Lines," and officer's quarters, are temporary buildings only. There are but four substantial private houses. Eight regiments could, with ease, encamp on the plain, without at all incommoding one another. The place, generally, is extremely healthy, and would, there can be little doubt, make an excellent convalescent station. Rheumatic complaints, in particular, it is known, instantly yield to the genial influences of its climate. Cholera, small-pox and fever, so prevalent in the the Konkun, generally, seldom visit Vingorla, and when cases do occur, they are very mild, and few in number.

General Eastern Directory.

This Section comprises the Governments, Trade, Commerce, Government Officers, Bankers, Merchants, &c. &c. at the following places eastward of Bombay.

Bengal; North-West Provinces; Madras; Ceylon; Tenasserim Provinces; Singapore; Prince of Wales' Island; Hongkong; China; Manila; New South Wales; Sydney and Port Phillip; Van Dieman's Land. and Foreign settlements in the East.

THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL.

Governor General.--Lieut. General the Right Hon. Sir Henry Hardinge Bart., G. C. B.

Commander-in-Chief.--Lieut. General Sir Hugh Gough, Bart., G. C. B.

Situation.--This extensive presidency or Bengal proper is situated between the 21st and 27th deg. N. lat. and 86th and 92nd deg. E. Long. On the N. and E. is Nepaul, Thibet, and Ava, and on the West the Presidency limits extend as far as Beloochistan, since the newly conquered country of Scinde is reckoned a part of the Bengal Presidency.

Country.--Greatly diversified by lofty mountains and plains, fruitful, valleys, and level ground. The soil of Bengal produces every thing requisite to sustain life. Population of Bengal proper, was in 1838, 29,710,061. The Presidency of Bengal contains 306,012 square miles.

Government.--The Governor General is nominated by the Court of Directors subject to the approbation of the Crown. This exalted functionary is generally aided by a Supreme Council and the Commander-in-Chief, and assisted in matters of jurisprudence by a Legislative Council appointed by the Court.

Products.--Rice, Indigo, Silk, Cotton, Opium, Ivory, Tobacco and various kinds of drugs; also Sugar, Hemp and flax in abundance.

CALCUTTA.--The capital or seat of Government is situated on the W. branch of the Hoogly 100 miles distant from the sea, 1300 miles East of Bombay, 950 South East of Agra, 1060 South East of Delhi and 1030 North of Madras. It is the great emporium of British India whence resort ships of all nations. The appearance in approaching from the river is very magnificent and sufficient to entitle the metropolis to the term by which it is generally distinguished "The city of palaces". The town is about six miles in length but very irregular in breadth. The houses of the English and the wealthy Baboos are very elegant: a few of the streets are wide but for the most part they are narrow and crooked. The fashionable part of the city is called Chowringhee; the mercantile part of the city, is comprised between Chandpaul Ghaut and the mint. The city is surrounded by a circumvallation designated the Mahatta Ditch.

The tanks are numerous and well supplied with good water; they are annually replenished from the periodical rains.

On the East bank of the river, at the end of the Esplanade and about a quarter of a mile below the city, is Fort William, a magnificent work in the form of an octagon, but so large as to require an extensive garrison for its defence. It is sufficiently capacious to accommodate the whole Christian population of the town. The works are stated to have cost two millions sterling. The garrison usually consists of one or two Regiments, a complement of Artillery and a number of artificers employed in the arsenal.

On the Western side stands the palace or residence of the Governor erected by the late Marquis Wellesley whilst Governor General. One hundred and forty thousand pounds sterling were expended in the erection. Captain Wyatt of the Bengal Engineers was the architect.

For the administration of justice there is Supreme Court and Courts of Appeal from circuit or Mofussil Courts of law and Criminal justice; several Police Offices, and other municipal establishments.

Calcutta contains several Colleges, Literary and Scientific associations, amongst which may be enumerated, Bishop's College, La Martiniere, Hindoo College, Madressa, Sanscrit College, Asiatic Society, Lyceum, public library and several private seminaries and foundations. The public buildings are not numerous but neat and some very creditable; of these we may mention, Government house, Ochterlony monument, Bishop's College, Town Hall, La Martiniere, Metcalfe Hall and St John's Cathedral.

Like every other place in India the population has not been correctly ascertained, for as the Government does not impose a poll tax the mere ascertaining of the number of inhabitants is regarded with indifference. A census was attempted by Captain Birch, superintendent of Police in 1837, which set down the population at only 229,705, of which 144,893 were males and 84,812 females. A few years subsequently Captain Buch took an account of the number of persons who entered the town every day from 4 A. M., to 11 P. M. which amounted to 177,000.

The periodical Literature is ably conducted and very liberally supported. There are several daily, bi-weekly, and weekly journals devoted to intelligence, secular and religious knowledge. There has lately appeared a quarterly Indian Review on the plan of the "Foreign Quarterly" which in point of literary merit and typographical appearance is unsurpassed by the "giant quarterlies" at home. There are also several annual publications, including the valuable "guide and directory" of Messrs Rushton.

THE PRESIDENCY OF MADRAS.

Governor & Commander in Chief—Lieut. Gen. The most Noble George, Marquis of Tweeddale K. T. & C.B. arrived in India Sept. 21, 1812

Country.—Is Bounded on the E. by the Bay of Bengal, on the W. by the Maldives and Lacadives and Arabian sea, on the S. by the Indian Ocean. It includes several Provinces, the Chief part of which are entirely in our own possession. The soil and country is very diversified, but less productive than Bengal. It comprises 1,192,3 square miles and 13,508,531 inhabitants.

Government.—The head of the Government is appointed by the East India Company subject to the approval of the Crown. The executive consists of the governor and three members of Council, one of whom is generally Commander in Chief of the Forces. The members of Council, are selected from the Civil Service of more than twelve years standing and are changed every five years. The other departments of the executive consist of four Boards which embrace Trade, Commerce, Revenue, Education, Military and Medical. The Government in political and revenue matters is subordinate to the government of India.

Products—Rice, Tobacco, Cotton, Spices, Drugs, Pepper, &c.

MADRAS.—The Capital or seat of Government of the Presidency of the same name is a large city on the Coromandel coast. It is 770 miles S.E. of Bombay and 1030 miles S. of Calcutta. The commerce of Madras is inconsiderable compared with that of Calcutta and Bombay. The approach to the city from the sea is sterile, as the shores extending to the N. and S. are low flat and sandy, and in the rear of the city, inland, are several small hills, which impart a barren aspect rather deceptive, as on closer inspection a more favourable opinion is formed. The beach, on which is erected the public offices and storehouses presents an animated scene. Within a few yards of the sea are the fortifications of Fort St. George, in which are most of the military offices of government.

The appearance of Madras is widely different to Calcutta or Bombay as the European part of the town is small, the respectable part of the community live in handsome residences from two to ten miles distant and repair daily to the town for transacting business.

Madras is an open roadstead with generally a heavy swell and surf. The boats used for communicating with the shipping are called Massoula boats, and are made of thin planks of tamarind wood sewed together, having over the seams some straw instead of caulking: thus constructed they yield to the waves and the sandy beach like leather. When the weather is very unsettled or boisterous, a flag is hoisted in front of the master attendant's office and at such times these boats are interdicted from quitting the beach. At such seasons communication is kept up betwixt the shipping in the roads and the shore by means of catamarans, which consist of two or three logs of wood secured together. These are also used during fair weather for the purpose of conveying fishermen, &c. to the duties of their avocation and are occasionally seen at a distance of eight miles from the shore.

Fort St. George is a strong and handsome fortress, originally planned by Rohine, the celebrated engineer. It is not so extensive as Fort William at Calcutta, but superior to Fort George at Bombay; and as it is situated so near the Sea it possesses natural advantages and requires but a moderate garrison. In the centre of Fort St. George is the original fort first erected but at present converted into Government offices. To the southward stands the Church of St. Mary; to the N. the old exchange on which in 1792 a lighthouse was constructed but since demolished, and a new one has been erected on the esplanade near the Beach.

The inhabitants of the city of Madras are within the jurisdiction of H. M's. Supreme Court of Judicature, which consists of a Chief Justice and Punes Judge. The practitioners of the Court consist of nine barristers and fourteen attorneys inclusive of those who hold situations connected with the Court. There is also a Police Office and a well regulated Police establishment.

The public buildings are few, but are very neat and interesting in their appearance. Of these may be enumerated the offices, of the Board of Trade and Custom House, which are elegant and commodious. The Banquet-Hall is a neat erection, as also the Madras University and Medical College. The Cathedral of St. Thomas and Vepery church are worthy of mention. By far the handsomest ecclesiastical building at Madras is the Scotch Church dedicated to St. Andrew; for beauty and elegance of internal structure and architectural ornaments it scarcely possesses its equal in Europe. It cost, the writer believes, about three lakhs of rupees or £10,000: the cenotaph on the Mount Road, to the memory of the Marquis Cornwallis, is worthy of remark and cost a large sum of money.

The residence of the Governor is a spacious dwelling stationed on the edge of the Esplanade, on the Choultry Plain, and near it are Chepauk Gardens and palace, the residence of the Nawab of Carnatic. The Governor has also a handsome residence at Gumty, a few miles from Madras.

There are several charitable institutions to which the European residents subscribe handsomely. These consist of the military male and female Orphan Asylum, Protestant charity school, Vepery male and female schools, Native Education Society, Bishop Cornie's Grammar school; Mount Road male and female schools, St. Andrew's Parochial school, Friend in Need Society, Mangegar Choultry, philanthropic association, &c.

There are several Societies for the cultivation of various branches of science and literature; the published transactions of these associations bear ample evidence of their usefulness and the amount of valuable information they contain from time to time, afford agreeable leisure to their writers and convey interesting information to the reader.

The native inhabitants consist chiefly of Hindoos who speak the Malabar and Telegoo languages. The native town is large and thickly populated, the streets in general clean and regular and partake of the usual characteristics of native towns. There are several Hindoo Pagodas and Mahomedan mosques.

The population of Madras consists of about 8,000 Europeans, and East Indians and 500,000 Natives.

HYDERABAD.—Is a large and handsome city, the metropolis of the Nizam's dominions and the Head Quarters of the Subsidiary force belonging to the Nizam. The city is large and the public buildings elegant, it is in fact a fair specimen of a Mahomedan city. No European is permitted to reside in the city, or indeed can he safely pass through it without an escort, owing to the insulting language and acts of the baser part of the population, and the weakness of the Government. Insurrections are of daily occurrence but not of great extent owing to the presence of a large military force without the city. Hyderabad possesses but few articles of industry, save silks wrought with gold and silver thread, and native fire arms made chiefly by Hindoos. The Mahomedan population are sunk in debauchery, gaming, and even more pernicious vices. The harem of the Nizam is guarded by a body of Amazons clothed and armed as sepoys. Owing to the dissipation of the prince, the affairs are left wholly to his minister, who would soon destroy the integrity of the country but for the constant interference of the English resident. The office of the latter is one of great importance and is the most valuable staff appointment in the Madras Presidency. The gentleman, who now holds the post of Resident is Major General Frazer, through whose prudence and resolution the affairs of the Nizam are conducted.—Population

KAMPTEN.—This a town, situated nine miles distant from Nagpore and forms the Head Quarters of the army, or subsidized force of the Rajah of Nagpore. Kampten was selected on account of the superior advantages it offered for the accommodation of the Force, which consists of a Brigade of the Madras army. The river Canaan which passes near the town affords a constant supply of good water, which is of great importance as rain falls but during two months of the year. The cantonment, which owes its origin to Mr. now Sir Richard Jenkins, a former resident, is bounded by the Canaan and possesses good accommodation for the officers and troops, which consist of about six thousand.—Population.

Military Residents.—	Brigadier Perry; Captain John Grimes Assistant Adjt. Gen.; Captain C. P. Wilder, Assist. Qr. Mr. Master General; Captain Aug. Russell, Acting do.; Superintending Surgeon John Morton.

NAGPORE.—This is a large city, the capital of Berar. The Rajah once held a prominent position amongst the princes of India, but is now much reduced in power and importance. The city of Nagpore is about five miles in circumference. The walls and defences are not strong although they appear to have been designed to offer a protracted residence, but were unfinished. Within the city there are two palaces; one occupied by the Paramount Rajah and the other by the (Ghond) Rajah whose family originally possessed the sovereignty. The new palace is small, but neat and decorated with the usual Hindoo embellishments in plaster. The streets of the town are narrow and dirty, the houses mean and low. Nagpore possesses a considerable transit trade; there are also manufactured here some Silk and Cotton Goods, Native Military Arms, and superior Cutlery. Without the city are some pretty gardens, belonging to the Rajah and the wealthy inhabitants.—Population.

OOTACAMUND.—The principal station at the Neilgherry Hills, and is situated nearly in the centre of the table-land of Mysore about 10 miles from the southern edge of the range and 7 from the northern,—immediately at the base and on the western side of Doddabetta, and is open only towards the W. N. W. ; the other three sides being completely sheltered by this mountain. Its elevation is 7400 feet above the level of the sea, and it is the best locality amongst the other stations.

It has decidedly the most perfectly European climate of any in these hills and is less affected by the changes of monsoons, rains, &c. than any other which arises from its forming the line of separation between the north east Madras monsoon, and the north west Malabar monsoon.

SECUNDERABAD.—This place and Bolaram form the stations where the British troops and the Nizam's contingent are located, in consequence of not being allowed a place within the city of Hyderabad. The force consists of about 12 thousand men, and the whole is kept in a state of great efficiency by English officers, who are allowed to enter the service of the Nizam by permission of the Governor General. Formerly several officers were not belonging to the Company's Army but latterly a more stringent policy has been adopted : the Nizam's officers have been pensioned, officers in H. M.'s service not allowed to enter, and every officer permitted to enter the service of the Nizam is retained on the corps to which he belonged. It is therefore looked upon as a staff appointment, and of course places the entire force in our hands, or at our mercy by withdrawing the officers and rendering the force useless.—Population.

Situation and Extent.—Is situated in the Indian Ocean, separated from the continent of Asia by the gulf of Manwar which divides India from Ceylon. It contains 19,469 square miles; Population 2,000,000.

Climate.—The monsoons give variety to its climate, which is on the whole mild and healthy; although near the equator, the heat is more moderate than on the continent; it enjoys almost uninterrupted seabreezes; Nuwera Ellis near Candy is the Sanatorium of Ceylon and is a cool and delightful place.

Produce.—Gold, silver, lead, tin, iron, and salt; about twenty kinds of precious stones. All the tropical fruits grow wild. The chief production of the island are cinnamon and Coffee.

COLOMBO.—The capital and seat of Government is a good sea port on the S. W. part of the island. The town is regularly built more in the European style than any place in India, Goa excepted. The Fort is large and strong and well defended by nature and art. The harbour is an open roadstead which affords safe anchorage from December to April and sometimes till the end of May, when the southwest monsoon sets in on the Malabar Coast, blowing violently on the

W. coast of Ceylon. The town is undergoing several improvements. The public buildings are very few but built in a plain Dutch style which contrasts with the general wildness of the surrounding scenery ; Population 65,000.

Abstract of the Revenue of Singapore for the official year 1043-44.

There is an increase of the Excise farms of Rs. 62,156 ;--Quit rent nearly, Rs.
2,000 ;--Fees from the Court of Judicature Rs. 8,114 ; Do. from Court of Requests
Rs. 1,310 ;--Registry of vessels Rs. 656. There is a decrease on,--Amount of land sold on Building leases of Rs. 58,376 ;--Transfer Fees, of about Rs. 400 ;--Premium of Bills of Exchange, &c Rs. 7,635. The Post office Office is nearly the same as last year.

There is an increase on the whole revenue of Rs. 6,033.

The proper local disbursements were less last year than in the previous year by Rs. 22,504, so that there is a very considerable surplus this year. It is true that on adding the Military and Convict establishment there is an apparent deficit of some Rs. 25,000, but this does not exist in reality, as will be shown by the following :

Amount of Expenses for Troops.....	318,038
Deduct--estimated Expense of Regiment stationed here for service in China, which will fall to be repaid to this Government.....	173,672

True Expenditure for Troops.....	144,358
Add Observatory, &c.....	18,862

Total Military Expenditure.....	163,358
Add Convicts.....	48,107

211,525

There is therefore, deduct in this Rs. 211,425 from the excess of Receipts shown in B of Rs. 259,349, an actual surplus of Rs. 47,914--which ought to be increased by the expenses of the Convicts being borne by the respective presidencies from which they are sent, and by the expenses of the Magnetic Observatory being taken from our local revenues. Were these deductions made and also some Rs. 100,000 more for useless, or easily to be dispensed with offices,--such as Governor, Registrar of the Court of Judicature, &c. Singapore would be enabled to exhibit such a balance sheet as had never before been produced by any British Colony. As it is, it strikingly exhibits the advantages arising in Singapore from the free and unfettered nature of the trade and government, having from a desert island arisen into a settlement with population paying excise duties to the amount of more than three lacs of rupees, besides the large revenue derived from the lands, litigation, &c --- Free Press. August 1.

NEW SOUTH WALES

Governor. Sir George Gipps, G. C. B.

Division. There are two districts, Sydney and Port Phillip, having one Government and Legislative assembly held at Sydney.

SYDNEY. This is the metropolis of the colony of New South Wales. It is situated on a cove on the S side of Port Jackson; the water is of sufficient depth to admit the largest vessels to approach to the quays. The harbour is safe, unchange good, and ships protected from the wind. The streets of Sydney are irregular and the houses scattered. It contains several public institutions, including a Society of arts, and supports a theatre and numerous publications. Population 15,000.

Bankers. Bank of Australia.

Merchants and Agents J. H. Williams & co.

PORT PHILLIP DISTRICT.

Her Majesty's Superintendent. C. J. La Trobe.

MELBOURNE. The Chief town of Port Phillip is on the opposite shore to Launceston, Van Dieman's Land, from which it is about 16 hours sail. A regular communication is kept up with Launceston, &c. by steamers. The district contains 200,000 acres purchased from the native chiefs Jagajaga, Corooluck and others in 1835, in consideration of 20 pairs of blankets, 30 tomahawks, 700 knives, 30 pairs of scissors, the same number of looking glasses, 200 handkerchiefs 100 lbs of flour and 6 sheets. In 1835 the population numbered 50 and a live stock of 100 head of Cattle and 1400 sheep. In less than two years a regular town was built with several commodious Hotels, two Banks and three or four Churches. The commercial and domestic importance and progress of the colony will be best seen by reference to the amount of Customs and Wool produce which certainly exhibits a stride without example.

1837.....	£2,979	1835, stock of sheep.... 1,400
1838.....	6,731	1837, exports of wool.. 175,081
1839.....	11,475	1838, " " 320,393

		1841, " " 1,578,351

Such is the present forward state of the colony that a Steamer, the Shamrock, runs from Port Phillip to Launceston and Sydney at regular periods. The following extract from an official document exhibits the station of Port Phillip in 1843 compared with Van Dieman's Land in 1824.

VAN DIEMAN'S LAND.

Lieutenant Governor.—Sir J. Eardley Wilmot.

Situation and Extent.—Van Diemen's Land is an island of the South Pacific lying between the 41st and 44th degrees of south latitude, and 144th and 148th degrees of east longitude. It is not quite so large as Ireland. It was discovered by a Dutch navigator, named Tasman, in 1642, and by him obtained its present inharmonious appellation, in compliment of Van Diemen, the then governor of the Dutch East Indies. For a length of time it was erroneously conjectured to form a portion of the mainland of New Holland. Indeed, there are many, otherwise informed persons, who conceive Hobart Town and Sydney (although eight hundred miles apart) to be towns of one colony, and perfectly contiguous to each other.

HOBART TOWN --The metropolis of the settlement owes its selection to Colonel Collins and dates the commencement of its history from February 1804, at which period it was founded with the view of forming a depository of refractory criminals, and a grain depot.

FOREIGN SETTLEMENTS IN THE EAST.

FRENCH COLONIAL POSSESSIONS IN INDIA.

Governor General and Commander-in-Chief.

PONDICHERRY --This is a neat and pretty town, situated on the Coromandel coast, about 90 miles south of Madras. It is the capital of the French establishments, and for order and cleanliness it surpasses any of the English settlements. The town is divided into the white and black sections; the separation being made by an artificial river with an extensive quay on each side, and two rows of poplar trees. The streets are wide and clean, the houses built with such regularity that every residence participates in the genial influence of the sea breeze. The Government house is a small but handsome residence occupying one side of the esplanade. The Cour Royale also occupies one side of the quadrangle called the Esplanade, and near the beach is a fine lighthouse and six pieces of cannon. The surrounding country, included in the settlement, is laid out in rice, indigo and sugar plantations. A fair amount of trade is carried on with Bourbon and France. Population 80,214; consisting of 759 Europeans, 851 gens de couleur, and 78,568 natives.

General Western Directory.

This list comprises the governments, commerce and trade, government officers, Bankers, Merchants, Consuls, &c. &c. to the westward of Bombay in the following order.

SCINDE. Mauritius; Bourbon; Cape of good Hope, East coast of Africa; Aden; Egypt, Barbary; Algiers; Ottoman Empire, Turkey in Asia, Turkey in Europe; Persia; Muscat; Gibraltar, Malta; Ionian Islands; Greece and Grecian Archipelago; Spain; Portugal; Germany; France; Prussia; Switzerland; Austria; Bavaria; Italy; Sardinia; Tuscany; Roman States; Two Sicilies; Venetian Lombardy, Holland; Russia; Hanseatic Towns, Hamburgh, Lubeck and Bremen; Belgium; Denmark; Sweden and Norway; Great Britain, England; Scotland; Ireland; Channel Islands, Jersey, Guernsey; English possessions in America; west India, United States, Mexico, Brazil.

SCINDE.

Governor and Com. in chief.--Major General Sir C. J. Napier, G. C. B.

Acquisition.--This is one of the recent acquisitions to the British territories in the East. The Government was formerly in the hands of the Amceers, who were dethroned and are now prisoners in Bengal. The territory comprises Upper and Lower Scinde, it is under the Bengal Government but chiefly garrisoned by Bombay Troops.

HYDRABAD.--The Native capital of the province is situated on the Pallahs branch of the river Indus. The fortress stands on a rocky hill. There are several manufactures of common ware, as tiles, swords, pottery, &c. but the trade of the place is chiefly in the hands of Hindoos. Population 20,000.

Officer Commanding..... Major General Simpson R.M. 29th Foot

Postmaster.....

Superintendent of Police..... Captain E. Baynes 20th Bo N I

Bankers and Merchants..... Jait Singh, Mohun Debbachaud.

SHIKARPOOR.--Is a large open town, inhabited principally by wealthy Hindoo bankers--indeed one of them, by name Jait Sing, and the wealthiest of his class, has potentates in almost all the large cities in Asia; and the great influence these extensive connections naturally obtained for him in Central Asia, proved not a little beneficial to him when the army of the Indus was encamped at this place and when it was considered good policy to expend money, no matter how, in the most lavish manner possible, with a view to give the Afghans, whose country we were about to invade, a splendid idea of our great wealth and munificence.

In the hot season of the year Shikarpoor is about the most disagreeable place in the world. From sunrise to sunset it is enveloped in a dense cloud of dust which make its way into every crevice.

Post master.

Lieut. of Police.--Capt. J. Tait, 6th B. N. I.

Bankers and Merchants.--Jait Sing; Mohun Sing.

SUKKER.--or Sukker Bukker, is a very remarkable position on the right bank of the Indus, and must have been a place of great importance during the early period of Mahomedan rule in this country. The Indus here winding its way through an undulating country, has a large circular island in its centre and high banks on both sides of its broad and noble stream. On the island is a strong fort, which completely commands the river on either side. This fort, which is called Bukkur, and Sukker which is close to it, may be considered the strongest and best position for an army on the Indus. At present it is the head-quarters of a strong brigade, and the connecting point of India, Upper and Lower Scinde, Bulloochistan, and Afghanistan South.

The position chosen for the troops is rather unconnected, and, in a political point of view, open to serious objections.

Magistrate and Collector.--Capt. F. Wells

Postmaster.

Bankers and Merchants.--Jait Sing

Table by Lt. H. A. Drought, I. N., shewing the daily or monthly line of Boats on the Indus, and time of passage from Sukkur to Unnas.

[illegible]

Products Sugar, Ebony, Coffee and Indigo.

Name.—The Dutch gave it its present name from Maurice, Prince of Orange. The French took possession of the island in 1721 and called it the Isle of France.

PORT LOUIS The Capital of the island is a seaport, and except during the S. W. monsoon not an unsafe harbour. It has the character of being an expensive place. There are two good hotels at which the charges are very high. The surrounding country is romantic, presenting every variety, where the waterfalls, the cane covered valley and the steep, craggy, and most shrouded mountain mingle in happy combination. In the town every one walks about with the same indifferent regard for the sun's influence as in Europe. The houses are well built and the streets clean and regular.

Country. The southern extremity of Africa formerly belonging to the Dutch but now an English colony. The soil is generally barren.

Climate. Temperate and healthy. It has long been a sanatorium for the European residents in India, who resort hither in search of health. The deep and bright blue sky is rather painful to the eyes and injurious to the sight.

CAPE TOWN.—The capital of the colony is on the W. side of Table Bay immediately at the foot of the mountain called Table mountain. The town is regularly built, parallel streets intersecting each other at right angles, many of which are shaded with trees. The town is divided into 12 districts and is under municipal regulations; each district has 4 wards, the ward masters being chosen by the inhabitants. One of the principal duties of the ward masters is the classification and appraisement of landed property in Cape Town. The town is abundantly supplied with water by means of pipes. On the left of the town (entering from the Bay) stands the castle, a strong fortification commanding the anchorage. Here are also other works of defence as the Royge-Bay, Amsterdamm, Charonne and the Monville. At the latter place a lighthouse has been erected in which a French lenticular light of the 4th order is in use, the old light still exists at Green Point. The Police are a body of men organized upon the principle of the London Police and are considered very efficient. There are several buildings for religious purposes. The established Dutch Church is Calvinistic; St. George's (Episcopalian) is a handsome edifice, and in the Scotch church gas light has been lately introduced at night services by the present pastor the Rev. Mr. McGregor. A Roman Catholic Church of Gothic construction has just been completed. There is also a small Mahomedan mosque. The secular buildings worthy of notice are few. Of these may be mentioned the commercial Hall on the grand parade containing apartments for public meetings, the Library and Exchange (the Library contains about 30,000 volumes.) The buildings occupied for transacting the affairs of government are near to each other at the top of the Herengracht. In the government gardens is situated the residence of the Governor and a college for public education—the latter is recent erection. Near the Royal Observatory, a magnetic observatory has been erected, where a series of observations are carried on—these were lately under the direction of captain Eardly Wilmot of the Royal Artillery. At Veldhuisen, near the showy and pleasant village of Claremont, an obelisk has lately been erected in memory of Sir John Herschel's scientific visit and residence at the colony. Wine, the chief exports of the Cape, are the product of the division of Stellenbosch especially the Puul, Drakenstein and Wagenmakers valley. Considerable quantities of wool, hides, skins, horns, horses, ivory, whalebone, provisions and various other articles are exported. The imports consist of Woollens, Cottons, Hardware, &c. Piece Goods and Timber are imported from India, tea from China, Sugar from Mauritius and India, and Coffee from Rio and Batavia. One particular commercial usage must not be forgotten. Sale of goods privately or by commission is a practice unknown at the Cape. The mode of disposing of products raw and manufactured is by public sale. Hence there are weekly sales or fairs on the parade ground, every Saturday. At this emporium there assembles every week a great number of persons and every description of goods are exposed for sale at Auction stalls. Population 22,500. (last census.)

ALGOA BAY.—The seaport of the Port Elizabeth district and of the whole eastern province. The town has sprung up since the arrival of the English settlers in 1820. In the year just mentioned the late Sir R. H. Dunkin caused a small cenotaph to be erected here in memory of his deceased lady and named the village Port Elizabeth, its population then amounted to about 35 persons and its trade was confined to the occasional visit of a coasting vessel. There are now several public buildings as the Offices of the commissariat and a place d'Armes, at a cost of about £12,000. The episcopal protestant Church, dedicated to St. Mary is a neat building, as is also the Court House. The port is furnished with a pier extending 350 feet into the Sea, by which the danger and inconveniences of the surf are avoided. The black whale visits the coast between the months of June and September and gives employment to the whale fishery establishments. The port is at all times accessible and safe for the largest vessels and is a Free port. Population 3,000, almost entirely English.

THE BOARD OF CONTROLLER INDIA BOARD

In the year 1784, all the political parties in England had been convinced that some very material change in the Government of the East-India Company's extensive acquisitions of territory in India was indispensably necessary. In this crisis, Mr. Fox brought forward his famous India Bill, the grand object of which was to abolish both the Court of Directors and the Court of Proprietors of the East India Company, and to vest the Government of India in the hands of seven commissioners, who were to be appointed by Parliament.

The coalition between Lord North and Mr. Fox had rendered their administration exceedingly unpopular, and their opponents and the Company took advantage of the unpopularity of the ministry to raise an extraordinary clamour against this India Bill. The Company represented it as an invasion of their chartered rights, and the opposition party represented the parliamentary nomination of commissioners as a daring invasion of the Crown, and an insidious attempt of the minister to render himself all powerful by means of the patronage of India. The Bill passed through the Commons, but, in consequence of the popular ferment which had been excited about it, and of the avowed disapprobation of the King, the Lords threw it out, and the defeat overthrew the coalition ministry.

Mr. Pitt formed a new ministry, and in a new Parliament he secured a decided majority in both houses, and carried his India Bill successfully into a law, controlling the Company in the Government of India by a board of Royal Commissioners.

On the 18th of May, 1781, the Act of Parliament of the 24th of George the third, chapter the twenty-fifth, received the royal assent. It empowers the King to appoint six Privy Counsellors to be Commissioners for the Affairs of India, one of his Majesty's principal Secretaries of state, and the Chancellor of the exchequer, for the time being, always to be two of them, three of whom shall make a Board, and the Secretary of State to be President and in his absence the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and in the absence of both, the senior commissioner shall be President. The President has the casting vote. The King may revoke the commission at pleasure and appoint new commissioners.

The powers of this Board are very great, they have the superintendence and control over all the British territorial possessions in the East Indies, and over the affairs of the United Company of Merchants trading to the East Indies. The Court of Directors of the East India Company, must, if required, lay all their accounts and papers to all hon. Members of the Board, and receive their orders, as long as they are not continued otherwise, they are appeal to the King in Council.

Neither the commissioners nor their clerks are disqualified from being elected Members of Parliament. Commissioners are to have access to all papers belonging to the Company. The Company is bound to deliver to the Board copies of all minutes, &c., of all courts concerning the Government or revenue, and to obey all orders relating thereto, and in case of delay, the Board is empowered to forward its own despatches to India.

In 1786, the Act of 24th Geo. III, c. 57 created a Royal Court of Supreme Judicature in India, and provided that Members of the Board of Commissioners should sit as judges part of the year.

The 28th of Geo. III, c. 8, empowered the Board to direct the payment in India, of the expenses of raising, maintaining, and manning royal troops to the number of 8,040 men and of Company's European forces to the number of 12,000 men including in both cases, the commissioned and non-commissioned officers. And the 31st of Geo. III, c. 10, extent the number of royal troops as much as 2,682 additional.

The Charter Act, the 31st, Geo. III, c. 5, empowered the sovereign to appoint commissioners under the great seal, two Secretaries of state and the Chancellor of the exchequer always to be included, three commissioners to form a Board; the commissioner first named in the commission to be President, and in his absence the next, whoever presides to have a casting vote. The Board may appoint secretaries and officers, the salaries of the establishment to be paid by the Company quarterly, the sum to the Board not exceeding five thousand pounds a year, and those of the officers and others not to exceed eleven thousand pounds a year.

Commissioners and officers to take certain oaths. The powers of the first Board not to cease until the second Board is appointed, and their powers respecting troops continued. This act greatly extended the power of the Board over the Company, especially in giving them political power over the commercial affairs of the Company.

The 37th Geo. III, c. 17, requires the consent of the Board to legalize regulations of the Company for the India trade of nations mainly with the crown and empire. It obliges the supreme government to transmit to the Board ten copies of the regulations, issued by them in each year concerning all persons amenable to the provincial courts, also to transmit to the Board, for the royal assent, all new forms of process for the courts of Judicature at Madras and Bombay. The 39th and 40th Geo. III, c. 79, makes the Board necessary for appointing what part of the territorial revenue or civil servants under Madras and Bombay should be under Fort William, Madras, and Bombay, and for changing such appointments. The 47th of Geo. III, c. 68, renders the consent of the Board necessary for establishing public Banks in India.

By the 51st of Geo. III, c. 75, the Board received powers to augment its own expenses so as not to exceed the sum of twenty two thousand pounds a year.

The Charter Act of the 53rd of Geo. III, c. 135, again added very greatly to the Board's power over the Company, especially in licensing ships and persons to proceed to India, it also required the approval of the Board to render valid any duties imposed in India; it gave the Board full power over all colleges and universities, abroad and at home; also over the apportionment of the territorial revenue, and of loans in India to the Company's trade, and forbade the Company to send out any despatches on the subject until approved by the Board. It forbade the Secret Committee of Directors from disclosing any despatch without the authority of the Board, and forbade the company from filling up vacancies in India without the approbation of the Board, except in Council, generals on the staff, advocates, attornies, chaplains, unconvenanted servants, writers, cadets, and assistant-surgeons; the restoration of servants was declared invalid without the consent of the Board, and no gratuity above six hundred pounds could be paid without the consent of the Board; this Act also empowered the Crown to grant superannuations to the officers of the Board. Again, by the 55th of Geo III, c. 64, sec. 1, it was enacted, that no gratuity is to be given above £600, unless confirmed by the Board.

According to the established form of the India Government in England, the Board of Control consists of a first commissioner, who is President, of two active commissioners, together with several commissioners, inclusive of the King's principal cabinet ministers; but all these ex-officio and extra commissioners may be deemed honorary as they do not receive salary or perform any duty.

From the year 1784 until 1793 his Majesty's principal Secretary of state for the Home department was always the President of the India Board, without salary, on this footing Lord Viscount Selmouth, Lord Grenville, and Lord Melville, were successively appointed. In 1793, Parliament changed the system, and the office of President was made a separate appointment, with salary.

The President has now been salaried for a period of fifty years, and in this short period no less than nineteen appointments have been made: even three new Presidents have been appointed to the Board in a single year. Sometimes, the Crown appointed a President who had made a voyage to India, as in the case of Lord Buckinghamskire.

The other salaried commissioners are generally appointed in consequence of their claims on the party in power, without any reference whatever to their peculiar qualifications for controlling the affairs of India.

From 1784 until 1832 the India Board had but one secretary, since then it has had two secretaries; the secretary in like manner with the commissioners, is a political partisan of the minister of the day, who can get himself a seat in the House of Commons.

The clerks do not go out of office with their patrons; they are fixed officers, brought up in the office, and rise by seniority. They give all their attention to their respective duties, and they understand the affairs under their superintendence well. Under manifold disadvantages, the clerks are the recognized depositories of the Board's knowledge of the affairs of India.

On the 7th of May, 1810, the secretary represented to the Board that he had been obliged constantly to employ a private secretary, and that he should on many occasions have been disabled but for such assistance from executing the Board's orders with punctuality and despatch, and that few persons in an official situation such as he had the honour to hold were without the assistance of some confidential and personal clerk.

On the 25th of June, 1810, the Board made a minute, in which they said,—The secretary, together with the assistant-secretary and chief clerk, having represented to the Board that the number of clerks was by no means sufficient for the current miscellaneous business, and having suggested the expediency of taking advantage of the resignation of the then assistant-secretary to increase the numerical strength in the lower parts of the office, the Board determined not to fill up the office of chief clerk the duties of which were to be performed by the secretaries or, under their superintendence, by the junior clerks, whose number it was intended to augment.—The Board also allowed the secretary to employ a private secretary; and they directed, 'that in consideration of the laborious duties performed by the librarian, and his assiduity and diligence,' his salary should be increased to £300 per annum; and in pursuance of the same minute, the allowance to the assistant-librarian was increased to £80. The number of junior clerks was accordingly increased from ten to thirteen, and private clerk was allowed to the secretary.

On the 30th of September, 1816, the Board recorded their opinion that, 'considering the great weight of business which fell upon the chief secretary, the unwearied industry and attention with which he discharged it, and the length of time during which he had served, it was just and reasonable to augment his salary by £200, making it up in the whole to two thousand pounds sterling a year,' and, 'that in future it would be expedient that the secretary's salary, commencing at £1,600 a year, should receive an augmentation of £200 at the end of five years, of £200 at the end of seven years and of £200 (making in the whole, £2,500) at the end of ten years' service.' The Board also 'took advantage of the saving produced by the retirement of one of the senior clerks, who received a special allowance, not continued to his successor, to meet the increased and increasing business of the office by the appointment of two junior clerks.'

On the 5th of March, 1820, another junior clerk was appointed. On the 15th of April, 1822, the Board expressed their opinion that the office of deputy accountant might properly be abolished, that the officer performing his duties, should be assistant to the accountant, and in the same year the Board deemed it advisable to establish a new scale of rank in their establishment, by interposing six 'assistant clerks,' between the senior clerks and the junior clerks.

In pursuance of the Board's minute of the 16th of December, 1823, the title of 'accountant' was changed to that of 'senior clerk in charge of the department of accounts,' and the officer having such charge is included among the six senior clerks, and on the 10th of February, 1824, the allowance to the assistant librarian was further increased to £100 a year.

On the 25th of April, 1826, the Board found it necessary, for the better management of the public business to separate the judicial from the revenue department, and to appoint a sixth senior clerk as head of the judicial department.

On the 24th of June, 1828, the secretary's salary was fixed at two thousand pounds, without regard to length of service, but the Board, 'adverting to the state of the finances of the office and to the power vested in them by His Majesty's warrant, of making such suspensions or abatement of the salaries therein allowed, as from time to time might to them appear necessary, in order that the whole amount of the salaries and expenses of the Board might not exceed the sum of twenty six thousand pounds in any one year,' directed that a suspension should be made of the salary of the secretary to the amount of two hundred pounds, they also suspended from the first assistant clerk fifty pounds, from the ninth and tenth assistant clerks, each twenty five pounds from the first messenger twenty pounds, and from the second messenger thirty pounds, and at the same time the Board increased the number of junior clerks by one more to the number of twelve, making in all, below the rank of senior clerk, the number of thirteen assistant clerks and junior clerks, by which the establishment of the Board included the appointment of one senior, one assistant, and two junior clerks to each of the six departments into which it is divided, namely, secret and political, revenue, judicial, military, public and ecclesiastical, and accounts.

COURT OF DIRECTORS OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY.

The Court is composed of twenty four (not of 'thirty') proprietors, qualified by Act of parliament and chosen by ballot from the body of the electors. The necessary qualifications are natural-born or a naturalized subject of Great Britain, — the possession of £20,000 stock, no matter for what previous period in his own right or for his own use, not being a Director of the Bank of England or South Sea Company, a Resident in England for two years time holding office in India, or having held no maritime office in the service of the Company for two years previous to his proposed election, and not having under any plea or pretence whatsoever, endeavoured to obtain directly or indirectly a vote for the election of himself or any other person to be a Director. If elected he takes a solemn oath in pursuance of an act passed (the 33d George III.) of which the following is the substance: After binding him to carry on no private trade, to have no dealings with the Company except as a private individual, not to hold any place of emolument under the crown: — He further swears not to accept or take either any emolument or present for any appointment or nomination of persons to any place or office in his gift, or that of the Company, or on account of appointing the voyage of any ships in the Company's employ, or on account of, or any ways relating to any other business or affairs of the Company, and further swears to be faithful to the Company, and according to the best of his skill and understanding to give his best advice and assistance for the support of the good government of the Company, &c.

The bye-laws enact that a Director must make a report to the Court previous to leaving England; he has no power to remain beyond the seas more than one year, and is liable to removal by the Court of Proprietors; every Director absent on a Court day is fined £1.1s. Six Directors retire annually by rotation and are not again eligible for one year, and in case of death or removal, the Director who may be chosen to fill the vacancy, holds it only during the remainder of the term which his predecessor had to serve. Seven month's public notice is given of any annual election, printed lists of members, qualified candidates, are published thirty days before any election. A chairman and deputy chairman are annually chosen by ballot. The Court must meet at least once in every week; not less than thirteen Directors form a court; on all questions of importance the sense of the Court is taken by ballot, and in case of any equality of votes, the drawing of a lot by the Treasurer determines.

The Court of Directors enjoy full authority over all matters at home as well as abroad, relating to the political, financial, judicial, military, and commercial affairs of the Company, (with the exception of matters of the highest importance entrusted to the Committee of Secrecy) but its proceedings are subject to various acts of Parliament, to the superintendence of the Board of Control, and in several matters to the approval of the General Court as before detailed.

The Court of Directors have the patronage of India, and they have power to remove any officers or servants, except those appointed by the Crown. They are to lay certain accounts annually before Parliament; to frame regulations for the trade of friendly nations with India; and to report half-yearly on recruiting. They expend the revenues of India, and their declaration of an officer not having settled his accounts, renders him ineligible for the direction, for two years after his return. They are to frame estimates of Home expenses; and to regulate the promulgation of laws in India. They can suspend the Council boards in India, or reduce the number of their members. The Court of Directors regulate the distribution of patronage in India; and they are specially directed to take into their consideration, all drafts of laws respecting slavery in India, transmitted from India, and to give instruction thereon.

The Chief committees, of the court are as follows:

Secretary Committee.

Revenue, Judicial & Legislative committees.

Finance and Home Committee.

Military and Political Committee.

Committee of Secretary.—The Cabinet Council of the Company.—Functions ministerial,—defined by act of Parliament, composed of the Chairman, deputy Chairman, and senior Director, who receive and deliberate on all despatches of the highest importance relative to peace, war, or negotiation abroad, and all matters of a delicate nature at home, confer with the Board of Control thereon and officially sign private despatches from the Board, the responsibility and power remaining with the latter.

The mode of transacting the business of the E. I. Company with the Governments of India is as follows. Despatches from India are on their arrival delivered to the proper department, and when necessary to address the Governments, either in answer to despatches or otherwise, a draft is framed under the superintendence of the Chief of the Department to which the business belongs. The draft thus prepared is submitted to the Chairman and Deputy Chairman, and when approved by them, is usually (if of an important nature, or upon a subject on which any serious difference of opinion is likely to arise) transmitted in what is called 'previous communication' to the Board, who return it with such alterations as they desire to be made.—The views of the Board having been thus ascertained, the draft is either altered to meet them or not, as the chair may determine, and in the state which they approve, it is laid before the proper Committee, by whom it is considered and forwarded to the table of the Court. There it undergoes full discussion, and in the form finally determined by the Court is transmitted Officially for the approval of the Board. If returned approved, it is despatched to India forthwith; if altered, the alterations become the subject of fresh consideration and (if at variance with the Impressions of the Court) of correspondence and remonstrance. When the final decision of the Board is obtained, the altered draft is forwarded as a despatch in the form mentioned.

In some cases where no necessity appears for making a Draft, the subject of the proceedings is dispensed with.

The preparation of drafts sometimes requires communications between different departments of the house, these do not assume formal character, they are made either personally or by transferring the papers accompanied by short unofficial notes memoranda.

THE COMMITTEE OF BY-LAWS.

The Charter of 1698 invested the general court with the power of enacting by-laws; and the first general court of the United Company appointed Committee of fifteen proprietors, of £2,000 of stock, to frame by-laws. Their code ordained that, that thenceforward, a Committee of seven was to be ballotted annually, in June; but, in 1716, the General court dispensed with the ballot, and substituted a show of hands; and in 1775, a motion to revert to the ballot was negatived. The Charter Act of 1813 rendered a revision of this code necessary, and then much labour devolved upon the Committee. The code is to be read annually in each court. In the long period of the thirty years which elapsed from 1786 to 1816, the Committee of by-laws made but two reports to the general court, and during the space of seven entire years, it had not even met at all. In June, 1814 at the first Midsummer meeting after the Charter was renewed, in consequence of the old Committee having never been in the habit of meeting to discharge their duties, some proprietors intended to expose their neglect, but the chairman re-appointed the old Committee of seven. Even then, the subject was brought forward, and the Company felt the need of a reform in the Committee.

The Committee appointed to inspect the Company's by-laws met at the India House, and, on the 18th of February, 1815, they made a report, recommending various alterations.

Amongst the alterations, made, the following may be noticed: the Company's books of Home accounts had been balanced on the 31st June; but because their India accounts and parliamentary accounts were brought up only to the 30th of April, that date was adopted for the Home account, also, as tending to exhibit a more correct view of the pecuniary concerns of the Company. The vouchers of each Presidency were in future to be signed by the accountant.

general, on pain of dismissal on refusing or neglecting to sign them. In the annual account laid before the proprietors, the provision for including the guarantee fund was now omitted, because the new Charter Act directed the way in which that fund was to be appropriated. The General accounts of the Company must consequently exhibit its amount and application; and therefore that part of the old by-law became unnecessary. The charter of 1793 had obliged the company to supply tonnage for private trade, but now the India trade was opened to private British ship, and therefore the rule for accounts of this tonnage was abrogated. A more correct check on the treasury account than that resulting from the old by-law was also recommended for adoption. Heretofore, the law was, that every bill should be entered as the same is received, and remain upon the records of the Company, but because many of the bills for goods contained so much extraneous matter, and were so long and incoherent, that the entering of them into a book was a work of very great labour and of no apparent utility, it was now ordained merely that an abstract, containing the substance, should be recorded. As the proprietors of private trade now obtained, the right to direct the sale of their goods when they please, the old by-law on the subject became useless, and therefore it was dropped in framing the new code. In drawing from the bank, instead of the cashier's signature being sufficient, it was proposed, as a more secure check on the Company's cash, that the signature of a chairman and of another director, countersigned by the cashier, should be required, and that only the cashier should present the draft for payment. The Secret Committee of Directors, which existed previous to the Secret Committee enacted in 1793, was revived for the management of such part of the commercial affairs as might be of a nature to require secrecy. Committees of Directors had been obliged to report immediately to the Court of Directors, but now, in order to enable the members to inform themselves on points discussed, previous to reporting, fourteen days were allowed for the report. The Committee of Shipping was abolished, and those of buying and warehouses were united into one.

In order to invest the chairman with the same power as in most other corporations, it was proposed to invest him with power to call a Court of Directors as often as he thought fit, and that no Director should quit the Court without leave of the chairman. Superannuations of the Home Establishment not to be paid before the General Court, but gratuities exceeding £600 to be reported to a special general court being submitted to the Board. A committee empowered to license exports on the Company's ships, as it would be extremely inconvenient to have the sanction of thirteen Directors on such matters. Licensed ships to be reported annually. The Company now allowed the Court of Directors to invest the Company's money in shipping for the general service of the Company, that is to hold Indianmen.

In 1816 the Committee was increased to fifteen members, and was obliged to meet, at least, twice a year, and up to the year 1829, it actually met fifty times. In 1835, the Chairman of the Company said, that on no occasion, within his memory, had it happened that a nomination from the chair had been set aside.

COURT OF PROPRIETORS.

In the 'General Court' there is no distinction as to citizenship, the Englishman, the Frenchman, the German, the inhabitants of any nation, are eligible as Members. There is no difference as to religion; the Christian, the Jew, the Turk, the Pagan, the Professors of every or of no creed, are equally admissible; there is no impediment as to sex; a woman as well as a man is entitled to the free exercise of her opinion in this assembly; there is no aristocratical bar, the soldier and the sailor, the merchant and the agriculturist, stand on the same footing; and to all this must be added the elective voice of the British people is fast hastening the use of the vote by ballot. The new act authorizes a vote by power of Attorney.

The qualifications for sitting and voting are thus regulated:

A proprietor, of £500.....	stock, is entitled to a seat.
Iditto £1,000.....	„ to one vote.
Iditto £3,000.....	„ to two votes.
Iditto £5,000.....	„ to three votes.
Iditto from £10,000 to 100,000 and upwards,,	to four votes.

The Court is convened regularly four times in every year, in March, June, September and December, and at such other times as may be deemed necessary for special purposes, thus qualified proprietors being empowered to address a requisition in writing to the Court of Directors to convene a Court, which not being summoned within ten days, the aforesaid proprietors may call such meeting on their own requisition, previously affixing notice to that effect at the Royal Exchange.

The annual average of courts held is about twelve.

The chairman of the Court of Directors is ex officio the speaker or chairman of this court; his duty is to attend to the summoning and appointing of the quarterly assembly, to convene special courts, to preside at all meetings, to introduce to the notice of the court all business arising out of any measure which may have been adopted by the Directors; to bring forward all motions which require the sanction of the court, to lay annually before its members accounts shewing the net profits of the Company in Great Britain, and the application and disposition thereof; a general statement per computation of the Company's affairs to the 30th April in each year; such accounts and papers as may from time to time be laid before either House of Parliament by the Court of Directors, and all proceedings in Parliament, which, in the opinion of the Court of Directors, may possibly effect the rights, interests, or privileges, of the East India Company generally, before the same shall have passed into a law.

The following powers are vested in the Court. The election of all qualified persons to form the Court of Directors, the declaration of dividends on the capital stock of the Company subject to certain legislative enactments. The framing altering, or repealing such by-laws as may be deemed necessary for the good government of the East India Company, provided such do not interfere with any Acts of Parliament. A general control over any increase to a salary or pension exceeding £200 a year, or over any gratuity beyond £500, over the creation of any new office at home or abroad, with a salary exceeding £200 or over superannuated allowances to officers and servants in England. The Court can confer a tribute of approbation and a pecuniary reward on any statesman or warrior whose services may seem to them worthy of such manifestations of popular gratitude; should the donation however, exceed the sums before mentioned, it is subject to the confirmation of the Board of Control; it can also demand copies of various public documents to be laid before it for discussion and consideration; but by Act of Parliament it is prevented rescinding, suspending, revoking, or varying, any order or resolution of the Court of Directors relative to the Revenue, or civil or military Government, after the same shall have received the approbation of the Board of Control.

By statute, Jan., 2, 1815, it is ordained, "for the purpose of Commemorating the auspicious termination of the long and arduous contest in which this Empire has been engaged," that the Order shall be composed of three classes, viz:

1st CLASS.—To consist of Knights Grand Crosses number not to exceed seventy-two, exclusive of the Sovereign and Princes of the blood Royal; twelve of the number may be appointed from the Civil and Diplomatic Services. This dignity not to be conferred upon any Officer (except the above twelve) who shall not have attained the rank of Major General in the Army, of Rear Admiral in the Navy, and must have been previously appointed to the second class.

2D CLASS.—Knights Commanders, number not exceeding upon the first Institution, one hundred and eighty, exclusive of Foreign Officers holding British Commissions, of whom not exceeding ten may be admitted as Monetary Knight Commanders, in the event of actions of signal distinction, of future wars, the number of this Class may be increased. To be entitled to the distinctive appellation of Knighthood to have the same rights and privileges as Knights Bachelors, but to take a precedence of them; to wear badge, and pendant by a red ribbon round the neck, the star embroidered on the left side.

3D CLASS.—Companions of the order not limited in number, they are to take precedence of Esquires, but not entitled to the appellation, style, &c. of Knight Bachelors. To wear the badge assigned to the 3d class, pendant by a narrow ribbon to the button hole. No Officer can be nominated unless he shall have received a medal or other badge of honour, or shall have been especially mentioned in despatches in the Gazette, as having distinguished himself in action.

The new badge for the Military classes of the order, is a gold Maltese Cross of eight points, enamelled argent in the four angles a lion passant, guardant, on the centre, the rose, thistle, and shamrock, issuant from a sceptre between three imperial crowns, or, with a circle, gules, -- thereon the motto of the order surrounded by two branches laurel, proper, issuing from an escrol azure inscribed "Ich Dien" in letters of gold, worn by the Grand Crosses pendant from a red ribbon across the right shoulder by the Knights Commander from the neck, and by the companions from the button hole. The collar is of gold, weighing thirty ounces, of troy weight, and is composed of nine imperial crowns and eight roses, thistle and shamrock, issuing from a sceptre, enamelled in their proper colours, tied or linked together with seventeen gold knots, enamelled white, having the badge of the order pendant thereto. The Star of the Military Grand Crosses is formed of rays of flames of silver, thereon a gold Maltese Cross, and in the centre, with the motto, branches of laurel, issuant as above described three imperial crowns of gold and is worn on the side.

No Knight can wear the collar before his installation.

The Star of the Commanders is in the form of a Cross patee of silver, having the same centre as the Grand Crosses, but no gold Maltese Cross thereon.

ROYAL HANOVERIAN GUELPHIC ORDER.

This order was instituted by the Prince Regent in the name of His Majesty Geo. III "King of Great Britain, and Hanover" in 1815. The badge is a gold Maltese Cross of eight points surmounted by a Crown, and bearing on its Centre the white Horse surrounded by the motto "Nec Aspera terrent." Ribbon, sky blue, watered. On the death of William IV. the power of conferring this distinction passed, agreeable to statute 11, to the Crown of Hanover, but it still enrolls 545 British Members, admitted before that event--of these 67 are Civil and 135 are also Members of the orders of the bath. The following are extracts from Royal Ordinance of Institution dated "Carlton House, 12th Aug. 1815."

I. This new order of Knighthood is to be considered as instituted from the 12th August 1815, and to be styled the Guelphic order, in commemoration of several important events. For the more particular splendour of this order the office of Grand Master is for ever to be vested in the Crown of Hanover, IV. The order is to consist of three Classes, Grand Crosses, Commanders, and Knights, VI. Only those of our servants and subjects are to be received into the order who have not only performed their services according to honor and duty, but who have particularly distinguished themselves or performed extraordinary services for their country. VII. This order gives to those who obtain it, exclusive of the consideration for their services, not only precedence before those of their rank who do not possess it but gives to those who are not noble, for their person all the rights of nobility, and the admission to our Court attached thereto.

I. Supplementary. In order to give this our order greater value higher dignity we do hereby Command that such persons only shall be received therein who are of good descent, and birth, possess arms, and are of unimpeachable conduct, &c.

II. It is our Royal will, that the Blank Coursier Herald shall obtain the Arms of the different Knights, and place the same as well on the Chapel of our Palace at Hanover, as in the Ancient Hall of Knights, there, the Arms to be placed on a Copper plate within a Sky blue Circle bearing the Motto "Nec asperiterrent" in letters of gold surrounded, if a Military person, by a wreath of laurel; if Civil, by wreath of Oak. Under the Arms shall be engraved the name and rank of the knights, also the date of their reception, as a durable remembrance to posterity of their distinguished merit and services.

III. Grants to the grand Crosses, the right of using the Collar Circle Motto, wreath and badge with their Armorial bearings, and to commanders and Knights the same insignia with the exception of the collar.

It is situated on the Thames at 79 miles distant from the mouth of that river, which is navigable for the largest description of vessels. General Department, Bombay Castle, 21st February 1840

The following Absentee Regulations, established by the Government of India and approved by the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, are declared applicable to this Presidency, and are republished for general information:—

Fort William. Financial Department, the 29th January, 1840.

The following Rules for the grant of leave of absence, and for regulating deductions from salaries and deputation Allowances having been approved and passed by the Honorable Court of Directors, are published for general information; and will take effect in all the Presidencies, Settlements and Stations under the Government of India, from the date of the arrival of the Gazette containing them, respect to all leaves of absence granted after that date. The notes show the interpretation put by the Council of India upon the rules in their application to cases not specifically mentioned.

Note.—All the Sections marked thus are the amended sections passed by the Government of India on the 17th May 1843.

RULES FOR APPLICATION FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE AND FOR FIXING THE LOCAL LIMITS WITHIN IT WHICH IT MAY BE GRANTED.

Section I. No leave of absence from any office or station can be granted but by the Government of the Presidency under which the employment is held, and the application of the party requiring such leave, saving in such cases as may hereafter be specially excepted, must be made publicly through the regular channel in the Department to which the applicant may belong.

Note.—This rule must be considered as superseding the rule under which Commissioners of the Revenue and other Officers have heretofore been allowed to grant leave of absence in Bengal.

Sec. II. The Official allowances of the holder of a civil office quitting his station without leave will entirely cease from the date of his quitting until his return, or in the event of his subsequently obtaining leave to the date of such leave being granted to him.

Sec. III. No leave of absence shall have any retrospective effect except in cases of severe illness, to be attested by a medical certificate, conforming in every respect to the directions contained in Section V.

The leave with retrospective effect referred to in this section, is leave extending to absence antecedent to the permissions of the Government—that is to absence in anticipation of original leave without the excuse of sickness. Vide Resolution of the Government of India, dated 14th April 1841.

Sec. IV. Upon application duly made, the Government of each Presidency may grant leave of absence to any place or places in the Continent of India, whether within the territories subject to the Government of the East India Company or not, to any Civil or Military Servant holding a civil appointment, subject to all the conditions prescribed in the rules that may be applicable to his case. Upon similar application the Government of each Presidency may also grant leave to such persons subject to the like conditions, to proceed to the Island of St. Helena, the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope, or to any place situated between the 38th Degree of North Latitude and the 50th Degree of South Latitude, such place being likewise between the 30th and the 180th Degrees of Longitude East of Greenwich, excepting however any Islands in the Mediterranean or Levant, and excepting all places within the said Geographical limits which may form part of Europe. Provided also, that if at any time the Government of India shall deem it expedient to exclude any place or places within the limits above described from the operation of these rules, such exclusion shall be officially communicated to the subordinate Governments, and all leave subsequently granted shall be regulated accordingly. A Servant passing the limits herein prescribed will incur the immediate forfeiture of his office or employment, and of all official allowances whatever from the date of his quitting India.

CHAPTER II.

RULES FOR SICK LEAVE.

Sec. V. When an application for leave of absence is made on the ground of ill health, it must be accompanied by a certificate from the Medical Officer by whom the applicant has been attended, distinctly stating from personal observation, the nature of the disease, the symptoms by which it is manifested, the period during which it has existed as far as the knowledge of the Medical Officer extends, and the necessity for temporary removal to some other place either within the Territories subject to the Government of the East India Company or beyond them, but within the limits laid down in Section IV as the case may be; and such certificate must be submitted to the consideration of the Medical Board, and if satisfactory, shall be countersigned by one of its Members. An application for an extension of leave must, if the applicant be in India, be accompanied by a certificate from the Medical Officer by whom the applicant is attended, shewing sufficient reason for the extension solicited, and such certificate like the former must be examined and countersigned by a Member of the Medical Board. If the applicant shall have proceeded beyond the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, he must furnish a certificate to the required effect from a Surgeon or Physician at the place of his temporary residence by whom he has been attended, such attendance and the period of it to be stated, and the certificate to be countersigned by the principal Medical Authority of the Colony or Country. Where any of the required particulars are neglected leave will be refused.

(a) Sec. VI. Civil Servants absent from their Stations under Medical Certificate, within the limits of their respective Presidencies, shall be entitled to the Salaries of their offices for the period of two years, subject to a deduction of $\frac{1}{4}$ for the whole term of such absence, save and excepted that for the first year; if the Salary be not more than 500 Rupees per mensem, no deduction shall be made, and if it be only so much more than 500 Rupees that the prescribed deduction of $\frac{1}{4}$ would reduce the allowance below that sum, only the

In explanation and modification of this section, the Governor General in Council is pleased to resolve, that in cases of extreme urgency, which owing to the distance of the residence of the Medical Board, preclude the previous reference to that authority, the certificate of the medical attendant required from applicants for leave of absence on account of ill health, shall be submitted by them for the consideration and counter-signature of the Superintending Surgeon of the Division, or of the nearest Division, which Officer, in these cases, will be responsible for the prescribed regularity of the certificate, instead of the Medical Board. Vide Resolution by the Government of India dated 24th June 1840.

All civil servants on obtaining Medical Certificates agreeably to the provisions of this Section, shall forward them immediately to Government, and such Medical Certificate when passed by the Medical Board are to be handed up by the Board direct to Government; the requisite application for leave being at the same time submitted by the Civil servant requiring it. Vide Notification by the Government of Bombay, dated 17th June 1841.

Applicants for sick leave must not leave their stations without previous permission obtained from Government except in cases of absolute necessity. Vide Notification Bombay Government dated 2nd February 1842.

A locumtenens is not entitled to any higher allowances in the event of the party absent on sick leave for whom he is acting vacating the appointment, and in the event of his succeeding thereto the higher allowance to commence from date of appointment. Vide Notification by the Government of India, dated 17th August 1842.

2.—A servant is not allowed to be absent, retaining "Office or Employment," or portion of Official Salary, for a period exceeding two years; but extension of leave may be obtained on account of sickness duly certified, and during such extension the Absentee is authorized to draw the subsistence allowance of the rank. If the absence be beyond the Territories of the Presidency to which the Servant belongs, it is to be computed from the date of his quitting the limits of his Presidency to the date of his return within those excess beyond Rs 500 shall be deducted but for the second year, the full deduction shall be in force. An absent Servant, whether Civil or Military, shall in no case retain any civil office or employment, nor be permitted to draw any portion of official salary for a longer period than two years, but a Civil Servant who may on account of sickness, duly certified, obtain an extension of leave beyond two years, shall if his period of actual residence be less than 12 years, be allowed to draw the second rate of subsistence, and if the period of such actual residence be 12 years, the highest rate of subsistence allowance, but if he continues absent in disobedience of an order to return, or without sufficient cause shown, that allowance also shall be forfeited. The period of absence shall be computed from the date of his quitting his Station to the date of his return thereto. Vide amended Section, passed 17th May 1843, Page 42.

Sec. VII. Civil Servants absent on leave on account of sickness, duly certified, if they proceed to England without returning to their Presidency, may as heretofore, apply to be admitted to Furlough by the Honorable the Court of Directors and the Furlough in such cases take will effect from the date of leaving their Presidency, consequently the allowances of office that may have been drawn by themselves or their Agents after their departure, must in that case be re-adjusted, and the difference refunded.

Sec. VIII. No second leave will be granted to any Civil or Military Servant holding a civil appointment who has been absent under the above rules for two years, until three at the least shall have passed after the date of such Servant's return, but if such Servant is compelled by sickness again to absent himself from his Station within three years after having been sent under the above rule for less than two years, he will be allowed to complete that period subject to the limitations and condition heretofore prescribed, drawing the proportion of salary allowed for the remaining time as if the leave had been continuous.

A second leave of this kind cannot be granted until three years at the least shall have passed after the date of such servant's return, but any time short of two years in a previous absence may be subsequently allowed in completion of two years. The Note attached to section VIII specifies that this Rule applies to all descriptions of leave on account of health excepting those granted under section XII vide Resolution of the Govt. of India, dated 14th April 1843.

After two years of absence, continuous or accumulated, under these Rules if a servant obtain leave of absence on sick certificate before an interval has passed of three years, he cannot retain office or employment, or any portion of official salary, but he is entitled to the subsistence allowance of his rank. The rule in section VI., if literally interpreted, would require the servant returning from beyond Sea, whose full period of two years has been expired between the date of his embarkation, and the date of his return within the limits of his Presidency to be re-appointed to his Office. For the time spent in joining his station in excess of two years, he is entitled to draw only the subsistence allowance of his rank.

It is not provided that in cases in which the full period of two years absence is composed of accumulated leaves, the intervals of time passed in the performance of duty shall be reckoned in part of the three years which must expire before a servant is eligible to a new series of leave.

But if this were not allowed, the operation of the Rule might be unintentionally severe on a servant, whose health should compel him to obtain leave of absence for a portion of the two years, say for only a month, at the extremity of the three years after the date of his return, the same servant having been already absent for 23 months either all at once, or his absence at different times having accumulated to 23 months : it would not have been intended by the Rule that after 35 months of duty being entitled to one month on the account of the old score, a new series of leave or a single instance of leave on sick certificate should not be obtainable for three years from the expiration of that one or 36th month.

The Rules do not prescribe any different rate of deduction from allowances during absence on sick certificate within the Territories of the East India Company and during similar absence at the Cape of Good Hope, or within the limits out of the Territories of the East India Company, declared in section IV. But they fix the computation of the servant's absence beyond the Presidencies to be from the date of leaving to the date of returning to the Port of his Presidency.

The Rules provide sufficiently for the audit of his allowances after two year's absence beyond Sea, until the servant re-joins his station, but they do not specify what rate of deduction is to be made from the Absentee's allowance for the time elapsing after departure from station and before embarkation. This therefore has required to be provided for by a new Regulation, or by some exposition of the existing rules.

The Rule that admits of an absence of two years, enables a sick servant to reside sufficiently long in another climate under ordinary circumstances to re-establish his health ; for which object that protracted absence is permitted, when certified to be necessary. Forfeiture of appointment therefore, does not take place until full two years have transpired between embarkation and return to Port : if the latter part of the section VI. be taken to computation of absence as respects appointment, the course of the audit will be easy : For two years reckoning from the departure from station, to return to station, the deduction will be as laid down at the commencement of the section, and for any excess whether occasioned by the time elapsing before embarkation or after return to port until return to station, the servant will be entitled to subsist on allowance without losing his appointment. Vide Resolution of the Govt. of India, dated 14th April 1843.

Sec. IV. Military Officers employed in the Civil Department and drawing a Civil allowance may obtain leave under medical certificate on precisely the same conditions as Civil Servants, except as to allowances. Such officers in common with those holding staff situations in the Military Department will draw the Military Pay and Allowances of their rank while absent on leave under medical certificate, in the form and manner prescribed in General Orders in the Military Department, and likewise one-half of the difference between such allowances and the civil pay of the offices to which they stand appointed.

Sec. X. Civil or Military Servants holding civil appointments who may desire to avail themselves of the benefit of the Act I. Vic Cap 47. and to draw their allowances while absent on account of sickness under the above rules, will be required to give security in such amount and form as may be fixed by the Government for the refund of any excess that may be drawn, either by the Agents at the Presidency or by themselves, in case of their proceeding to Europe on furlough or otherwise coming under retrenchment.

* Sec. XI. The Government of each Presidency may grant to Civil or Military Servants holding civil appointments leave of absence for one month in each year without deduction from the salaries and emoluments drawn by such Servants. Such leave however will only be granted when the Government is satisfied that no inconvenience will arise from the departure of the Officers seeking it. No second leave can be granted under this rule until the completion of eleven months from the expiration of the last leave, but Servants, not availing themselves of the indulgence in any one year may obtain, under the like conditions, leave of absence for two successive months,

The design of this Rule is to grant one month's leave of absence without loss of salary to the servant who is present at his duty for the periods specified ; vide Resolutions of Govt. of India, dated 11th April 1844.

It in consequence of sickness a Servant exceeds the leave of absence granted to him under this Section he must be considered absent under the provisions of Chapter II for the whole time of such absence, and the orders that would be passed on his Medical certificate application must be in conformity to those provisions and take effect for the whole period of absence ; vide Bombay Govt. Notifications, 8th June 1844. and 14th August 1844.

to commence at or after the expiration of 23 months from the termination of their former leave, and if two years elapse without enjoyment of the privilege, leave for three months may in like manner be granted at the expiration of 23 months from the termination of the last preceding leave. But no leave shall be granted under this rule for any period exceeding three months. If an Officer shall not return at the expiration of the period of leave granted him under this rule, he shall, if absent on private affairs, be subjected to the deduction of one-third of his salary and allowances for the entire term of absence, and if he shall continue absent for more than one month beyond the term granted, his office shall become vacant. If his protracted absence be occasioned by sickness, the case must be determined under the provisions of Chapter II. Vide amended Section passed 17th May 1843 P. 42.

Sec. XII. The Government of each Presidency may, on sufficient cause being shewn, grant to a Civil or Military Officer holding a Civil Office special leave of absence on private affairs. Provided however that if any Officer to whom such leave shall be granted shall be absent from his Station for any period exceeding that to which under the last rule he may be entitled without deduction, the Absentee, if a Civil Servant, shall for the period in excess draw no more than one-half of his Salary and allowance, and if a Military Officer, only so much of the Salary and Allowances of any Civil Office to which he may stand appointed, as added to the Military Pay and Allowances which he may be entitled to draw shall equal one-half of the emoluments of such civil office. After an absence of three months (exclusive of any period which may be granted under Sec. XI) any Office held by the Absentee shall become vacant. No second leave under this rule can be granted until after the expiration of five years from the termination of the former leave, and the Government is specially to report each case with all the attendant circumstances to the Court of Directors. Vide amended Section, passed 17th May 1843 P. 42.

CHAPTER IV.

RULES FOR LEAVE PREPARATORY TO EMBARKATION AND FOR JOINING STATIONS,

Sec. XIII. Rescinded by the Resolution of the Govt. of India, 17th May 1843, Vide Page 51

Sec. XIV. There shall be allowed to Officers appointed to any new office the periods of one month, two months or three months for joining accordingly, as the distance may not exceed 200 or 600 miles, or be in excess of the last mentioned distance. Officers not joining their station within the said period respectively shall forfeit their salary for the time delayed in excess of the above periods, and if such excess shall exceed one month, the office shall be vacated unless otherwise specially ordered by Government.

Sec. XV. Upon the first appointment of any Civil Servant who shall be reported qualified for the public service, by the examiners appointed by the Government to any civil situation, there shall be allowed for travelling expenses to the station an allowance at the rate of 8 Annas per mile by the direct Post-road, according to the Polymetrical Tables of the Post Office, the bill for which allowance will be passed by the Civil Auditor after the Officer shall have joined the station, if required in advance, an order of the Government shall be necessary.

Sec. XVI. The salary of office will be payable from the date only of the Officer joining, but in the case of Junior Civil Servants, the salary of Assistants will be payable from the date of their being reported qualified for the public service, unless forfeited under the preceding rules through delay in joining the station to which they may be appointed.

Leave under this Section will be granted on private affairs only and not on Medical certificate, vide Bombay Govt Notification 24th, April, 1841 Para 2nd.

This rule refers to the appointment of Civil Servants previously not holding any permanent situation who under this rule are entitled to their allowances from the date of appointment provided they join their stations within the prescribed period. Vide Resolution of the Govt. of India, dated 16th June 1841. Page 40.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT

tion, the following Extract, from a Resolution passed on the 16th ultimo, by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council, on the subject of the allowances of Officers appointed to new situations, but who by the express order of Government may be prevented from entering immediately upon the duties thereof.

NOTIFICATION, Fort William, Financial Department, the 16th June 1841.

RESOLUTION.

The Governor General in Council remarks, that the Rule referred to No. XVI of the Regulations of the 29th January 1840, requires in case of a change of Office, when an Officer is appointed to a higher situation, that he shall not draw the higher salary until he joins.

His Lordship in Council considers it expedient strictly to maintain this Rule as one of general practice, and that no exception ought to be allowed otherwise than under special circumstances and exigencies of the public service.

His Lordship in Council is further of opinion, that as a general rule, Officers ought not to be appointed to situations for the duties of which they are not immediately available.

When an Officer for the convenience of the public service has been detained by an order of the Government in a situation of inferior emolument after he has been promoted, in such case the practice under the Bengal Presidency is to pass to him the higher salary of his new appointment, during the period of his being so detained. This exception to the Rule XVI corresponds with the exception provided for in Rule XX under the Chapter for Deputation Allowances, in which it is declared that no Civil Servant temporarily officiating for another shall draw an amount larger than the entire emoluments of the officer in which he is officiating, but that the prohibition does not apply to the case of an Officer who may be deputed for special reasons to act in an office of inferior emoluments to his own.

In order to ensure uniformity of practice at all the Presidencies in the application of Rules XIV, XVI and XVII, it is hereby explained that Rule XIV refers to the appointment of Civil Servants previously not appointed to a fixed situation after their return from furlough.

These Servants are entitled under Rule XIV to the allowances of their new office from the day of appointment, provided they do not come under forfeiture, by exceeding the time prescribed for joining their station.

And Rules XVI and XVII are to be construed as applying to cases where there is a change of office, with increase of salary, a special course being prescribed with regard to Junior Civil Servants; they under Rule XVI are authorized to draw the salary of Assistant from the date of their being reported qualified for the public service, unless forfeited through delay in joining the station to which they have been appointed.

By order of the Hon'ble the Governor in Council,
Bombay Castle, 15th July 1841. W. R. MORRIS, Secy. to Govt.

Abstract of Parliamentary Acts.

RELATING TO THE EAST INDIA CIVIL SERVICE.

ACT XXXIII, OF GEORGE III, CHAPTER LII.

DEPARTURE FROM INDIA OF ANY GOVERNOR GENERAL, GOVERNOR, COUNCILLOR, OR COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, WITH INTENT TO RETURN TO EUROPE, DEEMED A RESIGNATION, &c.

XXXVII. And be it further enacted that the departure from India of any Governor General, Governor, Councillor, or Commander in Chief, with intent to return to Europe, shall be deemed in law a resignation and avoidance of his office or employment; and that the arrival in any part of Europe of any such Governor General, Governor, Councillor, or Commander in Chief, shall be sufficient indication of such intent, and that no act or declaration of any Governor General, Governor, Councillor, or Commander in Chief, during his continuance in the presidency whereof he was Governor General, Governor, Councillor or Commander in Chief, except by some deed or instrument in writing under his hand and seal, delivered to the Secretary, in the Public Department of the same presidency, in order to its being recorded, shall be deemed or held as a resignation, or surrender of his said office; and that the salary and other allowances of any Governor General, or other Officers respectively, shall cease from the day of his departure, resignation or surrender, and that if any such Governor General, or any other Officer whatever, in the service of the Company, shall quit or leave the presidency or settlement to which he shall belong, other than in the known actual service of the said Company, the salary, and allowances appertaining to the Office shall not be paid or payable during his absence to any agent or other person for his use, and in the event of his returning back to his station at such presidency or settlement, or of his coming to Europe, his salary and allowances shall be deemed to have ceased from the quitting such presidency or settlement, any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding.

FILLING UP VACANCIES IN THE CIVIL LINE

LVII. And be it further enacted, that all vacancies happening in any of the office, places, or employments in the Civil line of the Company's Service in India (being under the degree of Councillor,) shall be from time to time filled up and supplied from amongst the Civil Servants of the said Company, belonging to the presidency wherein such vacancies shall respectively happen, subject only to the restrictions in this act contained, and not otherwise (that is to say,) that in the filling up and supplying such vacancies, no office, places, or employment, the salary, perquisites, and emoluments whereof shall exceed five hundred pounds per annum, shall be conferred upon or granted to any of the said servants who shall have not been actually resident in India as covenanted servant of the said Company for the space of three years at the least in the whole, antecedent to such vacancy, and if the salary, perquisites and emoluments of any office, place, or employment, shall exceed three thousand pounds per annum, the same shall not be granted to or conferred upon any of the said servants who shall not have been actually resident in India in the said service for the space of nine years at the least in the whole, antecedent to such vacancy; and if the salary, perquisites, and emoluments of any office, place, or employment shall exceed four thousand pounds per annum, the same shall not be granted to or conferred upon any of the said servants, who shall not have been actually resident in India in the Company's Service for the space of twelve years at the least in the whole, antecedent to such vacancy; and that all appointments, advancements and promotions which shall be made for supplying any such vacancies, other than as aforesaid, shall be null and void.

EXTRACT FROM A PUBLIC GENERAL LETTER FROM THE HONORABLE COURT OF DIRECTORS, DATED THE 12th OF JUNE, 1816.

PARA. 20. We perceive by the abstract of Act LIII. of his present Majesty chapter 155, annexed to your list of the Civil Servants, dated the 31st of May 1814, that according to your construction of that Act, a Civil Servant may upon his arrival, in India, receive £1,500 a year, but this is most assuredly a mistake. The Act above mentioned, has shortened the period to two years which it was required previously to the passing of that Act, for a servant to have resided in India, to enable him to receive more than £1,500, 3,000, or 4,000 a year, but it has not shortened the period which it was required, previously thereto, for a servant to have resided as above mentioned, to enable him to receive more than £500 a year, consequently that remains the same as it was before the said Act was passed, namely; three years, allowing with respect to the Servants educated at Hertford College, the time not exceeding two years passed in that institution, after they were seventeen to be considered as time passed in India; and this will be your future guidance.

ACT LIII. OF GEORGE III, CHAPTER CLV.

LXXXII. And whereas a strict adherence to the Provisions contained in the said Act made in the thirty third year of his present Majesty's reign in respect to the filling up and supplying vacancies in the Civil Service of the said company has been found impracticable without detriment to the public service, or injury to the just claims and meritorious exertions of individuals; and whereas a modification of the said Act has been in part, adopted in the Act of the forty seventh year of his present Majesty relative to the scholars educated at Hertford College, be it therefore enacted, that from and after the passing of this Act any office, place, or employment, the salary and perquisites whereof shall exceed the sum of fifteen hundred pounds, may be granted to and conferred upon the said servants who shall have been actually resident in India in the said Company's Service for the space of four years at the least in the whole, antecedent to such vacancy, and if the salary, perquisites, and emoluments of any office, place, or employment shall exceed the sum of three thousand pounds per annum, such office may be conferred upon any of the said servants who shall have been actually resident in India seven years at the least in the whole; and if the salary, perquisites and emoluments of any office, place or employment, shall exceed four thousand pounds per annum, such office, including that of the Council, may be granted to or conferred upon any of the said servants who shall have been actually resident in India in the Company's Service for the space of ten years at least in the whole.

RANK OF CIVIL SERVANTS RETURNING TO INDIA AFTER FIVE YEARS ABSENCE IN EUROPE.

LXXXV. And be it further enacted, that when and as often any person having held any Civil situation in India, in the service of the said Company, and having departed from India by leave of the Governor General in Council, shall be restored to the Company's service after an absence of five years from the time of such departure, such person from and after such restoration shall take rank and precedence according to the time he shall have passed in the service of the said Company at the period of his departure from India, and on his return to India, if any other Civil Servant or Servants at the settlement to which he shall belong, shall have then passed a greater or the like length of time in the service of the said Company, as the person so restored had passed when he left India, the person so restored shall be placed and take rank immediately below such other Civil servant or servants; any matter or thing, to the contrary notwithstanding.

PRECEDENCE IN THE CIVIL SERVICE IN INDIA.

LXXXVI. And whereas by the said Act of the Parliament of Great Britain of the thirty-third year of his present Majesty's Reign it is enacted that all the Civil servants of the said United Company in India, under the rank or degree of Member of Council shall have and be entitled to precedence in the service of the said Company at their respective stations according to the seniority of their appointment. And whereas the several Governments of the said Company are often prevented from appointing meritorious servants of the said Company to be Members of Courts, Boards, and other official establishments, where office or employments are exercised by several servants of the said Company collectively lest by such appointment one or more Members of such Court, Board, or other establishment should be superseded; be it therefore enacted that it shall and may be lawful for any Governor General in Council of the said Company if he shall think proper, upon application in writing for that propose by any Civil servant of the said Company desirous of being appointed a Member of any such Court, Board, or Establishment, by special order to direct that such servant of the said Company on being appointed to any office or employment in any such Court, or other establishment, although such Civil servant, in respect of whom such order shall be made, may hereby not take precedence at or in such Court, Board, or other establishment, according to the seniority of his appointment to the service of the said Company; and such civil servant shall thereupon take precedence at such Court, Board, or other establishment accordingly, the said Act or any other matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding.

ACT VII OF GEORGE IV. CHAPTER LVI

Extract from an Act to suspend the provisions of an Act of His late Majesty respecting the appointment of Writers in the service of the East India Company, and to authorize the payment of the allowance of the Civil and Military Officers of the said Company dying while absent from India. [26th May 1828.]

III And whereas by an Act passed in the thirty-third year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intitled an Act for continuing in the East India Company for a further term the possession of British territories in India, together with their exclusive trade, under certain limitations; for establishing further regulations for the Government of the said territories, and the better administration of justice within the same: for appropriating to certain uses the revenues and profits of the said Company, and for making provision for the good order and Government of the Towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay; it was enacted, that if any Governor General, or any other officer whatever in the service of the Company, should quit or leave the presidency or settlement to which he should belong, other than in the known actual service of the said Company, the salary and allowance appertaining to his office should not be paid or payable during his absence to any agent or other person for his use; and in the event of his not returning back to his station at such presidency or settlement, or his coming to Europe, his salary and allowances should be deemed to have ceased from the day of his quitting such presidency or settlement, any law or usage to the contrary notwithstanding. And whereas it hath happened that officers, as well Civil as Military, in the service of the said Company, who have quitted the presidencies or settlements to which they respectively belonged in consequence of ill health with the intention of returning to their stations at such presidencies or settlements without proceeding to Europe, have died during such temporary absence within the limits of the said Company's charter, or at the Cape of Good Hope; and whereas it is just and reasonable that the representatives of such officers should be entitled to the salaries and allowances of such officers from the time of quitting their stations, be it therefore enacted, that it shall and may be lawful to and for the said Company to cause payment to be made to the representatives of officers in their service Civil or Military, who having quitted or left their stations, and not having proceeded or intended to proceed to Europe, but intending to return to their stations, have died, or may hereafter happen to die, during their temporary absence within the limits of the said Company's charter, or at the Cape of Good Hope, of such salaries and allowances, or such portion of salaries and allowances, as the officers so dying would have been entitled to, if they had returned to their stations.

IV. And whereas certain payments have heretofore been made under the circumstances aforesaid, be it further enacted, that all such payments so made shall be deemed and taken to have been legally made; any thing in the said recited Act of Parliament to the contrary notwithstanding, provided always, that nothing herein contained shall extend to authorize the said Company to make any such payment to the representatives of any such officer who shall have quitted or left his station prior to the second day of May, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Twenty One.

ACT X. OF GEORGE IV. CHAPTER XVI.

An Act to continue the operation of an Act of the seventh year of His present Majesty for suspending the provisions of an Act of His late Majesty respecting the appointment of writers in the service of the East India Company, and to amend the provisions of an Act of the forty-seventh year of his late Majesty, so far as they relate to the period of residence at Hertford College as a qualification for certain offices.

[14th May, 1820.]

Whereas an Act was passed in the seventh year of the reign of His present Majesty intituled an Act to suspend the provisions of an Act of His late Majesty respecting the appointment of writers in the Service of the East India Company, and to authorize the payment of the allowances of the Civil and Military Officers of the said Company dying while absent from India. And whereas it is expedient to continue, for a time to be limited, the provisions of the said Act of the seventh year of His Majesty, so far as the same relate to the appointment of writers in the service of the East India Company, and to the establishment of rules and regulations respecting their qualifications. May it therefore please your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual, Temporal and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the provisions of the above-mentioned Act of the seventh year of His present Majesty, so far as the same relate to the appointment of Writers in the service of the East India Company, and to the establishment of proper rules and regulations, respecting the qualifications of such writers, shall continue and be in force until the tenth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four.

And whereas by virtue of an Act passed in the forty seventh year of the Reign of His said late Majesty, all such time as shall be bona fide spent in the College established in England by the East India Company for the education of their Civil servants, by any persons after they shall respectively have attained the age of seventeen years is accounted as to certain offices, places and employments which such persons are entitled to hold in India, as so much time actually spent in India, provided that such persons shall either before or after seventeen years of age have spent two years at the least in the said College. And whereas it is expedient that the privileges so granted should under certain circumstances, be extended to young men who may have spent less time than two years in the regular course of education at the said College; be it therefore enacted, that all such time not exceeding two years as shall have been or shall be bona fide spent in the said College in the regular course of such education as aforesaid by any person after they shall respectively have attained the age of seventeen years who shall have proceeded or shall hereafter proceed to India in the Civil Service of the Company, shall be accounted as to all offices, places and employments to which such persons are entitled to be appointed and to hold, the salary, perquisites and emoluments whereof shall not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred pounds, per annum, as so much time actually spent in India; any law or usage to the contrary thereof in any wise notwithstanding.

ARTICLE V.

FUND.

Sec. 1. The object of the Institution and Fund are fourfold

1st. To provide for those Members who are obliged by ill health to leave India for a time the means of doing so, in case their furlough allowance and passage money, when entitled to them from Government, or their private fortunes, are inadequate to the expense.

2dly. To provide for those Members who, by unavoidable accident or misfortune, are compelled to renounce the service.

3rdly. To provide for the Widows and children of deceased Members. And 4thly. To give all those Members who have served in the Civil Service 25 years, and actually resided 22 years of that period in India, or if compelled by ill health to quit India before completing that period, after a residence of fifteen or ten years as the case may be, Annuities on their retiring from the Service.

Sec. 2nd. In order to secure to each its proper attention, the Fund shall be divided into two branches—the Provident Branch and the Annuity Branch—and the Accountant shall separate and keep the accounts under these two distinct heads.

Sec. 3rd. In addition to the monthly contributions of the Subscribers, the Provident Branch shall be credited with the remainder of the balance of the Old Fund as it stood on the 1st May 1825, after deducting the sum of Rupees 5,33,333 to be transferred from that date to the Annuity Branch, together with the difference between 8 and 6 per cent interest on the capital of the Annuity Branch of Rupees 5,33,333—and with interest at 8 per cent. per annum as allowed by the Honorable Court of Directors.

Sec. 4th. The Provident Branch shall be applicable to the payment of all demands arising from the three first objects of the Institution, as likewise for the payment of all extra charges of management, Establishment, Printing, &c., an annual credit of Rupees 4,500 being on that account given to the Provident Branch by a debit to the Annuity Branch.

Sec. 5th. The Annuity Branch from the 1st May 1825 is to be credited with the sum of Rupees 5,33,333, together with the total amount of the Honorable Company's annual donation of £2,800 and an annual contribution from the Honorable Company for the present of one Lac of Rupees, in addition to the monthly contribution of subscribers, and the interest on the balances at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum.

Sec. 6th. The Annuity Branch shall be made applicable for the payment to retired servants, of all Annuities of £1,000, £500, and £250 as well as that of £400, with a distinct understanding that the capital transferred on account of the Annuities of the old Fund is finally to merge in the New Fund; that the number of Annuities of £400 shall at no time exceed eighteen; and that so soon as all claims upon the Old Fund are satisfied, the contribution from the Honorable Company of £2,800 per annum shall entirely cease.

ARTICLE VI.

ADMISSION OF MEMBERS.

Sec. 1st. No person shall be admitted a Member of the Institution but who is a Covenanted Civil Servant on the Bombay Establishment.

Sec. 2nd. Every person appointed to the Civil Service on the Bombay establishment after the 1st of May 1825, shall, agreeably to his covenant, become a Member of the Institution on his arrival within the limits of the Presidency, from which date, his subscriptions to the Fund shall commence.

In cases of second or other Marriages, the Subscriptions, in estimating the minimum demand, are to date from the previous wife's decease, but in the adjustment of the minimum payment, the subscriptions paid during a first, second, or other marriage are to be taken as a deduction for the claims of the children born during the existence of each marriage respectively.

Sec. 11th. The Annuities shall commence on the first of May in each year, beginning with the year 1826, that is to say, shall fall due at the end of the said official year, and in like manner the succeeding Annuities shall commence on the 1st day of the following official year, and fall due at the close of each year respectively. The quarterly payments will be made on the 1st days of February, May, August, and November in each year.

SEC. 12th. No Annuity shall be tendered for acceptance to any Member who may be at the time of its falling vacant, under temporary suspension by order of the Government or the Court of Directors, but in such case it shall pass on to the next Member in succession who may be entitled to the acceptance of it, unless such Member shall have been restored to the Service before it shall come to his turn to have it tendered to him for his acceptance.

SEC. 13th. At a convenient period before the close of each year the Trustees of the Fund shall require, according to seniority, a sufficient number of Subscribers to signify their willingness or otherwise to take on the Annuity to be granted by the Fund, and in case of the absence from India of Members, such requisition shall be made to their constituted Agents in Bombay. It will of course be incumbent on the Members duly qualified to become Annuitants previous to leaving India to empower one or more persons in Bombay to act on their behalf, and to communicate to the Trustees the names of such Agents. Such Members previous to quitting India must leave information of their age either in the Civil Fund Office or with their Agents, agreeably to Section 7 of this Article, and should likewise intimate in what manner they wish to draw their Annuities, whether annually, annually and to the day of death, or quarterly and to the day of death, to enable the amount of fine chargeable to them on their accepting Annuities to be calculated.

SEC. 14th. Those Members, to whom a requisition may be made as above provided, and on whose part no reply may be received on or before the 1st day of November of the year preceding that in which the Annuities intended to be granted may commence, and those who may have quitted India and failed to empower any resident in Bombay to act for them during their absence, shall be regarded as Annuitants.

SEC. 15th. Should any Subscriber, having resided in India in the Civil Service not less than 22 years, and been a Member of it, the full period of 25 years, retire from the Service before the option of an Annuity may devolve on him, he shall be entitled to the same in his proper turn without any payment to the Fund, save what may be claimable from him to complete the fine of one half (on one fourth) of the actual value of the Annuity on his life, on taking up such Annuity.

SEC. 16th. The right of an Annuitant to receive the Annuity for any particular year shall depend on his having survived that year unless the same has been secured to the date of decease, as provided for in Section 5th of this Article.

SEC. 17th. The actual value of Annuities, tendered and accepted as above, shall be passed to a separate account on the books of the Institution, under the head of "Appropriated Funds," and to the debit of this account shall be entered all payments in satisfaction of Annuities.

SEC. 18th. At the close of every third year the Managers shall, according to the Annexed Tables, G. H. and I. calculate the actual values of the pending Annuities, and shall then compare the total of their values with the assets belonging to the appropriated Funds of the Institution. Should those assets exceed in value the said total, the difference shall be carried to the credit of the unappropriated Funds of the Annuity Fund, as it be available for the purpose of the Institution, on the other hand, should the value of the said assets be less than the total aforesaid, the deficiency shall be supplied by transfer from the latter Fund to the former.

SEC. 19th. In discharge of each Annuity of Rupees 10,000, Rupees 5,000, or Rupees 2,500, granted by the Fund, the sums of £1,000, £500 or £250 as the case may be, shall be paid to the Annuitant through the Company's Treasury in London at the close of the year in which the Annuity may commence or according as the instalments may fall due, in the case of quarterly payments the Trustees of the Fund undertaking at the like periods to pay over to the Government of Bombay the equivalent sums for each Annuity so payable under the principles upon which the Company's contribution is to be regulated - including the payments for the quarterly issues and for the payments to the date of decease.

SEC. 20th. The actual value of an Annuity of any Subscriber, as well as the additional payments for its continuance to the date of decease, or for its quarterly issue and continuance to the date of decease, shall be determined by the annexed Table.

SEC. 21st. In computing the amount of fine to be paid into the Treasury by a Subscriber previous to his becoming an Annuitant, credit shall be given him for the total amount of his Subscriptions to the New Fund since the 1st of May 1825, with compound interest at the rate of 6 per cent, together with his subscriptions to the Old Fund without interest up to the 1st May 1825, in the same proportion as the Capital transferred to meet the Annuities bears to the whole Capital of the Fund.

SEC. 22nd. To determine the accumulated value of the contributions of any Subscriber, the Accountant shall keep separate accounts of each Member, and these accounts shall be annually made up with the rate of interest allowed by the Company.

SEC. 23rd. A Member upon becoming an Annuant, and expressing his wish to receive his annuity in England, shall be furnished with a formal certificate declaratory of his admission to the Annuity, and of the manner in which it is to be drawn by him under the hands of not less than five Members of the Committee of which the Secretary shall be one. A duplicate of this Certificate shall be furnished to the Government for transmission to the Honorable Court of Directors in London.

Bombay Castle, 10th June 1841.

No. 300. The pay of the European Troops at the three Presidencies having been assimilated, and the Government of India having authorized the issue of the same in arrear, agreeably to the practice observed under the Bengal Presidency, the following rules are laid down for the gradual accomplishment of that object.

The pay of the European Commissioned officers of the Company's Service will be paid in arrear in conformity with instructions issued, to Pay-master under the decision of Government, dated the 8th February 1838, namely— All officers entering or returning to the service from Europe and all those promoted, will not be allowed to draw net pay in advance. The period fixed for the commencement of this arrangement was the 1st February 1838, a reference to the date of the Officer arrival in, or return to this country, or to that of the General Order announcing his promotion will enable the pay and audit departments to ascertain readily whether the pay of any Officer has or has not been thrown into arrear.

The pay of the European Soldiers of the Company's service arriving from Europe after the 1st May 1841, will be paid in arrear, and of the Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers previously in the service, (though actually paid in advance), will be considered as paid in arrear from the above date and issued in every respect in the same manner as the pay of the Men drawing pay in arrear, with this exception, namely,---That when such men become casualties the pay overdrawn shall be deducted from the abstract as at present.

Her Majesty's Troops, both Officers and men of Regiments now on this establishment, and all who may hereafter join those Regiments from Europe or elsewhere will continue to draw pay in advance as at present, but those belonging to Regiments placed on this Establishment after the 1st May 1841, will draw pay in arrear.

The aggregate monthly amount of the pay and allowances of the Officers of the relieving Regiments will be precisely the same as that drawn by Company's Officers of corresponding ranks, the following Table shows the item included in the aggregate sum.

No. 436.—The Right Honorable the Governor in Council, with a view to a more complete assimilation of the rules of the three Presidencies regarding the Regimental Pay and Allowances of the European Commissioned Officers of the Honorable Company's Service, is pleased to direct that from the 1st day of October next, they shall be drawn at the rates laid down in the following Tables, in which the total receipts in each rank correspond exactly with those now existing, the calculations having been made for a period of four years, in order to embrace a leap year.

In drawing arrears for broken periods for any month, they are to be calculated with reference to the number of days in the month, and agreeably to the monthly rates now laid down.

In abstracts for Garrison Pay and Allowances the different items composing the consolidated sum shown in the Table A need not be stated but for Officers not entitled to Tentage, or for those entitled to only Half Tentage, the total of each in the abstract must be reduced accordingly.

The House Rent of Officers living in Public Quarters and not entitled to that allowance, is nevertheless to be included in the total, but the amount must be deducted on the face of the Abstract, and Paymasters will give credit for the same in their Cash Accounts under the proper head. Separate Abstract for additional Half Batta when in the Field, at a Full Batta station, or marching must as heretofore, invariably be made, and the amount drawn at the rate laid down in the second column in the Field Table B, and Staff Officers who receive it in virtue of their Staff Appointments, will draw it to their Staff Abstract.

Officers individually detached from Garrison Station on Court Martial, or their temporary duties which entitled them to both House Rent and Tentage, will, as heretofore, charge the full amount of half Batta in their Field Abstract.

Adjutants and Quarter Masters of Troops of Horse Artillery at Bombay, will be abolished as vacancies occur, and a Brigade Adjutant and Quarter Master in one person, appointed in the allowances above specified.

The Staff to the Brigade of Horse and Battalions of European Foot Artillery at Fort Saint George, and to the European Foot Artillery at Bombay, will prospectively, as vacancies occur, merge into one Officer for each European Brigade and Battalion, (in conformity with the practice in Bengal) who will draw the allowances above specified.

The duties and emoluments of the Regimental Staff alluded to in the two preceding paragraphs, will remain unaffected until opportunities occur for effecting the proposed consolidation of their appointments.

The separate office of Interpreter to the European Regiment at Bombay, will also be abolished prospectively, and as at the other Presidencies, a Quarter Master and Interpreter will be appointed on the scale of allowances here indicated for the Office. In the meantime, the Quarter Master will continue to draw the same aggregate of emoluments heretofore, but the same will in future be passed under the new heads herein detailed.

The additional Staff allowance of 30 Rupees a month, now granted at Bombay, to Quarter Masters and Interpreters of Native Infantry, and Native Artillery, when Interpreters of both the Hindoostanee and Mahratta Languages, will also be abolished prospectively, and in all future appointments, the nominee will draw staff pay at the new rate now assigned of 62 Rs. a month.

The present duties and emoluments of Interpreters of Her Majesty's Regiment of Dragoons and Infantry will both remain unaffected, but as vacancies occur, the separate Interpreterships, whenever existing in each language, Hindoostanee and Mahratta, will merge into one for both languages, on the allowances here stated. This rule will apply equally to the Interpreter of the European Regiment.

The allowance of 21 Rupees a month, granted at Fort Saint George, to the Adjutants of Corps, European and Native while in the field or marching, for the carriage of Regimental Books of their own, and the Quarter Master's Department, will likewise be respectively abolished, and the board side expenses incurred for those purposes, will be drawn when actually marching, as in Bengal.

9. Officers hereafter appointed to veteran battalions shall not, on their retirement therefrom, acquire any claim to full retired pay, but upon reduction shall be liable to be placed upon half pay under the same regulations as Officers reduced from regiments of the Line.

HALF PAY.

10. The half pay of the Army is a remuneration for past Military services, and also an obligation on the part of the Officers to return to his Military duties whenever called upon, and any Officer not obeying the calls is liable to forfeit his half pay.

11. No officer shall be entitled to be placed on the half pay establishment on reduction from full pay, unless he shall have actually done duty in some other Military capacity in the public service, for a period of at least six years, excepting he shall have been compelled to retire upon half pay, by wounds received in action; or by ill health contracted on duty in our colonies after three years' Service.

12. An Officer having served more than three and less than six years, will however if reduced, be placed upon half pay, until recalled to active service.

13. An Officer having served less than three years, will if reduced, receive only a temporary allowance of half pay, according to the following scale:—

15. But an officer on temporary half pay shall be eligible to be appointed to a full pay commission either by exchange or otherwise, provided his appointment shall take place within five years after he has ceased to receive temporary half pay, in which case his former service shall be allowed to reckon.

16. The exchange to full pay under the preceding article may be made with a full pay officer entitled to half pay.

17. If an officer receiving the temporary allowance shall have purchased his commission, he may receive the regulation price thereof from the public through the Secretary at War, and the sum thus advanced shall be refunded to the public by the sale of a first full pay commission, provided that not more than one first commission out of two be thus sold for refunding to the public the regulated price of the commission so advanced.

18. If a Subaltern Officer having a claim to half pay is desirous of selling or committing his half pay, the following Rule shall be observed:—If he purchased his commission, the regulated price may be given (whether receiving half pay or temporary allowance) with the usual precaution of a medical certificate as to his being in a good state of health.

If he did not purchase his commission, he may receive the new price of that commission, if a Lieut. with seven years full-pay service in the Army, or with six years' if a Cornet or Esquiro; and the old price of the commission if under those periods, and above four years' full pay service.

If he did not purchase his commission and should retire after less than four years' and more than three years' service, at his own request, and not on account of ill health or wounds, he shall only receive half the price of the commission at the new rate.

19. But in the cases included in the two preceding Articles, no officer on half pay shall of right, have a claim to sell or commute his half pay—the permission shall be governed by such a consideration of the individual case as the General Commanding-in-Chief and Secretary at War may think proper to recommend to us.

20. No Garrison, Commission or Appointment shall give an officer any claim to half pay on retirement.

21. An officer who applies to retire upon half pay on the ground of ill health, must, if stationed in near London or Dublin, be examined by the principal officers of the Army Medical Departments in those cities, and if stationed elsewhere by a board of Medical Officers, agreeably to the provisions of the articles of War; the result of such examination to be forwarded to the General Commanding-in-Chief and Secretary at War. If such examination shall not take place the officer will be considered to have retired upon half pay for his own convenience.

22. Every Quarter the residence of the half pay officer is to be stated in his declaration, whether his half pay be received by an agent or by himself.

23. If an officer of any of the undermentioned ranks shall have entered the Service since the termination of the war in 1815, and shall, after the date of this warrant, be permitted to exchange to half pay, not on account of ill health, but for his private convenience, before he has served seven years on full pay, he shall be allowed only the old rate of half pay specified in the following schedule; if the retirement should be for the public convenience by reduction or otherwise, or in consequence of ill health as certified by a Medical Board, the officer will be allowed the new rate of half pay.

No 481 of 1842.—The Honorable the Governor in Council is pleased to publish for general information, the following General Order by the Government of India.

No 100 of 1842.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT IN COUNCIL.

Fort William, 1st July 1842.

In obedience to the orders of the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, in their Military Letter to the Government of India, No. 6 under date the 4th May 1842, the following Regulations are to have effect in the Medical Department of the three Presidencies, from the 18th instant.

The situation of Superintending Surgeon to be considered a Staff Appointment, to which only those fitted for it by a zealous and able discharge of their Professional Duties, shall be deemed eligible, and the appointment to future vacancies will be made without reference to the order of succession, whenever it may be the opinion of Government, that such departure from Seniority is required for the maintenance of the Public Interests.

The present system, by which all Pensions in the Medical Service superior to those of Surgeon. (Captain's full pay after 17 year's Service in India,) are dependant on promotion to the Staff Appointment of Superintending Surgeons is abolished, and in its stead the principle of granting those Pensions according to length of service established upon the following scale, viz.

After 20 years' service, 3 years' furlough included as at present.	£ 191 a year.
" 28 "	£ 300 .. do.
" 32 "	£ 365 .. do.
" 35 .. "	£ 500 .. do.
" 38 "	£ 700 .. do.

The Present Regulations by which Superintending Surgeons are entitled as such to, retiring Pensions of £300 and £365 a year, and Members of the medical Board to Pensions of £500, and £700 a year, according to period of service in those ranks respectively, will cease to be the rule of the Service for Medical Officers, after the date of the introduction of the new arrangements; but individuals then in the Service, and who may be appointed to the Offices of Superintending Surgeon and Member of the Board, within ten years from that date will be allowed the option of retiring upon Pensions upon the Old Scale of length of Service in those ranks, instead of the New Scale of length of Service in India.

The designation of 1st, 2nd and 3rd Members of the Medical Board is abolished, and the following Titles are substituted

Physician General	1st Member.
Surgeon General	2nd ditto.
Inspector General	3rd ditto.

The members of the Board will, accordingly, be commissioned with these Titles when appointed to the respective position above mentioned, and when retiring from the Service, will be placed on the retired List, with the title then held by them.

The Regulation which fixes the rank of Brigadier General, as the relative Army rank of Members of the medical Board, will equally apply to those Members under the new Titles now established.

All Surgeons of 30 years' Service, to be designated "Senior Surgeons" and their relative rank with Officers of the Army to be that of Major. This arrangement, like all others having reference only to the rank and designation of Medical Officers, confers no claim whatever to superior allowances, and will make no change whatever in the nature of their employment.

GENERAL ORDERS BY THE HONORABLE THE PRESIDENT IN COUNCIL.

Port William, 9th December 1837

The Honorable the President in Council, has much pleasure in publishing to the Army, the following Extract. Paras. 2 to 5, of a Letter from the Court of Directors, to the Government of India, No. 5 dated 20th September 1837, announcing the grant of additional advantages to the Senior Officers of the Army, in respect of Retiring Pension.

In our letter of the 23d December 1835 we announced to you, that as we considered it hopeless to expect, that any military retiring fund could be successfully formed, we had thought it right, so far as we could feel justified in doing so, to provide for the object contemplated in schemes of that nature, by an enlargement of the Retiring Regulations, and that we had in consequence, resolved to grant the full pay of Captain to every Officer who should have served in India 23 years (3 years furlough), where he had attained that rank Regimentally or not, and the full pay of each of the superior ranks of Major, Lieutenant Colonel, after the completion of an additional period of five years service for each of those ranks in succession viz.

For Major's pay.....28 years service, including 3 years for a furlough.

For Lieutenant Colonel's pay 33.....ditto.....ditto.

For Colonel's pay.....38.....ditto.....ditto.

2. Being now of opinion, that some additional advantage in respect to the periods of retirement, may properly be granted to the senior officers who would have been more especially the immediate objects of benefit from a retiring fund, qualify an officer of the pay of each advanced rank after that of Captain, shall be redeemed from five to four years; the periods of service in India, required for each rank, being consequently hereafter as follows, viz.

Every Officer who shall have served 23 years (3 years furlough included) shall be allowed to retire on the pay of Captain, whether he shall have attained that rank, Regimentally or not.

Every Officer who shall have served 31 years (3 years furlough included,) shall be allowed to retire on the pay of a Major, whether he shall have attained that rank or not.

Every officer who shall have served 35 years, (3 years furlough included,) shall be allowed to retire on the pay of a Lieutenant Colonel, whether he shall have attained that rank or not.

4th. These arrangements to have effect without prejudice to any claims arising out of the Retiring Regulations as established in the year 1796.

5th. We desire that it may be distinctly understood, that the present is a final measure. You will accordingly decline to forward to us any application which may have in view a further extension of the Regulations now established with regard to the retirement of our military servants.

We are, &c.

(Signed) J. STURT, Lieut. Col.

London, 20th Sept. 1837.

Offg. Secy to the Govt. of India, Mil. Dept.

Officers coming to England on furlough, are immediately to report their arrival by letter to the Secretary, stating the name of the ship in which they came and their address, forwarding at the same time the certificates they received in India.

The period of furlough is three years, reckoning from its date to the day of the return of the Officer to his Presidency.

Officers are required to join the establishment to which they belong at the expiration of three years furlough, unless they shall have obtained an extension of leave from the Court, six months before the expiration of that period. No furlough will be extended, except in cases of sickness, certified in the manner hereafter mentioned, or in cases which it shall be proved to the Court that a further residence in Europe is indispensably necessary.

All officers finding it necessary to solicit a further leave of absence on account of sickness must, if resident in London or its vicinity, appear before the Company's examining physician who will report to the Court of Directors his opinion on the state of such officer's health. And if resident in the Country in any part of the United Kingdom, they must transmit, with their letter of application for such leave a certificate of the following form, signed by at least two gentlemen, eminent in the medical profession:—

I hereby certify, that I have carefully examined (state the nature of the case as well as the name of the party) and I declare, upon my honor, that, according to the best of my judgement and belief is at present unfit for Military duty, and it is absolutely necessary for the recovery of his health, that he should remain at least longer in this Country

Also, previously to such extension of furlough being granted, such further proof shall be adduced by personal examination, or by such other evidence as shall be deemed satisfactory.

Officers abroad in any part of Europe applying to remain a further time from their duty, on account of sickness, are to furnish a certificate of two eminent physicians, in the above form with the attestation of a Magistrate that the persons who signed the certificate are physicians.

Officers having obtained an extension of furlough to a given period, must, at its expiration, apply for permission, either to return to their duty, or to reside a further time in England.

No Officer who has failed to obtain an extension of furlough will be considered eligible to return to the service after five years absence, under the Act of the Geo 111 cap 52, sec. 70.

Every Officer upon leaving India will receive a printed copy of the General Orders on this subject, published agreeably to the Court's instructions, and the plea of ignorance of the regulations will not be admitted as any justification of the breach of them: officers, therefore, who shall come home on furlough and who shall not in due time apply, as to effect their return to the Presidency to which they belong within the period of three years, from the commencement of their furlough will subject themselves to the loss of the service, unless they shall be permitted by the Court to remain a further time in Europe.

No officer on furlough can receive pay for more than two years and half from the period of his quitting India, excepting Colonels of Regiments, and those of the rank of Lieutenant Colonels regimentally, when promoted to that of Major General, they are then allowed to draw the pay of their rank beyond the above period.

All Officers who quit India on furlough, shall, for the period during which by existing regulations they receive pay, be allowed at the following rates.

XIX. Officers in Command of Forts or Garrisons have a right to the complimentary Honours from the Troops under their command, which are due to the Rank one degree higher than the Rank they actually possess.

XX. When two Regiments meet on their march, the Regiment inferior in point of rank is to halt, and form in parade order, and salute the other Regiment, which proceeds on its march, with Swords drawn or Bayonets fixed. Trumpets sounding or Drums beating, standards or Colours flying, till it has cleared the front of the Regiment which has halted.

XXI. Regiments of Cavalry have rank above those of the Infantry; but it is to be observed, that on these occasions, all Regiments marching with standards or Colours have a claim to receive the Compliment from any Regiment or Detachment they may meet on their march, not having Standards or Colours without reference to the Rank and precedence of the particular Corps.

XXII. The line turns out without Arms whenever the General Commanding in chief comes along the front of the Camp. On this occasion, Tents of the Quarter-Guards must be struck, the Camp Colours must be planted in line with the Sergeants' Pikes and Tents, the Drums piled up behind the Colours. XXVII. It is the duty of every Warrant Officer, of whatever Department attached as well as of every Non-Commissioned Officer and Soldier borne upon the strength of the Army, however employed, at all times, and in all situations, to pay the proper compliment to all Officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Services; and that the most serious notice will be taken of any instance which is referred to Head Quarters, were this positive order has not been strictly attended to.

XXIX. Although it is contrary to the usage of the Service, for guards to turn out for Compliments, after Sun-set, yet it is incumbent on Non-Commissioned Officers, not on duty and on Soldiers not actually posted as Sentinels, to pay the same Attention and Compliments to Officers (when dressed in their Uniforms) by Night, as by day.

XXX. It is equally the Duty of Non-Commissioned Officers and Soldiers, at all times, and in all situations, to pay the proper Compliments to Officers of the Royal Navy and Marines, and to Officers of other Regiments, when dressed in their Uniforms, as the Officers of their own particular Corps.

XXXI. When a Soldier without Arms, or with Side-Arms only, meets an Officer, he will continue to move on, but he is to raise his hand to his Cap, looking at the same time in a respectful and soldier-like manner at the Officer, who will make a suitable acknowledgment to the Compliment he receives from a Soldier.

XXXII. From a Soldier accounted, but with Side-arms only, the Compliment to an Officer passing him, is to be, his standing to his proper Front, at the correct position of attention.

XXXIII. This providing for the case of the Men of a Guard which has been directed not to fall in under Arms, but who may be sitting or walking outside of the Guard Room; or of Troops on Parade when Arms are piled, and other similar cases, all modes of Saluting when walking by, or halted, contrary to what is pointed out above, are to be discontinued forthwith.

Revised Passage Warrant.

War-Office, May, 6, 1844.

SIR,—I have the honor to inclose Her Majesty's Warrant of this date revising the Warrant of the 19th Oct., 1842, for Regulating the Passages and Passage Allowances of Officers of the Army.

1. The alterations which have been made do not affect the principle which governed the former Warrant—that an Officer should pay for his own messing at sea that sum only to which he was subjected for his ordinary messing on shore.

2. By the Warrant of 19th Oct., 1842, Officers messes on board Queen's ships, whether at the table of the Captain or at the mess of the Lieutenants, and Officers messes under the contract, at the table of the Master of a vessel chartered or hired by the public, were liable to prescribed contributions from their pay for their own messing, and for that of each member of their family, which contributions were to be stopped from their pay by the Secretary-at-War.

3. The Warrant of the 6th May, 1844 has established that—

A Field Officer, messes at the table of a Captain of the Navy, will have to contribute the sum of £3.6d. a day for his own messing, and the daily sums prescribed, in the 13th Article of the Instructions, for the messing of each member of his family. This contribution will be deducted from his pay by the Secretary-at-War; and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty will issue the prescribed allowances to the Captain of the Navy.

4. A Field Officer has, however, the option of joining with his family, the ward room mess.

5. Officers messes at the table of the Lieutenant commanding, or at the table of the Lieutenant of a ship of war, will receive from the Secretary-at-War 4s. a day, in aid of the expense of their own messing, in advance for the same number of days as the pay is issued in advance on embarkation, but will be required to pay to the Officers of the ship the actual share of the expense of the mess, equally with the officers of the ship, and will also pay to the Officers of the ships the proportions of that actual expense prescribed by the 13th Article of the Instructions for their wives and children permitted to embark with them. Such proportion of the payment is to be made in advance, as may be considered by the Naval Officers necessary for procuring the mess for the passage.

6. Officers messes in vessels hired or chartered by the public, in which a proportion is under the contract, to be provided by the Master, will be liable to a deduction of £2.6d. a day from their pay by the Secretary-at-War for their own messing, but must themselves pay to the Master, the sums prescribed in the 14th Article of the Instructions for the messing of each member of their family.

7. Officers provided with passages in the contract steam-vessels are to be subjected to the prescribed contribution of £3.6d. a day themselves, and must pay to the owners the contract rate for the accommodation and messing of their families.

8. Officers entitled to a free passage, and providing their own mess on board ships, will be allowed 4s. a day, to be paid to them by the Secretary-at-War, but are not entitled to any allowance whatever for the messing of their families.

9. I have to request that you will caution Officers to be particularly careful that the prescribed certificates are in every instance obtained, to enable them to receive the liberal allowances which Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to sanction.---I have, &c.

H. HARDING.

CAUSE OF EXCLUSION FROM THE BENEFITS OF THE FUND.

1. A Subscriber prior to the orders of the Hon'ble Court, withdrawing from the Fund, forfeits, ipso facto, all claims to the benefits derivable from it, as also the amount of his donation and subscription, and all other sums which he may have paid up to the period of secession.

2. The non-payment of donation, subscription, or any other sums demanded from them in conformity to the Regulations, shall exclude Subscribers from all the benefits derivable from the Fund.

3. Also the non-compliance with any Regulation of the Military Fund or the bringing under litigation any decision which has been passed in conformity to these Regulations.

4. All income derived from the Bombay Military Fund is declared to be unalienable, and the fact of attempting the alienation of such income in any manner, or under any pretence, shall be deemed in itself a forfeiture of all future benefits from the Fund.

5. The widow of a Subscriber who shall have been legally divorced or separated from her husband, or who shall, at the time of his death, have quitted his protection, or shall be living in a state of adultery, though not legally separated or divorced, shall not be entitled to any benefits from the Fund, under any circumstances whatever.

6. If, after the widow of a Subscriber shall have been admitted to the benefits of the Fund, it shall at any time appear to the satisfaction of the Directors, that she is living in a state of incontinence, or in a manner discreditable to the memory of her husband, she shall forfeit all claims to the benefits derivable from the Fund, and shall in future be deprived of her annuity.

SECTION V.

EVENTUAL BENEFITS OF THE FUND.

1. Independent of the benefits which have been retired, the Bombay Military Fund is considered as holding out the prospect of eventual benefits under the following circumstances:—

2. If at any future period it shall be found that the fund of the institution afford a considerable surplus, after providing for the actual and probable applications for relief under preceding articles, it shall then, and not otherwise, be competent for the Directors of the Institution, provided the permission of the Hon'ble Court of Directors be obtained, to afford the aid of the Fund in the following cases.

First. To Subscribers compelled by ill health to abandon the country after ten years' service, and before they are entitled to retire on full pay, the regulated passage money of their rank and an annuity which shall render their total income from whatever source derived, equal to the full pay of their rank.

a These comprise Passage money Equipment and Income allowances

Second.—To officers who may have served twenty-two years in India, and may be compelled by ill-health to retire from the service, without having attained the rank of Major, the regulated passage money of their rank, and such assistance from the Fund, as will render their whole income, from whatever source, equal to the pay of Major; and, as in the case of widows, the possession of an income not exceeding half the pay of a Major of Infantry, shall not occasion abatement from the provision to be made from the Fund.

Third.—In the event of a still further surplus, it shall be competent for the Directors of the Military Fund at their discretion, to assist Officers retiring from the service on full pay, in limited circumstances, with a sum equal to the regulated passage money of their rank, provided always that the resignation of such Officer shall actually have been accepted, previously to his embarkation.

Fourth.—Should the Fund, however, at any period fall short of the demands upon it, so that the annual income will not defray the amount of the annuities and other claims, then it shall be in the power of the Directors to make a proportionate deduction from the annuity of each annuitant, and from the payments to other claimants above the rank of Subaltern, until the state of the Fund shall afford the means of complete payment, when, if a surplus income exists, the arrears shall be made good from the amount of surplus, but not otherwise.

But any surplus that may eventually be found to have accumulated beyond their proper minimum at the time of their taking annuities, shall be repaid to them.

SECTION III

OF ARREARS PAYABLE BY NEW MEMBERS.

1. Medical Officers of older standing than August 1826, who may be admitted into the fund, in addition to all payments which they would have made if subscribers since the provisional institution in August 1820, shall be charged with the arrears laid down in the rules (a) of that date for those of their standing; together with compound interest at 8 per cent. per annum, up to the date of their admission.

2 Medical Officers of less standing are only subject on admission to the payment of their subscriptions and donations from 1st August 1829, or from the date of their arrival in this country if later, with the addition of compound interest as above.

3 These arrears are payable in 12 equal monthly instalments, commencing from the date of admission into the fund; but a power is vested in the managing committee to extend this period, in special cases, to eighteen months.

2. Three of the members of this committee go out at the end of each year by rotation, but are eligible for immediate re-election. The removal of a member from the presidency to another station, or his departure on leave of absence for six months or more, is held to vacate his seat.

3 All vacancies occurring in the committee are filled up by the general vote of the subscribers, at the earliest opportunity.

4 The Secretary and Accountant is elected by the committee from their own body or the other subscribers. His salary is 500 rupees per annum.

5 This Officer carries on the detail and routine duties; keeping under the direction of the committee, all necessary records, books and accounts of the fund which are open to inspection by any subscriber on application. The office establishment and expenses are confined to what is strictly necessary, and subject at all times in this point to the check of the committee.

6. The committee meet once in two months, or oftener if required for the transaction of business; but none can be entered on unless three members are present, nor can any bill be drawn against the funds in the treasury without the signatures of the majority of the committee.

7. In conducting the institution, the managers shall invariably be guided by its established rules, deciding minor cases not specially provided for, in accordance with their tenor and spirit, but referring all matters of importance to the general interests to the decision of the subscribers at large.

8. The committee shall exercise their discretion in circulating to the subscribers proposals submitted to them with that view, unless required to do so by ten or more subscribers, or unless the question be one of personal claim or grievance, when it shall be their duty to submit the matter with their observations to the general vote. But if this vote be adverse on any personal question thus argued against the opinion of the committee, the expense attending its circulation shall be borne by the individual.

9. Questions submitted to the subscribers are decided by the votes received within six weeks after circulation.

10. A majority of two thirds of the votes so received is necessary for passing, altering or rescinding any regulation of the fund.

11. A majority of four-fifths of the votes so received is necessary for altering the present value of annuity, or equivalent, the present scale of minimum, or the present rate of subscription.

SECTION V.

OF THE ANNUITIES.

1. The annuities are of £300 each, payable half yearly in England; or if the retiring member prefers, he may receive from the fund the money value of his annuity here in rupees, according to the annexed Table A, subject to a deduction of one-fifth.

2. One annuity is available each year through the Honorable Company's Treasury. The number of further annuities or equivalents depends on the state of the funds, provided in Section VII.

3. The Fund guarantees the payment in London of such extra annuities with the same regularity and at the same periods as those paid through the Honorable Company's Treasury. The managers will make the necessary arrangements for this purpose in communication with the annuitant.

4. A subscriber who has served seventeen years in India, and conforms to these rules, is qualified for the annuity; and in case of absence on furlough he shall empower an agent to accept, decline, complete the minimum, &c. as may be necessary, communicating the name of his constituted attorney to the Secretary.

5. At such times as it may be found advisable to offer an annuity, the Secretary shall call on all qualified subscribers in India and the attorneys of absentees, to convey to him by a given date a sealed letter bearing on the cover the subscriber's name and intimating his readiness or otherwise to accept of an annuity or equivalent. These letters shall be opened at the appointed time before the Committee, beginning with the senior subscribers and proceeding in regular succession downwards till the offered annuities or equivalents are found to be accepted. Any letters then remaining shall be returned unopened to the writers.

6. Three months are allowed to a subscriber in India to retire in, after accepting the annuity. If absent he shall, on being made acquainted with his attorney's acceptance of one for him, immediately resign the service, dating his resignation not later than three months from the time of such acceptance.

7. Any subscriber transgressing the foregoing rule by failing to retire from the service within the prescribed period, shall forfeit to the fund the sum of Rupees (3000) three thousand, or one year's annuity.

8. The acceptor of an annuity or equivalent shall furnish an affidavit of his age, and all applications for payment of the annuity, if not made in person, shall be supported by the certificate of a magistrate that the annuitant was alive at the date to which he claims payment.

9. The annuity commences from the date of the individual's retirement, and is payable to the day of his death.

SECTION VI. OF THE MINIMUM.

A subscriber who retires from the service on the pension of Surgeon, shall pay to the fund on accepting the annuity such sum as, together with his previous contributions and compound interest, shall be equal to one third of the value of his annuity. If retiring on the pension of Superintending Surgeon, he shall make up in like manner two fifths of the value. If as member of the Medical Board, on or before the completion of his second year of service in that capacity, he shall make up one half, over two, and not exceeding three year's service, three fifths; if over three, and not exceeding four years, two thirds; and if during his last year of service, the member shall be entitled to the annuity only on completing as above the payment of its estimated value.

SECTION VII OF THE ACCOUNTS, AND INVESTMENT OF THE FUNDS.

1. The contributions of subscribers, deducted from their abstracts by Paymasters monthly, are placed at the credit of the fund in the General Treasury, bearing interest at 6 per cent. per annum.

2. The payments by each subscriber are carried in the fund books to his individual credit as they are realized, and a copy of this account is furnished to him yearly, made up to the 30th April.

3. The accountant prepares detailed statements of their accounts with compound interest at the rate allowed by Government, for the adjustment of the minimum, of all subscribers accepting annuities, and for other subscribers who may require such statements.

4. The value per table of each annuity, as successively granted by the fund is withdrawn from the available surplus, and entered under the head of appropriated capital in the books of the fund.

5. Of this account a balance shall be struck yearly, when after adjusting the amount of the appropriated capital to the actual value of the existing annuities, and setting apart an extra sum of Rupees 10,000 to meet contingencies the remaining fund shall be considered available for the granting and defraying of new annuities or equivalents during the year.

6. The valuation of annuities shall be in all cases by the annexed table A. which is calculated at 6 per cent. interest, with remittance at two shillings per rupee, and is taken from that of the Civil Fund.

7. A general statement of the operations and conditions of the fund, with an account current of its receipts and disbursements, dated 30th April, shall be prepared annually by the accountant, and laid before the Committee. A copy of this yearly statement shall be furnished to each subscriber.

SECTION VIII.

OF WITHDRAWING FROM THE FUND.

1. A Subscriber retiring from the service before completing his seventeen years in India, is entitled to have his contributions returned to him, and if retiring on certified inability from the state of his health, to service in India, he shall receive his contributions with interest, calculated up to the date of his retirement.

2. A member of the Medical Board at the expiration of his second year of service in that situation, but at no other period, may withdraw from the fund, taking with him the amount of his contributions without interest.

3. Any other subscriber may withdraw from the fund, forfeiting all claim and title to any refund or future benefit from it.

4. A subscriber in India withholding payment for six months of any subscription, donation, instalment of arrears, or other payment due by him to the fund, in conformity with these rules, shall after due warning given by the Secretary, be deemed and taken as withdrawing from the fund, and subject to the forfeiture specified in the preceding clause.

SHIPPING REGULATIONS.

A RULE, ORDINANCE AND REGULATION for establishing an effective control over the shipping resorting to the Port of Bombay, for preventing the desertion of the crews of ships; the European soldiers of the Garrison offering themselves as Seamen, and for the better security of the Harbour and Dock Yard of Bombay — PASSED by the Honorable the Governor in Council of Bombay, on the 31st of May 1820; and registered in the Court of the Honorable the Recorder of Bombay on the eleventh day of July 1820.

Whereas, by the statute passed in the forty-seventh year of his late Majesty King George the third, entitled "an act for the better Government of the settlements of Fort St. George and Bombay," it is enacted that it shall be lawful for the Governor in Council to make and issue Rules for the good order and civil government of this Island, subject to the previous condition of being duly registered and published in the court of Recorder of Bombay, and to such other conditions as are imposed by the statute of the thirteenth, thirty-ninth, fortieth, of his late Majesty, upon the exercise of a like power at Fort William in Bengal by the Governor General in Council, and whereas it is expedient that certain provisions and rules contained in Regulation II. A. D. 4810 entitled "a Regulation for the Port of Bombay, passed by the Governor in Council, on the 30th September, 1819," &c. should be amended and modified, and together with other new rules and provisions for the better government of the Port of Bombay, be promulgated in due form, and receive undisputed legal authority.

It is therefore ordained by the authority of the Honorable the Governor in Council now assembled, and in virtue of the power by the said statute conferred, that from and after the due register and publication of this Rule, Ordinance, and Regulation, consisting of the article hereinafter stated, shall have the full force of law within this island and shall be strictly obeyed as such by all His Majesty's subjects and other persons inhabiting, residing or being in the same.

ARTICLE 3d — Before any European seamen or other European or American is discharged from any ship in the harbour and sent on shore, previous notice shall be given at the Office of the Senior Magistrate of the Police when such European or American is to be sent to the Police for Registry ; and in all cases of desertion, immediate notice thereof is to be given to the Senior Magistrate of Police with the name and particular description of the person or persons deserted in order that he or they may be apprehended, and returned to their ship. On the apprehension of such deserter a reward of Rupees eight will be given to be charged against the ship to which he may belong, and to be paid to the person or persons by whom such service shall have been performed.

Commanders or others, who shall discharge any European or American seamen from on board their ships, or shall suffer any European or American to be discharged without giving previous notice to the Senior Magistrate of Police or shall wilfully suffer any such persons to desert without giving immediate notice thereof to the Senior Magistrate of Police in the number and form required by the above article, shall, for the first offence, be fined one thousand Rupees.

ART 4th.—No European seamen or other person (being an European or American) is to be received or entertained on board any ship or vessel in the harbour from the shore, without permission in writing from the Superintendent, if he be a seaman, or the Town Major if he be a soldier; Commanders or others, who shall be guilty of a breach of this article, and shall entertain Europeans on board their ships who may prove to be deserters from Her Majesty's or the Honorable Company's naval or military services, shall, for the first offence, be fined five hundred Rupees, and for the second, and each succeeding offence, be fined one thousand Rupees.

ART. 5th.—No Ballast of any description is to be thrown over-board from any ship or vessel within the harbour. Any commander or officers against whom a breach of this prohibition shall be proved, shall, for the first offence, be fined six hundred rupees, and for the second, one thousand rupees, and the like sum for all succeeding breaches of this Regulation. A reward of ten rupees, will be paid to any person who shall be able to establish a breach of this prohibition.

ART. 6th.—No merchant ship or vessel shall sail out of this harbour without a Port Clearance. Commanders and others offending against this Regulation will be considered as having forfeited their license, and be treated accordingly.

ART 7th.—All branches of this Rule, Ordinance, and Regulation, all fines, penalties, forfeitures, debts, and sums of money incurred, or due, under and by virtue thereof, unless where otherwise provided for, shall be prosecuted and sued for in the Supreme Court, provided always, that in case the amount of such fine being eighty Rs. it shall be sued for in the court of requests.

Third.—No ship is to be moved, or any anchor weighed, without the consent of the master attendant.

ON DOCKING.

First.—When a ship or vessel is required to be docked, application is to be made by the Commander in person to the Superintendent of the Indian Navy; the ship's name will then be entered in the Dock Register, and priority of application will always be attended to, excepting when the ships of Her Majesty or Honorable Company shall require it, to which preference is to be given.

Second.—After application has been so made, implicit attention is to be paid to the directions of the Master Attendant or his assistant, for the preparation of the ship; as in failure thereof the benefit of the Dock will be withheld.

ARTICLE 1st. - No vessel will be permitted to land on the hard in the Basin on either side of the Dock Yard at Mazagon, to lay up for the rainy season for repairs or any other purpose whatever, before previous application has been made at the office of the Master Attendant for permission, when, the name of the vessel's owner, and trade, are to be produced, and which will be registered in a book kept for that purpose.

ARTICLE 3d. - When it may be requisite, from the nature of the tides, that vessels should be hauled on shore, or to float in timber cranes in the night time, intimation must be given at the office of the Master Attendant the day preceding.

It is left to the discretion of the Master Attendant to limit the number of vessels to be laid up, or quantity of timber deposited in the Basin, who will grant permit some to such extent as he may deem expedient, consistent with the public safety, leaving separate floats, Platforms, &c. belonging to the Hon'ble Company to lay up when not employed, but it is to be understood, as a general rule, that no private timber Merchant vessel, nor boats, are to be near to the Dock Yard walls, than thirty yards.

TREBS.

Vessels hauling on the hard, or on a float, for other purposes, for one spring. - 1 Rupee per hundred caddies and 2 quarters for every succeeding spring.

Platforms or Cotton Boats lying up during the rains, to pay 2 Rs.

Small Boats lying up during the rains, to pay 2 quarters.

Vessels left on the hard the whole year, to pay 8 Rupees per hundred caddies.

A ship bound to Madras only, or Calcutta only, will receive 100 Rs. for all her E. I. Company's box packets delivered at the port to which they are destined.

For bringing E. I. Company's box packets from Madras to Calcutta, 50 Rs are allowed.

On the occasion of a person claiming the usual compensation for having brought out Government Despatches from Sydney, Melbourne, and Adelaide, he was told that the Governor of Bengal could find no precedent for paying gratuity upon the packets of Her Majesty's Colonial Governments, the usage in respect to packets brought from England referring only to packets contained in boxes delivered for conveyance for the East India House, not upon terms for freight, or under any fixed law or regulation.

An appeal having been made at Bombay, against the enforcement of the penalty prescribed in Clause XVI of Act XVII of 1837 or the Post Office Act, ordered to be levied from a commander of a vessel, by whom the mails for the General Post Office were detained for some days after the arrival of his vessel in port, and the ground on which the appeal was founded being, that the practice in Calcutta was never to levy the fine unless it could be proved that the delay had arisen from wilful detention, and no man being requested as to the interpretation to be assigned to the clause above quoted, especially as to the word, 'wilful,' as used in that clause, and its application to cases of carelessness and oversight, it was ruled that it became necessary to procure the conviction of the offender before a magistrate, as provided for in Section 8, of Act X of 1823, the Magistrate would have to put his own interpretation on the meaning of the word, 'wilful,' as used in the clause referred to.
